Bexington Adrertiser

JOB DEPARTMENT.

We are propered to execute

Job Work

GIVE US A TRIAL.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

C. V. GWIN.

Attorney at Law,

LEXINGTON, MISS

W. A. DRENNAN,

ATTORNEL AT LASS. Lexington, Mississippi.

J. E. GWIN, ATTORNEY AT LAB.

s. Pilchxington, Mississippl. B. H. MONTGOMERY,

Attorney at Law,

Derant, Mississippi. R. A. ANDERSON,

ATTORNEY AT LAW. Lexington, Mississippi.
Same office lately occupied by Anderson & Johnson.

R. B. CARSON,

Physician & Surgeon, Burant, Miss.

Tenders his professional services to the citizens of Durant and vicinity.

April 2 1875—2m.

J. H. DYER, ATTORNEY AT LIN

AND Solicitor in Chancery, Lexington, Miss.

Por Office formerly occupied by the J.M. Dyer.

J. S. PERRY, AttorneyatLaw

Solicitor in Chancery, LEXINGTON, MISS

Will practice before the several courts of the 12th Changery and 14th Judicial Districts, and in the Supreme coart of the State.

[Jan 29, 1875--1y.

BOBERT QUIMBY, HOUSE PAINTER

Paper Hanger, LENINGTON, MISS

B. CALDWELL, PHYSHAN AND SURGION,

• Mors his professional services to the citizens of the yield by of Richland and Goodman. He can be found at all times when not professionally absent, at the plantation of R. F. coper, between the plantation of the result of of the r

DENTERSEST.

Indrews, Watton & Etersluy

Having taken as a partner by Wio, F. Starsherry, we are coulded, to say to the citizens of Durant, Goodman, Hichband matcher towns in the adjoining counties, also families in the country that we will visit it on professionly, whenever requested to do 8;

Nev. 15, 75.—Andreas & Walson.

JAMES HAYe, W. J. BARTH, Ducant, Miss. Saliis, Miss. BEALY'S & BREEZERS,

GENERAL Insurance Agents
Represent that solid and reliable to Insurance Company, the

" . klabama Gold."

And several of the largest and oldest Fire Insurance Companies in the warld. Dwelling Houses, Store Hones, Stocks Merchandise, Gin Houses, and Cotton in-sured at reasonable rates. March 12, 1875—19

M. E. FRITZ PRACTICAL

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER HOTEL

Lexington. Miss. All kinds of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Spectacles repaired at short notice, and warranted. The repairing of fine watches and work for the trade a special-

W SCHMITZ,

(Successor to R. Krall,)

Watchmaker and Jeweller, DURANT, MISS. All Work Warranted

E. P. St. Martin,

PRACTICAL. Watchmaker and Jeweller,

Goodman, Miss.

Just received a large stock of Clocks, which I offer cheap for cash, and guaran-tee twelve months. Watches and beweiry repaired in a workmanlike manner. All work warranted. dec 2-3m.

D. H. Wallace & Co.,

Cotton Factors

General Commission Merchants

NO. 79 CARONDELET STREET,

New Orleans. Grange principles. Sales and purchases made for Patrons of Husbandry at Grange rates of commission. 5ds24-6m

ADVERTISER.

ESTABLISHED 1841.

LEXINGTON, MISS.: APRIL 7, 1876.

NEW SERIES--VOL. 4. NO. 14.

Miscellaneous Advertisements.

Sheppard & Barger,

DEALERS IN

Staple and Fancy

GROCERIES

(EAST SIDE)

LEXINGTON, - - MISSISSIPPI,

Beg leave to call attention of

CACH PURCHACERS

To their complete stock of the most d sirable goods in their line of BUSI-NES², temprising as it does everything usually found in

FAMILY GROCERY STORES

Call, examine and get your money' SHEPPARD & BARGER.

WM. J. BELL, HOUSE, CARRIAGE

--AND-Ornamental Painter,

[Front Row, under Advertiser Office,] LEXINGTON, MISSISSIPPI.

Makes CALSOMINING, PAPER-HANGING and WINDOW SHADES a specially; and keeps constantly on hand a large Stock of

Gilt and Rosewood -AND-

GILT MOLDING. Would be pleased to have those desir-ons of having Pictures mounted and ramed, or any work done in my line of

EDGAR C. VILLETTE, Cargenter and Builder,

[Clancey's Old Stand.]

