

BOARD OF PUBLIC SAFETY

TRANSACT A LARGE AMOUNT OF BUSINESS.

A Patrolman and a Doorman Appointed—Also Permanent Firemen and Supernumerary Policemen—Thirty-Four Appointments in All. Made at Last Night's Meeting.

The board of public safety held an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon, there being present Mayor Edward G. Kilduff, City Clerk Richard P. Grady, George M. Egan, chief of police, Commissioners William C. Moore, Edward L. Seery, Eugene J. Sullivan, George A. Driggs, J. Merrick Galland, the latter coming in after the board had transacted considerable business, including the election of a patrolman. Long before the session came to a close, Commissioners Driggs and Galland, who were not going to have all the say as to what disposition should be made of the "pie," kicked in the traces, showing that our republican friends are not capable of taking medicine in such large quantities as they are wont to pass it out to their neighbors, when they happen to be in a position to run things according to their own notions. In fact, because they saw the will of the majority was certain to rule and because they were appointed to the police and fire departments about to be made, Commissioner Driggs is one of the most agreeable members of the city government when things are coming his way, but on this particular occasion the boot was on the other foot and he, like his democratic friends on the board of aldermen who stood their ground the past two years, though ignored at every step, and their helplessness made the butt of ridicule time and again, the strain was too much for him and rather than take part in the deliberations of a meeting where he could not be in the ascendency, he picked up his duds and decamped. It is the easiest thing in the world for a public official to preserve his equilibrium when he is leeching to mislead a board, but it takes a man of more than ordinary will power to remain at his post and maintain his accustomed good nature when he starts out to conquer majorities and soon certain defeat staring him in the face. Mr. Galland hesitated before taking leave of his colleagues and acted as though he wanted to remain, but feared that in doing so his conduct would be considered unconventional by the incoming administration. Didn't Mr. Egan elect Mr. Galland a board member, but this order did not appear from the meeting of the board of public works the other day for a similar offense on the part of the majority members of that board, Mr. Driggs had now left the board of public safety and what was there for him to do but follow? Mr. Galland, however, it came to pass that the three democrats were left alone in their glory and they seemed to feel quite at ease in their solitude and performed a vast amount of work in a short time without any assistance or counsel from their colleagues.

The alleged deal to elect P. W. Halpin turned out to be a fake, the man's name not being mentioned at the meeting or thought of in connection with an appointment to a position in the fire department. When Mayor Kilduff called the meeting to order, Clerk Grady called attention to the action taken by the board of finance on the salaries recommended for assistant engineer of the fire department, call men, call captains and permanent captains, stating that the amounts fixed by the board of public safety, namely, call men, $100 per annum; call captains, $150; permanent captains, $850; assistant engineer, $350. The report was accepted and ordered on record. An application was received from the Waterbury Athletic club requesting permission to conduct a sparring match. Commissioner Driggs moved that it be tabled and Commissioner Moore, remarking that he thought permission should be granted, made a motion to that effect, but as neither motion was seconded the matter was soon lost sight of and the board proceeded to ballot for a regular patrolman. Mr. Seery acting as teller, four ballots were taken when Thomas Cronan was declared elected, he having received three of the four votes cast. The other candidates were William Bove and William P. Keegan.

The board then proceeded to fill vacancies on the supernumerary force. At this juncture Mr. Galland arrived and took a seat with the boys. The following were declared elected, all having received a majority of the votes cast: John Dowling, Wharton M. Grubb, John Lynch, John O'Rourke, John Lynehan. Mr. Sullivan moved to proceed to ballot for a doorman at the station house. This brought out a little spicy discussion, Mr. Driggs throwing in the glove by remarking that he considered it a rank injustice to Mr. Hickey, who had resigned a position to accept the appointment of doorman at the police station. "Besides that," said Mr. Driggs, "I think it is dead wrong to take that appointment away from the chief. The doorman is right there with him all the time and he should be allowed his own choice about the man who will be there. In addition to this I might say that I think it would be foolish to appoint a new doorman for I feel certain the appointment would soon be revoked, and if Mr. O'Rourke has a job he had better hold on to it, either that or fix things so that he can get it again when he wants it."

