Vote the republican ticket.
Keep in the middle of the road.
"Hitch your wagon to a star."
Keep out of debt at any sacrifice.
Get out of debt, bend every exertion to this end.
Contentment is the best wealth. Every healthy man can enjoy this blessing.
Utopian financial theories always bring disaster when adopted.
Protection cheapens products and increases wages.
Republicanism means honest money, honest wages and honest elections.
Republicanism and prosperity are synonymous terms.
Persistent effort and reasonable economy will bring competence, comfort and contentment.
A vote for Harrison and Reid is a vote for a certainty. A vote for Weaver & Field is a bet with great odds against you.
Don't believe any man who says there is a way in which you can become prosperous and happy without hard labor and prudent economy.
Debts contracted when money is cheap have invariably been either dishonorably repudiated or only paid by the most heroic effort and grinding sacrifice.
Two years ago 10 pounds of butter paid for 12 pounds of sugar, today 5 pounds of butter buys 16 to 18 pounds of sugar.
The depression in wheat due to the cholera epidemic will soon be over and the normal price will be restored, which this year is about 75 cents per bushel.
Every article you buy at the stores is cheaper than two years ago. This is in accordance with experience. Protection cheapens goods.

It has been the history of civilization that cheap money has created large debts which invariably have fallen due and become payable when money had become dear and hard to obtain.

Butter all over Dakota finds a ready market at from 18 to 25 cents. Eggs 12 to 16 cents. Onions 75 cents. These prices are entirely due to the wise republican tariff.

In 1890 one refrigerator car per week started from Watertown. This year seven refrigerators per week are required by the great growth in the butter and egg business due to the Republican tariff.

It costs half a billion a year to run the government. Some one must pay it. Under free trade every cent must come from our own consumers. Under protection the foreigner, seeking our markets, pays most of it.

We state the proposition broadly; fiat money never did exist and maintain its normal value in civilized society and further fiat money never will exist and maintain its value as a circulating medium.

The Crawford Primary system for nominating county officers recently adopted by the republicans of Codington county has proven a splendid success. So good a distribution of the officers was never before made in that county, nor so satisfactory a ticket put up.

A cheap money never has and never will be maintained beyond a few years. So certainly as in the order of nature low water follows a flood, so will an era of cheap money be followed by a period of hard times when the burden of grinding debt must be borne.

The republican policy is the practical business policy. Not married to high tariff more than to free trade, it studies our markets and our necessities, protecting and preserving the American market for every article we can successfully produce and making those things we cannot grow, or make, absolutely free.

VOTERS.

Whatever your politics or whatever your creed, the HERALD-ADVANCE gives you full credit for sincerity of purpose and earnest desire to do the thing and vote for the thing which will bring the greatest degree of individual and general prosperity.

Our objects are identical. Only a question of method is involved. As citizens and neighbors here in Grant County, all alike interested in the common welfare, there is no reason why we should not talk these differences in method over together, calmly and dispassionately, with the honest intent to discover and adopt the best.

THE HERALD-ADVANCE, firm in the republican faith, believes that the fundamental and essential issues of this year are involved in the tariff question and the money question.

Other weighty questions are involved the importance of which we fully recognize, but we believe them to be of secondary import at this time.

It is usually unprofitable to multiply issues.

On the two main questions we have strong and clearly defined views.

We believe the maintenance of the system of protection is vital to the prosperity of all classes of Americans and we sincerely believe that to no class is it more vitally important than to the farmers of the Northwest.

We believe that no stable and permanent prosperity can be maintained here or elsewhere without the maintenance of a sufficient circulating medium—money—based on an unvarying standard of intrinsic value derived from labor.

To a fair, candid and impassioned discussion of these subjects, as we understand them and according to our honest faith will our columns be devoted during this campaign and we trust all our readers of whatever political faith will give what we have to offer the fair consideration which honest convictions always merit.

Money.

We believe these things are fundamentally essential to the creation of any monetary system.

It must be based on intrinsic value, which value must be determined by the approximate amount of labor required to produce it.

It—the base of money—must be, as nearly as may be, unvarying in production and value.

It must be, as nearly as may be, imperishable.

It must be conveniently and inexpensively transportable.

It must be provided in sufficient quantities to meet the demands of business but must be so restricted as to make debt a burden from which all prudent men shall shrink.

The republican party believes in maintaining a sound, honest, circulating medium which will always and under all circumstances net the holder 100 cents for every dollar he possesses. It believes in providing enough of this kind of money to meet all the demands of business. It knows of no honest way in which the people can get possession of this money without exchanging a valuable equivalent for it.

A friend calls attention to the coppers and nickels—pennies and five cent pieces—and asks if they are not practical exemplifications of the fiat idea, in that they pass current at par although their intrinsic value is but as one to ten? We answer that the value of these coins does not in any degree depend upon the fiat, but upon the fact that they are always exchangeable and receivable by the government at their face value for gold coin, otherwise they would be valuable only as copper and nickel at the market pound rate.

Fusion has failed after all. Both the Democratic and Populist state tickets have been formally filed with the Secretary of State and will be printed on the official ballot. While the question was a matter of indifference to republicans we can not help but feel a greater degree of respect for our opponents who have thus refused to compromise their principles for the sake of an uncertain temporary advantage. We like to see men and parties, whether weak or strong follow the middle of the road.

The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The reputation of the firm guarantees excellence and uniformity in the medicine, and the world's experience for nearly half a century has fully demonstrated its value.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for over fifty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping of the bowels and wind colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. 25c a bottle.

Short Tariff Sermons.

Free traders tell us that our wonderful industrial growth is due to our inventions and labor saving machinery. As usual, they put the cart before the horse.

It is our American system of protection that creates and develops industries, giving our masses work and wages, comforts and homes, education and ambition.

This stimulates inventive genius, and when new devices are planned and perfected there is use for them at once.

Thousands of pairs of boots and shoes are daily made in Massachusetts by machinery, giving employment to thousands of workmen at good wages.

We export largely to England, where labor is much cheaper than in this country.

The United States leads in inventions, three times as many patents being granted here as in Great Britain.

During our free trade period, from 1846 to 1860, the total number of patents granted was 26,234.

From 1861 to 1875 the number granted was 127,345, and from 1875 to 1889 the number was 236,955.

The greatest number issued in any one year prior to 1862 was 4,819, while now we issue annually from 25,000 to 30,000.

The result is a cheapening of the product, increased consumption and greater demand for labor at good wages.

Protection does not make geniuses, but it does make the opportunity, it improves the mind, stimulates the intellect and rewards the inventor.

Wherever the influence of a protective tariff has been greatest, there invention has progressed most rapidly. The result is saving in cost of production and greater prosperity for the masses of the people.—American Economist.

A vote with the "People's party" is a vote to put Democrats in control of house, senate and presidency. The Democratic leaders are hoping to catch Republican voters with that kind of bait.
