Prospects

NOTHER SCHOOL year has begun. Does it mean anything to you or me? Are you any better prepared for it than you were a year ago? Are you going to stand still or go back this year or are you going to keep up with the world? The "Dont care" policy will make you drag anywhere and not worth the salary you get, no matter whether its paid to you by the Government or not. If you don't work harder, make yourself move valuable and take more interest in your duties this year than you did last you are going backwards and therefore of less money value to your employer than you were last year. This holds good in the Indian Service, as well as out of it, and one's prospects will depend nearly entirely upon the interest and energy put in his or her work. And the prospects of an institution must depend on the combined interest, energy and effort of all those connected with it. Cooperation and the putting of shoulder-to-shoulder in the forward advancement of an institution is its only salvation. No matter what the natural advantages and facilities, no matter what the improvements and additions, if an educational institution does not have capable employees so interested in its welfare and advancement that, no matter what their personal likes and dislikes may be, nor how biased they are, they cannot work for the entire good of that institution, then it never will accomplish the purpose for which it was built. The prospects for a successful school year at this school were never greater than they are now, something like $35000.00 is being spent for improvements and additions that will increase its capacity, improve its equipment and make its facilities for educational purposes much better than they formerly were. The prospects are bright and every employee should put his or her shoulder to the wheel and make this the banner year in the history of this school.