Lexiongton Minningpoi. ill make Estimates and draw Plans fo

Public or Private Buildings. Has a supply of Walnut and stock of fin COFFINS Always on Hand.

Will build Gin-Houses, Running-Gear ad Presses, and I guarantee that my ork will be done in workman-like man or. Give me a call. EUGAR C. VILLETTE.

Farm for Sale.

600 Acres of Land--250 Acres Cleared.

NAVE one of the best terms in Holmes county, with a large an aneadious dwelling well finished,-

A Good Water . FREEL nd pleaty of the best timber, which took r for sale cheap. It lies 9 miles North-est of Durant, and is in every respect destrable pince.

For terms apply to J. S. Hosains at urant, Miss. or to me on the place.
C. H. JONES. eb. 25, 1575-tf

GOODMAN HOTEL. Goodman, Miss.

OUR TABLE IS SUPPLIED WITH the best the market affords, and our servants polite and attentive. No pains sparred to render our guests comfortable. We have an excellent

BAR AND

BILLIARD-SALOON connected with the establishment.
Our Livery Stable and Stock Yards are all they should be.
PICKENS & MAYO,

WEST HOUSE.

Durant, Mississippi.

M. WADLINGTON, Proprietor HE BEST FARE THE COUNTRY ossible with the confortable. Prices moderate. D. M. WADLINGTON.

A. J. YANCEY,

DEALER IN All Kinds Marble Work

Corinth, Miss. Wonuments, Grave Stones, Mantles, &c.

All work done in the neatest -csy od atmoderate prices 1261 CLUB RATES.

We propose to send to the same sub-scriber for one year, the Scientific Ameri-can $3.00 and the ADVERTISER, $2.00 for $4.75. W. H. NATHANIEL, Fashionable Barber, LEXINGTON, MISSISSIPPI. Hair-cutting, Shaving, Shampooning, Etc., done in city style. 10-ly.

DIRECTORY

RELIGIOUS

Services are held at the Churches in Durant as follows:
Presbyterian—Morning and night, 1st and 3d Sabbaths—Rev. C. M. Atkinson.
Methodiat—Merning and night, 2d Sabath—Rev. A. P. Sage.
Baptist—Morning and night, 4th Sabath by Rev. A. V. Rowe, and night of 1st Sabbath by Rev. H. F. Sproles.

Services are held at the Churches in exington by the following Ministers the bllowing Sabbaths, in each month towit:
PRESINTERIAS—Rev. W.H. Thompson, econd and fourth. econd and fourth.

METHODIST—1st 11 A.M. and night Rev.

Howell. 3d Rev. — Carble. Sunday

shoolevery Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

EPISCOPAL—Rev. B. Halstead, second

Bartist-Rev. A. V. Rowe, il st and hird.

MASONIC

LEXINGTON LODGE, No. 24.—Meets first Saturday night in every month. B. T. SAYER, W. M. J. Marlow, See'y. LEXINGTON COUNCIL, No 9.—Meets drst Fridaynight in every month. B. T. SAYER, T. I. G. M. J. Marlow Recorder.

LEKINGTON R. A. CHAPTER, No. 9.-Meets second Thursday night in ever nonth. J. C. BHRKHEAD, H. P. J. Marlow, See y.

J. Marlow, Sec'y.

Lexington Commandary, No. 3.—
Meets fourth Tuesday in every month.

T. W. SMITH, E. C.

J. T. West, Recorder.

Attention, Sir Knights!—On the second Saturday of each mouth Lexington commandery No. 3 will meet at their asylum for drill.

T. W. SMITH, E. C.

OFFICIAL DIRECTORY.

City Officers. LEXINGTON. MAYDR-W. F. Cross. Constable-J. G. Alexander. Aldermen-T. W. Smith, B. R. Clow r, I. Sheppard, J. Pitchford, W. F. Cole

DURANT. Mayor -- J. S. Montgomery, Marshal -- C. H. Nicholson, Treasuer -- T. J. Laird, Aldermen -- J. K. Coffee, A. J. Love, Simon, J. R. Hellin, Goodman.

