Some Politicins mistake the hearse for the bandwagon.

Those California advertisements look just as attractive as Sterling has promised never to listen to the call of the "Bull Moose" again.

Watertown has got all the other cities in the state going when it comes to good water and pretty women.

There are too many young kids running automobiles and not enough of them working for a living.

There will be something doing in Watertown this year. Just keep your eye on the indicator. If the worst comes to worst in the car congestion, we can get Uncle Sam to send us our coal in 11 pound lots. The Saturday News will be bigger and better than ever during the year of 1913. We have just got located where we can expand. "It would serve every sour old batchelor right if he had to marry a sour old maid and vica versa," says the Vermillion Re-

If you dance you must pay the fiddler. It is the same with a city. If you propose to keep up with other cities you must be taxed to pay the fiddler.

The women will vote in South Dakota at no distant day. Well, women as a rule, are pretty-sensible creatures anyway. Why shouldn't they vote if they want to. It is getting so that they can't trust everything with the old man and the boys.

The Commercial Club of Aberdeen set out some time ago to raise a fund of $25,000 to be used in booming Aberdeen this year and keeping her on the map. The committee soliciting funds has already raised over $20,000. The first thing Watertown knows some of that Aberdeen bunch will come over here and steal Lake Kampeska from under our very noses some black

IT IS A CASE OF PUBLICITY.

A correspondent asks: "Why is it that when a duck lays an egg she quietly walks away and says nothing while if a hen lays an egg she cackles to beat the band?"

The reason is very simple. The duck does not have sense enough to advertise her product and the hen does, "hens" the reason for hens eggs selling for double the price of duck eggs.

HIS POLITICAL BOSS.

A young lady reporter on a country paper was sent out to in-terview leading citizens as to their politics. "May I see the gentleman of the house?" she asked of a large woman who opened the door at one residence.

"No, you can't!" answered the woman decisively.
"But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded

"Well, you just take a good look at me," she said sternly. "I'm the party he belongs to."--Judge.

USE A NO. 11 SLIPPER ON HER.

"The mother who allows a sixteen year old daughter to float around the city in an auto with a counterfeit sport of a weak jaw and weaker morals merely opens the door to grief and disgrace," says n exchange. If you don't know what company your girl keeps or what time of the night she turns in, your roar when the gossips get busy will sound about as pathetic as a wheeze of a jewsharp. The girl who insists on spooning with everybody in the corporate limits ought to be backed into a woodshed and relieved of her overflow of affection with a No. 11 slipper laid careessly across the hiplets. We would rather see a girl kiss a blind shoat through a barbed wire fence than to have her change partners six nights a week in the front parlor with the lights turned low. It is harder to marry off a girl who has been pawed over by every yap in the community than it is to fatten a sheep on pine apple ice cream. You can't gold brick a sharp eyed suitor with second hand goods any more than you can fit a bath robe on a goat. There are lots of weak minded parents who are going up against the judgment day with about as much show as as a crosseyed girl at a beauty show, and their children will rise up and call them blessed with the enthusiasm of a one-legged man at a club dance."

NO MONEY NEEDED BY EDITORS.

Occasionally a misled individual gets the notion into his head that it takes money to run a newspaper. To show how absurd the notion is we reproduce the following from the pen of an Illinois newspaper man: It takes money to run a newspaper? What an exaggeration. What a whopper. It doesn't take any money to run a newspaper. It can run without money. It is no a business venture. It is a charitable institution, a begging concern, a highway robber. The newspaper is a child of the air, a creature of a dream. It can go on and on and on, when any other concern would be in he hands of the receiver and wound up with cobwebs in the windows. It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gall to run a newspaper. It takes scintillating, acrobatic imagination, half a dozen white shirts and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money, heavens to Betsey and six hands around, whoever needed money to conduct a newspaper? Kind words are the medium of exchange that do the business for the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When you see an editor with money, watch him. He'll be paying his bills and dis gracing the profession. Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out. He likes a swap. Then when you die, after you have stood around for years and sneered at the editor and his little Jim Crow paper, be sure that you have your wife send in for three extra copies by one of your weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice, you forewarn her to neglect the editor's fifteen cents. It would overwhelm him. Money is a corrupting thing. The editor knows it, and what he wants is your heartfelt thanks, then he can thank the printers and they can thank the grocers. Give your job work to a traveling man, and then ask for half rates for church notices. Get your lodge letter heads and stationery printed out of town and then flood the editor with beautiful thoughts in resolutions of respect and eards of thanks. They make such spicy reading and then you are so proud of your local paper when you pick it up filled with these glowing mortuary articles. But money-scorn the filthy thing. Don't let the pure innocent editor know anything about it. Keep that for sordid trades people who charge for their wares. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. He takes care of the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as a door mat for the community. He will get out the paper somehow; and stand up for the town and whoop it up for you when you run for office. Don't worry about the editor-he'll get on. The Lord knows how, but some

Hanten Makes His Car do Circus Stunt

Last Saturday Isidor Hanten invited five men into his new "Studebaker best by her relatives and heree 35" and took them up on the north she go to the asylum and take treat side near the old Mellette house and started down the hill. Half way down hte steep hill he stopped the car and gave the occupants of the same a fine view of the city and surrounding country. For several seconds every pletely restored to her former good one in the car held their breath, no health. doubt thinking that if the brake would let go its hold the party would never stop going until it struck Lake lampetha. Then corefully Alt. Hav-on Colonsed the brute and went a the father and then supped the engine-and by the horned species if he didn't start the engine again without getting out of the car and swung around in a circle and up went the whole party up that hill again just as easy as rolling off a log. The engine didn't even give a long breath. The gentlemen in the car at the time of the demonstration were Sam Dean and his son Ronald, Tom Croft, L. J. Ross and the editor of the Saturday News. Mr. Ross and Mr. Croft are the lightest men, all the rest of them weighing two hundred pounds or over.

There is no use talking, that Studebaker car has certainly got them all going. It is there with the goods.
