PRESIDENT WANTS RAILWAY LEGISLATION

Visits Capitol Unannounced to Discuss Bills to Prevent Strikes.

Washington.—President Wilson at a conference with Senator Newlands in the senate office building urged the immediate enactment of a compulsory arbitration bill as a protection to interstate commerce against railroad strikes.

It is understood to have been agreed at the conference that such an answer should be made by congress to the latest disagreement between the brotherhoods and the railway managers.

The president did not even permit Secretary Tammity to know of his plan to visit the capitol. He telephoned to Senator Newlands and made the appointment himself. The chief executive is said to have approved the bill which has been drafted and desired to urge that it be passed with the least possible delay after congress convenes.

Tariff Duties on 3 Items Probable.

The advisability of restoring tariff duties on wool, rubber and coffee and of increasing the present tariff on sugar is under consideration by treasury department officials and in congress as a means of averting the threatened deficit at the end of the next fiscal year.

No return to the recent stamp taxes is contemplated in the administration programme, officials assert. The unpopularity of this form of taxation was fully demonstrated, it is felt, in the operation of the emergency revenue legislation adopted soon after the war.

New Reclamation Bill is Introduced.

The irrigation of countless acres of arid lands, and the drainage of still greater areas of swamp lands, will be made possible if congress passes the bill recently introduced in the senate by Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, and in the house by Representative Smith, of Idaho. Whether the bill can receive final consideration this session is problematical.

State Department "Leaks" Admitted.

As a result of the sensation stirred up by Thomas W. Lawson, who offered to prove that millions had been made in Wall street as the result of "leaks" at Washington, it was admitted on the floor of the senate that information concerning the "honor of the Nation" had been betrayed by someone in the department. As to information of value in rigging the stock market, Senator Stone, who made the first disclosure, said he did not know.

Chairman Henry, of the house rules committee, after an interview with Mr. Lawson, announced that the Roston financier had been unable to furnish any names or other definite information about the alleged "leak" in advance of President Wilson's peace note, and that so far as he was concerned the matter would be dropped. Mr. Lawson issued a statement asserting Washington did not want an investigation, and Chairman Henry would not act unless the "leak maker" and beneficiaries confessed to him in advance.

U. S. EXPORTS GREATEST

Record Exceeded by Almost One Billion and First Place Taken.

New York.—From the United States in 1916 manufactures were exported to a value greater than the value of manufactures exported from any other country in any year, according to a compilation issued by the National City bank, which showed that the year's total exceeded $3,000,000,000, as against $2,012,000,000, the highest export record ever made by Great Britain, formerly the world's largest exporter of manufactures. England's record was made in 1915, the year immediately preceding the war. Prior to the war the United States held third rank.

Oregon Beats Pennsylvania.

Pasadena, Cal.—The west triumphed over the east here New Year's day, for the second time in the second annual post-season football game, when the husky University of Oregon eleven defeated the speedy and more experienced University of Pennsylvania team by a score of 14 to 6. Washington State College defeated Brown University here last year by a like score.

Teeth in Their Stomachs.

Whatever it may be that the lobster and the crab, rapacious, never dainty, are eating they always see something else that they want and can't wait until they have masticated the first before attacking the second. But they don't give up the first, not by any manner of means. Nature, humoring this rapacious bent, has fitted the lobster and the crab with teeth in their stomach, and they swallow their half masticated food and finish the chewing process with their stomachs while they seize and chew the other thing that has attracted them. Lobsters and crabs have no teeth in their mouths. They chew with their claws what they have time to and hand the unfinished job down to their stomachs to do the rest of the chewing.