Mayor—F. A. C. Neville.
Marshall—C. A. Boyd.
Treasurer—R. Y. Moody.
Assessor and Collector—W. II. Maruder.

gruder. Aldermen--A. P. Shepherd, H. Burk-enroad, A. S. Brumby, P. Mullin. County Officers. Than I; but, trust me, thou canst never find

COUNTY OTHERS. P. Shumons,
CHANCELY CLEER—J. E. Asheraft.
SHERDF—J. S. Hoskins.
Theastere—H. Bowers.
Assessor—H. W. Portwood.
CORONEA AND RANGER—H. B. Loverin.
BOARD OF SUPERVISORS—M. L. Harmon, President; A. O. Lowoll, District; J. W. McLellan, 2; W. W. Lunsord, 4, and S. A. Eggleston, 5; Mempers.

District Officers. Walton. Circuit Judge—W. B. Cunningham

District Attorney-G. A. Wilson.

New Orleans, St. Louis and Chi-cago Railroud, Mississippi Di-vision. Time Table No. 81-2. South-bound trains pass

North-bound trains pass

 Going east, leaves Durant
 9.20 A.M.

 Kosciusko Junction
 9.35

 Sallis
 10.35

 Arrives at Kosciusko
 12.00

Kosciusko Branch Road (Time Table for Sunday.) e. Durant, - 5.40 a.m. Le.Kosciusko,7.30 a.r. s. Sallis. - - 6.25 a.m. Le.Sallis, - - - 8.15 a.r. s. Koscius'o, 7.10 a.m. Ar.Durant, - 9.00 a.i md Trip— urant, - 2,00 p.m. Le.Kosciusko,4.45 p.m dlis, - - 3,45 p.m. Le.Sallis, - - 5,30 p.m oscius'o,4.30 p.m. Ar.Durant, - 6,15 p.m

MEMPHIS & CHARLESTON RAILROAD. Shortest Line Between the

East and West. RAINS AT FRAND JUNCTION GOING EAST LEAVE:

GOING WEST LEAVE :

TRAINS ARRIVE AT MEMPHIS:

Without Change, on the 8:35 p.m. train. Only one change to New York via the Memphis & Charles-ton Railroad. Be sure to secure your tickets via Grand Junction and this old reliable route. M. S. JAY. Gen. Pass. & Tk't Agt.

Zexington Advertiser

Published every Friday.

J. S. HOSKINS, : : : : Editor AGENTS

AGENTS.
hscribers who find it more convenient ay some one near home, than to pay a person, can leave their dues with, hos, McIntyre, New Oricans, La.
J Piekens, Richland.
J Piekens, Richland.
F S Cole, Pie-ens
A Power, bests.
C Jenkins, Emory.
W Williams, Brandon, Miss.
M Committee The Committee

UNTIL DEATH.

Joe. McLaurin, Fannin,

Make use no vows of constancy, dear friend, To love me, though I die, thy whole life long. And love no other till thy days shall end, Nay, it were rash and wrong.

If thou canst love another, be it so; I would not reach out of my quiet grave To bind thy heart, if it should choose to go :-Love should not be a slave.

My placid ghost I trust will wake serene In clearer light than gilds these earth-ly morns. Above the jeaton-les and envies keen Which sow this life with thorns.

Thou wouldst not feel my shadowy caafter death, my soul should linger here, Men's hearts crave tangible, close tenderness. Love's presence warm and near. It would not make me sleep more peace Bestow it ere I go!

The praises which remorseful moar ers give To silent graves—a tardy recompense But speak them while I live.

Thou wilt meet many stronger and more will love and serve the night and day With a more single mind. Forget me when I die. The violets Above my rest will blossom just as blue, r miss thy tears; e'en nature's self for

But while I live be true! Written Exclusively for the Advertiser. HAMEK, THE GIPSY;

Harold's Heritage.

ed; he had on rich robes suitable to his station, his long, luxuriant hair hung around his tace in graceful ringlets, and his long, unshaven, silvery beard had been shaved off, leaving his face clean and bare. He appeared now just as he had that fatal night when he was missing and all hope for him given up. Looking at him at this moment. was missing and all nope for him given up. Looking at him at this moment, Basil could hardly realize that this moment, and been absent from home those seventeen long years. Harold felt at the first reconstruction of the season. I called upon the editor of the Times—he gave me a notice, worded at my own dictafeature, every line of Harold's face com- he rushed upon my sword in "asil" ared with those of his dead wife, only hand, and courted death. Cecil's last pared with those of his dead wife, only the eyes, the high forehead and the curving, finely-formed month, which were the very counterpart of his own; there was no doubt. As Lord Sedomne realized the truth of this conviction, he caught Harold in his arms.

