Landlord Bailey has his house so full of guests this week that he has been obliged to turn numbers away for lack of accommodations in the way of room.

E. H. Husby, who for a year or so has been following his trade at Montevideo, returned to Milbank, for the purpose of doing one or two residences when he again goes to Montevideo.

A. D. Dexter will preach a sermon at the M. E. church, on Sunday 24th, at 10:45 a. m. when the Ladies' and Womans' Relief Corps will be a body.

Miner who left for Minneapolis weeks ago to take a position with the Milwaukee Co. in that city, has transferred to Edgeley, Dak., where he has accepted a more lucrative position.

Friday evening the ladies of the Copal Guild held an ice cream social at the Library Hall at which they took in $10. The evening was spent pleasantly, and the social proved a grand success.

Maud Wright of Appleton, Minn., guest of Miss Emma Hollands, Tuesday of this week. Miss Wright being over our city with a view of giving a class in music. She is a published and efficient musician and wishing to take lessons either on organ or will do well to be under instructions.

There were the recipient this week of a beautiful bouquet of pansies raised by the garden of Mrs. Dr. C. E. Daniels. The flowers were of a most delicate and beautiful variation of colors, and a fragrant odor. The flowers were well covered and protected from the winter and when uncovered they were already in bud waiting for the sunlight to bring them to maturity. The donor has our thanks.

A. B. Randall is now prepared to furnish his customers, with good soft water.

Last Sunday evening Rev. Dexter, pastor of the M. E. church, preached an interesting sermon to young people.

Mrs. S. M. Pasco left on Thursday morning for Cresco, Iowa, where she will visit her parents for a few weeks.

All those holding tickets at reduced prices for photographs at Lee's studio, will please look at them and see that you do not let them run overtime.

Jim Brannon has a neat sign erected near the corner of the Elma Hotel directing the traveling public in the straight and narrow way towards his stable when in want of a livery rig.

It has been reported that Miss Buell, teacher of the primary department of our schools, was taken worse on Saturday afternoon and fears are entertained that she will have a run of typhoid fever.

Preparations are being made to hold the Inter-State Sunday School Convention at Wilnot again this year. Wilnot is a good place for it, and as was proven last year, the citizens of the town will make things pleasant for their visitors.

Mr. J. S. Simmons returned from Minneapolis last Tuesday afternoon accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Curran, who will stay with her father for a few weeks, and enjoy a visit with old friends in the city.

Many farmers overlook the fact that business men never fail to keep their buildings and stock well insured, and if they do not have a loss they consider the premium as money well invested, as they have been protected. Insure your grain against hail with the Watertown Hail Indemnity Association.

In these days when partisan politics may be found in almost everything, it is a positive pleasure to note the unanimity with which the press of the United States has endorsed and stood by Secretary Blaine in the controversy with the Italian Government.

Miss Ida Backman, who for nearly a year past has been the faithful and efficient waiter at the Union Hotel, went home last Saturday. She will be greatly missed, not only by those for whom she was working, but by the boarders also.

The question was asked in both the HERALD-ADVANCE and Review last week: are we going to celebrate? If so are we going to have any music? Something will have to be done soon if we want our band to stay here on the fourth. The boys are getting anxious as bands will probably be engaged early this year.

W. K. Morris and Rev. Isaac Renville, of Sisseton Agency passed through the city Monday on their way to Detroit, Mich., to attend a Presbyterian assembly in connection with the Indian Missionary work. Mr. Morris has been connected with the Indian Mission for some twenty years and Rev. Renville is a native minister of the Agency.

The young man seems to be coming to the front in this country at a lively pace. When the United States Senate is next called to order it will contain three members under forty. Mr. Chilton, the newly appointed Senator from Texas is only thirty-six, and Senator Kyle and Irby are only thirty-seven. It remains to be seen how these youngsters will compare in legislative abilities with their older colleagues.

On Thursday evening of last week a party of about twenty-five young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Conright to celebrate the 20th birthday of their son E. A. Conright. Late in the afternoon a few of the party went fishing, and we presume they caught some fish but failed to notice where they put their game, returning about dusk to meet the rest of the party. The band being present played a few selections, after which the party was invited to seat themselves at the tables that was spread for the occasion, with the good things which Mrs. Conright knows so well how to arrange. After supper Elmer was presented with a beautiful photograph album as a slight token of the esteem in which he is held by his many friends who wish him many a happy return of this anniversary.

C. L. Grey, agent of the Standard Oil Co., was in the city Tuesday looking after the interest of that company.

Mrs. W. W. Downie returned this afternoon from Ortonville where she has been spending the week, visiting with friends. Mr. Downie is expected home to night from Yankton where he has been attending the grand lodge of the I. O. O. F.

Dyspepsia has driven to an early and even suicidal grave many a man who, if he had tried the virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, would be alive today and in the enjoyment of health and competence. Sufferer, be warned in season, and don't allow the system to run down.

Mrs. J. W. Williams arrived on the early morning train Monday from Buffalo, N. Y., where she has been for several months, to spend the summer with her father's family Mr. H. W. Bailey. Mr. Williams, who is traveling for a bank punch firm, expects to get around to Milbank about July 1st. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be pleased to see them in our midst again.

On Friday last Mr. Schuyler Verdon met with a very painful and what proved to be a serious accident. While riding on his bicycle the wind blew his eyes full of dust, blinding him for an instant so that he failed to see a stone that lay directly in his road till he had nearly struck it. Upon seeing the stone he attempted to jump from his wheel and in doing so sprained his ankle so that he was confined to his bed for several days. He is now able to be around some with the aid of crutches, but it will be some time before he can use his foot again.

Rev. J. M. McBride preached in Library Hall last Sunday. Mr. McBride was accompanied on his trip by Mrs. McBride who has been attending the assembly of the order of Eastern Star where she has been elected to the highest office of the Grand Chapter, that of G. W. M. Mr. and Mrs. McBride took the east bound train for Big Stone lake Monday Morning where they will spend a few days before returning to their home in Aberdeen.

Herman Emanuel has sent after a set of tools, and expects to open a barber shop in Wilnot. Herman has been in Milbank about a year, several months of which he has been engaged in the barber shop of Henry Mitchell. He has lately decided to start out for himself, and has chosen Wilnot as the point for starting. Mr. Emanuel is a young man of good habits and will win the respect of those who become acquainted with him in his new home.

There is good work being done at the cemetery which should be encouraged in every way possible. There has been need of a great deal of work, and this spring those who have a lot seem to take a special interest in keeping it trimmed up which very much improves the looks of the grounds. Last Saturday eight or ten of the old soldiers went up to set the headstones and fixed up the graves of several of their comrades who are sleeping in the city of the dead.

On Friday morning, of last week, Mr. J. A. McBride received word that his father was very ill at his home in Lake City, Minnesota, and a little later was notified by telegram to take the first train for that place which he did. Mrs. McBride followed by the next train. We cup the following from the Minneapolis Journal: "Judge John McBride died Saturday afternoon of heart disease, aged 70 years. He came to Lake City in the spring of 1860 and has served as justice of the peace for 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

Gottlieb Oehler met with quite a loss the other day by one of his horses dying. About a week ago Mr. Oehler drove over to the "Morrill" place and left his team for a moment or two, as he had often done before. The horses became frightened at a dog and ran about two miles. As they came to a bend in the road leading to the bridge which crosses the creek at Christ Oehler's place they failed to turn quick enough and were crowded off the bridge into the creek, where one of them lay for about an hour before it was gotten out of the water. This sudden plunge into the cold water after such a run was more than the horse could stand and it only lived a day or two.