Mayor Kilduff: "I don't wish to be understood as passing an opinion on this particular case, but I noticed there were not many expressions of sympathy heard for Mr. Bernal when he was discharged from that position some time ago."

Mr. Driggs: "Mr. Bernal couldn't hold the position any longer. He had reached the age limit as prescribed by the charter."

Mayor Kilduff: "Very true, but a majority of the citizens of Waterbury believe such a law never should have been passed. It doesn't look right to deprive a man from holding such positions after he has reached forty. I don't think it good policy to push a man aside at that age, for I believe a well preserved citizen makes a better officer between the years of forty and fifty than at any other time in his life. Mr. Bernal thought he wasn't used right and very few who heard the reason why he got through considered the law that retired him a just enactment. He left a job to take that position, and although he has a living to make for himself and his family no expressions of sympathy were heard when he got out."

Mr. Sullivan: "That's dropping a man in his prime. I don't think that fair, at all."

Mr. Driggs and the mayor talked on this subject for a few minutes, the former defending the law as it now stands and the latter referring to the injustice of it, and contending that a man is just in his prime at 40, after which a ballot for doorman was ordered and the votes being counted it was shown that John O'Rourke had received 3; Patrick Hickey, 1; Timothy Hickey, 1. Mr. O'Rourke was declared elected. This settled up the affairs of the police department and turning towards Chief Egan, Mayor Kilduff said: "Did you have anything to bring before the board, chief?"

Chief Egan: (snappishly) "No sir, I did not."

Commissioner Seery then presented the following resolution which was passed: "Voted, that this board deems it necessary for the efficiency of the fire department to appoint the following employees to do duty and perform fire service in and for said city of Waterbury, to wit: One permanent captain and six callmen to do duty at engine house No. 1, corner of Leavenworth street and Harrison avenue; one permanent captain and seven callmen to do duty at engine house No. 2, Scovill street; seven call men to do duty at Hook and Ladder company, No. 1; one permanent captain and six call men to do duty at the Burton street engine house; said employees to receive such salaries as has been fixed by this board and board of finance of this city."

Mr. Driggs thought the appropriation for 1898 would not warrant such an expense as the salaries of all these appointments would entail, but the rest of the board thought differently, it being shown that considerable money had been put out this year in strengthening the efficiency of the department, including the purchase of 2,000 feet of hose, and that at present the department needed nothing but men and that it was time the different positions were filled. After a long chat on this matter a ballot for a permanent captain was ordered which resulted as follows: Matthew J. Doyle, 3; William Dadds, 2. Mr. Doyle was declared elected a permanent employee of the fire department. After this Mr. Driggs wanted to proceed to fill all the vacancies at the Burton street engine house, but the rest of the members held that the proper course was to complete the list of permanent captains and then take up the call men, but this order did not appear from the meeting of the board of public works the other day for a similar offense on the part of the majority members of that board, Mr. Driggs had now left the board of public safety and what was there for him to do but follow? Mr. Galland, however, it came to pass that the three democrats were left alone in their glory and they seemed to feel quite at ease in their solitude and performed a vast amount of work in a short time without any assistance or counsel from their colleagues.

Mr. Bernal thought he wasn't used right and very few who heard the reason why he got through considered the law that a credit to the city and will always be something which the members of the present board can point to with pride as some of the valuable additions made to the fire department during their term of office. I regret that our two worthy colleagues with whom we got along so nicely and who were so much appreciated on this board, did not decide to remain to complete the year's work, for it would be a great pleasure to me to see all who labored for the success of the police and fire departments present when we adjourn. But, gentlemen, it is growing late and I will not detain you longer. I wish to thank all those who are present and those who are absent as well. I wish to say in conclusion, that I think the meeting should not come to a close without extending words of thanks to the clerk for the satisfactory manner in which he has done his part of the work of this board."

A motion to this effect was put and carried and then Mr. Seery calling for a rising vote of thanks for Mayor Kilduff in recognition of his able and impartial rulings as chairman of the retiring board of public safety, it was given, the members rising in their seats.

At the suggestion of Mayor Kilduff a vote of thanks was extended to the representatives of the press for accurate reports of the doings of the meetings.