"At last," he said, "at last! Oh, God she were here this moment to crown our layer.

great Joy; he felt, that at last he had indeed found a true father; none but a father; none but a father could speak to him an that tone—that voice. Clasped thus to his father's Piedro was convicted and senter. breast, Harold told him all he knew of his past lite—all confirming the fact that he was, indeed, Lord Arthur's son. When he had finished, Lord Sedonne said, as he pressed a kiss upon his lips. "Come with me, my son; I have much to tell you; come you, also, Basil; 1 wish you, too, to hear."

He led then into the room where Cecll lay, prepared for the tomb. Harold started back.

"Is it possible ?' he asked, "Dead? "Yes," answered his father, sorrow-fully, "he will never trouble you any Harold went up to his dead Uncle, and ressed a kiss upon his key forchead; it was the kiss of forgiveness.

"I owe him that much for revenge," he
"God grant that their happiness may said simply. No matter how much he had wronged him in the life, now, in the death, he freely and fully forgave him all. And these standing by the dead form of his brother, Lord Arthur commenced:

"It was just seventeen years ago that fully
That thou wert wasting all thy life in Then this house; it was a pleasant right. For my poor sake; what love thou hast and I had always been in the habit of ta-for me king a boat ride upon the sea at those times; I always took two of my men with me-Piedro and Robert." At the mention of these two names Harold involuntarily started. "These two were to do the rowing These two were to do the rowing; they had always been faithful to me before, so why should I fear treachery then? So I went, all unsuspecting. For awhile, all went well; then I noticed that instead of returning here. that instead of returning home, they were making straight for the open ocean. What are you doing ? I asked; they on-ly laughed. At that, I grow very angry leasure however small that pleasure may have been—I am more than gratified. Perhaps, at another time—not very far distant—through the medium of the col-

and commanded them to take me back; they refused; then I elenched my fist and struck Robert full in the face; I should not have done this, for the next moment they both sprang upon me, overpowered me, and cast me into the sea. I could not swim; the two wretches put off for snore as fast as they could; I ealled to them, but they would not listen; I cursed them; I said, 'May you both die the death of dogs.' Then I sank. Twice I rose from the water and-sank; after that, I remembered no more. When I recovered from my deep swoon, 1 found myself on board a vessel, bound for India; I implored her commanuer to take me back: he could not—he would net; so I went. A mutiny occurred on board; So I went. A mutiny occurred on board, I thought the captain wrong and overbearing, and took the lead of the menoposed to him; the saptain succeeded in quelling the mutiny, and because of my opposition to him, placed me in doet time; Richard answered to their call, lowered the drawbridge, and admitted them within the gate. As his eyes fell upon Harold, he started back and cjaculated:

"Who is this, father? Another Lord Arthur? If not, then Heaven help him for it is his weird!"

Old Basil langhed at his Scottish superstition.

"Nonesnese, Richard, This is Lord Arthur the light, This is Lord Arthur the light, This is Lord Arthur? If host, then Park the light was unimbabited, and continued on it; and should be a made to complete the mask they have remained and the light was unimbabited, but I was mistaken; there were natives on his, and continued on his journey. It was tossaid them, book with three days' provisions and was ter, and onlined on his journey. It was tossaid them, book with three days' provisions and was ter, and onlined to heir had been compelled to make the three days' rations do for six, and was almost starved. On the sixth day, however, I had hoped it was unimbabited, but I was mistaken; there were natives on it, save, to their ways alone, the provisions and was ter, and continued to his; journey. It was tossaid them, book with three days' rations do for six, and was almost starved. On the sixth day, however, I had hoped it was unimbabited, but I was mistaken; there were natives on it, save, to the light of striving, rold age finds the captain we care that others do not discover them by intuition. We cover our that others do not discover them by intuition. We cover our the by intuition. We cover our the by intuition. We cover our the light was captain to the adollables, of which we are prone to be proud. Of energy. Confounding two things essentially different, they have supposed that if they were always bus, they not one who does not care for it?" and so they have supposed that if they were always "Nensense, Richard. This is Lord Arhur's son."

