Little Alice Anderson was quite badly hurt Sunday Day by being hit by an automobile. She is recovering in the shape. Miss Alice is the daughter of Mrs. Benhinn, near Grover.

Mr. Oscar Oleson is the owner of a new Ford car.

Messrs. Frank and A. Carnes have made the purchase of a new Dodge car and will leave this week for North Dakota to look at land. A. A. recently sold his place north of the Ed. Hildebrandt place, near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heathcote, at a good advance over the purchase price, also had one of the most successful sales held in the neighborhood.

I notice the organization of sheep growers of Codington, headed by Mr. P. F. Burke. Good idea. Why not raise more sheep?

Mr. Fred Frenz was in Richland Saturday after a load of feed. He reports family all well. Land selling at an advance top sale at $130 to 135 per acre.

Mr. Bert Deuchler was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Purcell Saturday night and Sunday.

I understand Mr. William Benson has purchased a 160 acre tract of land of Mrs. Jenkins.

The editor spoke of the price of land in an issue of last week, to the effect that the reason land hadn't moved in Codington county so much was that it was too low. A higher price would make it sell faster. There may be some truth in the opinion, even though the editor wrote half in humor.

I once worked on a farm for a gentleman near Manning, Iowa. During the year I visited in Council Bluffs, Iowa. While there I thought to buy a dish for the farmer's wife. I entered a leading crockery store and priced some plates. I was first showed plates at five, ten and fifteen dollars. Too much money I told the proprietor, for he happened to wait on me, the lady likely would not appreciate such a plate, and besides I do not care, at this time, to pay so much. I purchased a plate I felt was suitable. Then I asked the storekeeper if the fifteen dollar plate was really worth fifteen dollars. He replied that it was not but that he would be unable to sell to a considerable part of his patrons unless he had a good big price on his best ware.

Another case, I know to be true, occurred in the city of Omaha during my sojourn there. The elder Brandies were still living. (The Brandies people have a large store there.) The man in charge of the shoe department had put out a considerable number of shoes, odds and ends of stock that had apparently failed to sell readily, he rubbed them all up in good shape, put price tags on them at a figure that he thought would move them. No demand. He polished 'em a little more, dusted off the plate glass a little extra, grouped them as artistically as he could, shaved down the price a little further but still they refused to leave the glass. He went to the senior Brandies with his troubles. "Put on new tags," said Mr. Brandies. "And stick the price away up there." Mister shoe man acted on the suggestion, and the shoes went like hot cakes. Stick up the price on Codington county land, mister, and she'll sell. And by the way, stranger, if you're looking for a home and land, Codington county land is no humbug nor shoddy stuff, neither is our bustling county seat nor our splendid lake.

BOOZE IS NOT A GOOD CURE

(From the Ames Iowa Intelligencer.) When a man comes to you all doubled up with pain and declares he will die in your presence unless you procure him a drink of whiskey, send him to a doctor or else give him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is a mistaken notion among a whole lot of people that booze is the best remedy for colic and stomach ache. (230-255)

SAXON

Saxon "Six"

has earned its reputation as the practical car, because it is so thoroughly practical from so many different standpoints.

Consider the Touring Car, for example. It is light in weight and in consequence is economical on fuel and tires. Yet it is staunchly built of honest material and has no weak spots to cause trouble and expense. A practical combination surely.

The Saxon "Six" Roadster for four has a divided front seat and is equally practical for one, two, three or four persons. Observe that this car preserves the smart lines of roadster design.

SEE THESE CARS WHILE WE HAVE THEM

I have on hand at present three second hand cars. A Saxon Six Touring car, a Krit Touring and a Maxwell Roadster. Each a big bargain.