The board then adjourned sine die.

FITZSIMMONS' LATEST.

New York, Dec. 30.—Tom O'Rourke has wired to the Associated Press from Fort Wayne, Ind., as follows: "Julian and Fitzsimmons have named Joe Wolcott at the middleweight limit to meet McCoy, and Peter Maher to meet Corbett. If McCoy and Corbett win from Wolcott and Maher, Fitzsimmons will make with McCoy and Corbett."

BEAT HIS MOTHER.

Bridgeport, Dec. 30.—Sidney Willis, a colored youth of Southport, was arraigned in that place to-day before Justice Wakeman, on a charge of assault with intent to kill his mother. He was bound over to the criminal term of the superior court. He beat his mother with a chair, and was about to slash her with a razor, when the neighbors interfered. After a year ago he had a similar assault on his mother and he was arrested, but his mother failed to appear against him and he was discharged. The woman is in a precarious condition.

C. M. Dixon, a well known merchant of Pleasant Ridge, Fulton Co., Pa., has a little girl who is frequently taken with croup, but when the first symptoms appear, his wife gives her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which always affords prompt relief. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Apothecaries Hall Co., George M. Ladd, 854 South Main street.

CUT HIS THROAT.

Manchester, Dec. 30.—Perry Hilderbrath, aged 30 years, and married, lies in a critical condition at his home in Highland park, a suburb of Manchester, this morning, as a result of attempting to commit suicide late last night by cutting his throat with a razor. The doctors think he cannot recover. It is said that Hilderbrath was short of money and that made him dependent.

Don't be persuaded into buying liniments without reputation or merit—Chamberlain's Pain Balm costs no more, and its merits have been proven by a test of many years. Such letters as the following, from L. C. Bagley, Hueneue, Cal., are constantly being received: "The best remedy for pain I have ever used is Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and I say so after having used it in my family for several years. It cures rheumatism, lame back, sprains and swellings. For sale by Apothecaries Hall Co., George M. Ladd, 854 South Main street."

REFEREE LEAHY TALKS.

SAYS HE TRIED TO DO THE FAIR THING.

Attendants at the Auditorium Think Differently. However—Eyes in the Back of His Head When New Haven Was Making Fools—No Just Cause For Putting Knowlton Out of the Game—If He Was Right There is No Explanation or Apology Required.

If the managers of the Waterbury polo club want good, clean polo to be played and respectable audiences to attend the games, they should get a handle on it. It is no pleasure, for ladies, especially, to sit for an hour or two listening to a crowd of enthusiasts blowing horns, ringing bells and howling like demons. A good spontaneous outburst of hand clapping and cheers is all right, but when one has to go to the whole evening without being able to hear a word the referee says, or even hear the whistle, it is time something was done. Let us have less noise and we will all enjoy the game. The managers should also have insisted on keeping Knowlton in the game last night. The whack Gavitt got was an accident, pure and simple. Knowlton had his hockey raised over his head in both hands, when Gavitt came along like a whirlwind and brought down the hockey the straight end of it caught Gavitt in the face. Referee Leahy had to do something and here was his chance. He couldn't take away the goals Waterbury made, so he did the next best thing, but Knowlton out of the game, and the game the popular half back was putting up last night was of the winning kind.

The home team avenged its defeat at the hands of the Elm City boys on Tuesday night and last night wallowed the New Haven boys in good shape. It was a fierce game throughout and worked the most conservative watcher up to some degree of excitement. The auditorium was packed with rosters, all anxious to see the home team snow the visitors under and the boys showed how well they were satisfied. The home boys played the game like demons and won after a peal of applause. There was not so much of the ear-bursting tin horn applauding, but the real genuine yells of approval.