of rest to me. Some of the savages were too killing me outright, and would have inevitably done so, had it not beeen for Drawhard. thur's son."
"What?" cried Richard "is this indeed the stolen infant?"
"It is he," replied his father. "Mr.
Harold, this is my boy, Richard."
Without a moment's hesitation, Harold extended his hand and clasped that of the menial. And thus, for once, at least, patrician and pleblean met upon terms of equal footing. That one act of itself, raised Harold in the estination of all Lord Arthur's retainers; from that if ever came near it; thus I remained lost all Lord Arthur's retainers; from that if ever came near it; thus I remained lost moment, they both admired and loved and forgotten, for seventeen long years. At last a vessel, driven out of her course Basil led the way into the Castie, Lord by Arthur met him; he was greatly chang-her. She came close to shore. When Arthur met him; he was greatly changed; he had on rich robes suitable to his station, his long, luxuriant

God, if she were only here. My son—my son. The lost is found—the grave gives up its dead."

These words thrilled our hero with a would love his father, he would return [1] measure for measure in his feeling for Piedro was convicted and sentenced to enal servitude for life in Australia.

Old Basil died a free man, contented and happy.

Richard is still at the eastle, in his fa-Sir Charles Leslie has been re-elected

Near the sight of the gipsy camp there stands a tall, beautiful marble shaft bearing this inscription: "Sacred to the Memory of Hamek, the Gipsy. A gen-crous man—a mithful triend. The end of Faith is the beginning of Heaven."

A subdued, blissful light beams in Zeta's eyes. A ring upon her finger tells the secret of her happiness. The ring is inscribed thus: "Harold and Zeta."

young heir comes of age.

God grant that their happiness may never be alloyed by a single circumstance; God grant that they may live

To the Readers of the Advertiser "Hamek, the Gipsy," is finished—my httle sojourn in your midst is over, and soar that high-no higher. There is no position on earth higher than that. It you have been interested in Hamek-if the perusal of it has afforded you any speak with each other again.

With the kindest of wishes and hopes for all, believe me

W. W. Hoskins. MASKS. If we could only read each other's If we could only read each other's ful specimen of an uncut precious stone carts, we should be kinder to each other. If we knew the woes and bitterness and physical annoyances of our neigh- Activity is Not Always Energy. bors, we should make allowances for them which we do not now. We go about masked, uttering stereotyped sen-

Drawbacks of the Shah. prising Londoner a most unlimited control over the Persian finances and resources: he has not been able to utilize the large quantities of postage stamps ordered during the visit to Paris, simply because there are no postoffices in Persi: and we now learn that a mint, with all the necessary machinery for coining money, and an elegant English carriage, intended for the ladies of the harem, which had been shipped to Bushire, and were thence to be transported by caravan to Teheran, were at last accounts stuck

The Bulgarian Bandit.

Fexington Adrertiser

Enter of Advertising:

One square (8 lines), 1 insertion, $1.50 ach subsequent insertion, $1.00. Cards of ach subsequent meerion, $3.00. Cards of sounce 1 year, smaller 2 squares 1 year, $55.00; 1-3 column 1 year, $55.00; 1-4 column 1 year, $55.00; 1-3 column 1 year, $55.00; 1-3 column 1 year, $55.00; 1-2 column 1 year, $50.00; 1 column 1 year, $150.00. Local notices, the cents per line, each insertion.

TERMS OF SCHSCHIPTION.—One copy one year, (in advance), $2.00.

Single copies ready for mailing tencents.

DOWN STREAM

BY ELLEN P. ATHERTON.

I see a boat delft lightly by;
The stream is wide, the current slow;
No ripples break the sunbeams' glow;
Yet weir I know that, ceaselessly,
The great fall thunders down below.
I see the boatman idly lean,
With listless hand, upon his oar,
Uabecding that the sunny shore,
With safe still coves and banks of green,
Recedes behind him more and more.

watch him -and I hold my breath, He seems like one wrapped in a dre While swifter rolls the narro stream.