Deacon Farrell, our hobby goal tender, played the star game of the evening. He is without doubt the best goal tender in the league. His stops were wonderful. Conley had his driving arm with him last night and when he let fly, Mallory usually ducked. He made two goals, but the boys in the vicinity of New Haven's cage continually, Monroe played an excellent game, caging three of the seven goals made. He is improving every game he plays. Knowlton played only part of two seasons, being put off the floor by Referee Leahy in the second inning for accidentally hitting E. Gavitt on the forehead with his hockey, and laying him out. Sullivan played first class and did some clever passing and blocking. He is a comber. The boys have styled him "aldorman." Dear old "Grif" did not play in the first third although the boys in Carson City demanded his whereabouts. When he appeared in the second session he was cheered to the echo. He played his usually brilliant game, but he and Spencer did good work for New Haven, but it was up hill work. Flood, that gentlemanly center, also did well. The Gavitt boys have played better than they did last night.

Monroe got the first rush and after a long and exciting contest Conley drove the red sphere away in deep, where it stayed. Time 7:26.

Spencer got the second rush. Conley then began his terrific driving. The way he banged the ball was causing Knowlton to look the ball in to, but the goal tender seemed impossible. Spencer got an opening at last and caged the ball. Time 3:01.

Monroe took the third rush. Thompson got the ball, but Monroe stole it from him and caged it. Time 2:42.

Monroe got the fourth rush also, but the gong rung before more goals were made. Score 2 to 1 in our favor.

Waterbury made two more goals in the second session and three more in the third session, while New Haven could only score once more, in the third session. At the conclusion of the game Waterbury had seven points to New Haven's two, and the crowd went away satisfied.

Referee Leahy was hissed throughout the entire game. After the game he made a statement to a "Democrat" reporter, which is given below.

Only one foul was called, that being on Knowlton, for holding. The attendance was about 1,500. The teams lined up as follows:
Waterbury first rush New Haven
Monroe Conley & Griffin second rush E. Gavitt
Sullivan half back Flood
Knowlton center F. Gavitt
Farrell goal keeper Mallory
Referee, Leahy; timer, Hart. Stops, Mallory 35; Farrell 20.

Referee Leahy says Griffin is the cleanest player in the league. That's true, too.

"Dan" Mahaney occupied a press seat last night. "I'm a reporter from Troy," he said.

At Meriden last night the Wallingforders were defeated 12 to 2. Poor old hoodooed Wallingford; sorry dog. The Wallingforders will be here tomorrow night. They will be easy for us after we defeat Meriden to-night in Meriden.

The Merideners were used rather roughly at Waterbury on Monday night and at Hartford last night. Waterbury will be back to-morrow night and Hartford Saturday afternoon. Meriden Journal. Do you see the point, you Meriden enthusiasts—if not put on your goggles.

The amateur shop league game last night was between the Steele & Johnson and Clock Co. teams. The latter team proved to be much the better. Steele & Johnson, and defeated them 12 to 2. Dwyer had 17 stops and Walsh 15. Beneditti and Miller played a fine game for the Clock Co. Beneditti making nine goals out of the twelve. Woods and Bird worked well for Steele & Johnson. The teams are made up as follows: Clock Co.—Beneditti, Regen, Miller, Platt, Walsh. Steele & Johnson—son—R. Spears, Woods, Bird, W. Spears, Dwyer.

"Tommy" Leahy felt pretty badly at the reception given him last night by the polo rosters. "The crowd has always been very friendly towards me," he said, "and I have always liked to come here. The feeling displayed at the game was all caused by the unjust publication in one of your dailies, of statements asserting that I was unfair toward the Waterbury players in the New Haven game. I did not intentionally favor either team and it would not be policy for any referee to do so foolish a thing. I am sorry the people feel as they do, but I think when they hear my side they will be disposed to treat me fairly. As for Mallory throwing the ball into the audience, I did not see him do it, therefore was powerless. I never try to favor any side over another and never will, but there are some things which a referee cannot always see, and what you don't see you are unable to make right. The crowd seem to think I am sour on Knowlton. That is not so. I think a whole lot of Knowlton, he is a good fellow and I think the best half back in the league to-day. If he would only keep his head he would be a dandy. He is rather unlucky in being caught in fouls, not being as sly as some other players in that line. I will come back again all right and think the people will treat me as well as formerly. I will always give each team all that is due them, as far as I am able." The "Democrat" thinks the above gentlemanly and square statement warrants the polo admirers giving Mr. Leahy a suitable reception when he next appears here. Captain Griffin declares "Tommy's" refereeing was all right in the game referred to above.