And, bending o'er you gulf of death,
I see the baleful mis gleam. Why floats he so like one aslrep,
While neaver sounds that awail roar?
Awake, O friend! take up thine oar,
And stem the rapifs faul sweep,
Tura hither, hither, I implore!

I stretch my arm and loudly cry; I call until the welkin rings. At last he hears, the frail boat springs, Trembles a moment, d ubifully. Then slowly, slowly, landward swings.

Saved, saved at last! adrip with spray, I see him stand mon the shore: aved, saved and upon the shore;
And then my senses swim; the roar
omes like a murrant for away.
Would I might hear it nevermore!

Ruskin on Heraldry.

Mr. Ruskin, delivered a lecture on precious stones in London recently. It re-lated princip ofly to an explanation of heie sald, "was despised by modern science but yet, as understood by our ancestors, it had a deep and important meaning. Cr. or gold; which was represented by the topax, stood between light and dark-ness; ccarlate was the sacred color of the living flesh, as represented in the blush of the virgin and the flush of valor I now bid you a kind adieu, hoping, that if I have not won your admiration and your praise. I have at least merited and received your praise, I have at least merited and received your friendship, and processing the processing the processing of the surface of the surface of the cheek of the young warrior. Vert was the effect of the young warrior, Vert was rose-colored, from the Persian word yould a rose or the processing the first of the surface of the young warrior. your praise, I have at least merited and received your friendship and approval; and the good opinion and approval of an honest, conscientious, reasoning Public is and the good opinion and approval of an honest, conscientious, reasoning Public is the limit of my ambition;—I desire to the limit of my ambition;—I desire to the limit of my ambition is an ambition or purple. tion produced the purpura, or purple, which formed the covering of the taber-nacle. Out of the above colors came the combination of the rainbow. Argent mond was always found. Gray was the color of the pearl, and suggested humildistant—through the medium of the col-umns of the Advertiser, we may see and speak with each other again.

With the kindest of wishes and hopes gon, had a deep symbolic meaning." At the close of the lecture, the parts of which from the causes before mentioned were rather loosely connected, Mr. Ruskin advised the ladies to have all their gems set uncut, and he cited the ruby in her majesty's crown as the most beauti-

There are some men whose failure to succeed in life is a problem to others, as well as to themselves. They are indusor it might almost as well have been left undone. Everybody knows some one in his circle of friends who, though always active, has this want of energy, The distemper, if we may call it such, exhibits itself in many ways. In some cases the man has merely an executive unlucky in applying European civiliza-tion to his country. He was compelled to cancel Baron Reuter's famous conces-sion, which would have given that enter-tion there is a capital elerk for himself when he ought to the thinking for the business. In ther in the right time or in the right way. Energy, correctly understood, is activity proportioned to the end.

It is aim that makes the man; without an aim man is nothing, as far as the ut-ter destitution of force, might and even individualty among men can reduce him to nonentity. The strong gusts and cur-rent of the world sweep him this way and that without steam or sales to impel or helm to guide him; if hy is not—speedily wrecked or run aground, it is more "luck than good management." We have nev-er heard a more touching confession of mind been absent from home those several and been absent from home those several more to first moment of seeing Lord Arthur, an instinctive attachment toward him; he felt in this man he could love and worship all his days. Lord Arthur was very nersons. He was anxious in the extreme as to the success of his message to the woods. Have you found him? he queried, eagerly.

Basil drew Harold forward; Lord Segment and he made a contession of all to me, and being the face of the dead to the face of the living; the comparison suited him; every with his confession yet ringing in the air, sarced he may word should be appointed by the peasants, who regard mankes and his sarced beings.

Koustchou Ogiu, the great Bulgarian is bandit, was a promising young man in about, was a promising young man in acountry yilage not many years ago, the endowments of nature or of providence: "My life is aimless." Take may have enveloped it concerning me. I sway in the country yilage not many years ago, the endowments of nature or of providence: "My life is aimless." Take well after the sudden and inexplainable absonce of one Lord Ceell Sedonne and son, stater a short time, a hopeless maniae, liter as hort time, a hopeless maniae, liter a short Koustchou Ogin, the great Balgarian utter weakness and misery than there