

McMILLIN AND REED.

A LIVELY EXCHANGE OF SHARP WORDS BETWEEN THE TWO.

Splitted Struggle of the Democrats to Gain an Advantage—They Rise in a Body and Leave the Hall to Escape Being Counted on a Vote.

In the House to-day, after a brief debate on the House bill, yesterday afternoon, holding two distinct legislative sessions on the same calendar day, the journal of last night's proceedings was approved.

A resolution was adopted calling on the Attorney-General for information as to what instructions had been given by him to any United States District Attorney, Marshal, Deputy Marshal or Commissioner with regard to the institution or prosecution of any suits under the act to enforce the right of citizens to vote in the general election.

Mr. Cannon reported a resolution for the immediate consideration of business reported by the committee on the Judiciary, the first bill to be taken up by the bill for the relief of the Supreme Court with Senate amendments, and next to be the salaries of United States judges.

The question of consideration was raised by Mr. Cannon, and the House decided by a vote of yeas 113, nays 70, to consider the resolution.

Mr. Blount of Georgia moved to table the resolution, but he was lost by a vote of yeas 66, nays 128.

Mr. Cannon then took the floor, stating that he would say a few words as to the merit of the proposition.

The Democratic member of the House, in laughing away the absurdity of the proposition that is herein discussed, said that he would not be surprised if he were to see a man who would say a few words to prevent the forty minutes debate allowed under the rules, after the previous question was ordered.

Mr. Cannon replied he would answer frankly in the affirmative. In view of the fact that the Democrats are on the other side, under the leadership of the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. McMillin), the Republicans accepted the proposition to have a man on the Democratic side did not desire to facilitate business. He would make a few remarks and then demand the previous question.

Mr. McMillin inquired whether it was the gentleman's purpose to attack him and his motives and to move to table the previous question and out of debate.

Mr. Cannon disclaimed having made an attack upon any one, and stated that he was a proposition to increase the salaries of judges under the Appropriation bills were still pending.

Mr. Cannon replied that it was a proposition to put the court and the salary bills into conference if the majority wished, or to do so.

Mr. McMillin responded that the gentleman had announced that he would give the gentleman from Tennessee thirty minutes to make an address, and he was now making an address while the Republican party was "in a spring superinduced on the stage," after the fashion of the olden times.

Mr. E. B. Taylor—who is the gentleman from Tennessee to whom the gentleman from Missouri referred—because I see you propose to plunder the Treasury (Democrats are the plunderers and the Republicans are the plundered).

Mr. Blount of Georgia moved to recommit the resolution to the committee on the Judiciary, but he was lost by a vote of yeas 66, nays 128.

FROM THE DISTRICT CAPITOL.

News of General Interest from the District of Columbia. A large number of liquor licenses were sent to Assessor Trimble this morning for his final action. These are the first that have been sent him since the Commission issued the order forbidding the publication from day to day of rejected or approved applications.

Commissioner Ross took a Currier reporter this morning that the press would not be given any information until Commissioner Robert returned from New York on Tuesday morning, when the agency of the saloon-keepers will be relieved or increased by the order of rejection of their respective licenses.

THE LATEST LAUGH.

Of all the reports that have found their way into local print, that one in a morning paper to-day that Mr. Cleveland had refused to be a candidate for the Presidency has excited the strongest degree of ebullience among the politicians.

When an evening local paper the other day announced that Mr. Gorman was to be a candidate for the Presidency, it was not until Mr. Cleveland had refused to be a candidate for the Presidency that the politicians were so excited.

MISS GLADYS GETS THE CASH.

But the Criminal Action Against Mr. Eads. London, Feb. 20.—Mr. Leslie Fraser Duncan, late editor of the Metropolitan, has paid Miss Gladys Knowles the reduced amount of damages, £1,500, with costs, awarded to her as the result of her suit against him for breach of promise of marriage. On the first trial of the suit, early last summer, Miss Knowles secured a verdict for £10,000 damages.

To avoid payment of this sum the defendant transferred his interest in the Metropolitan to his wife, Mrs. M. M. Whyte-Melville, widow of the novelist of that name, and mother of the Viscountess Joicey.

Mr. Duncan appealed against the verdict as being excessive, and the Court, after due consideration, reduced the amount to £1,500, with costs, and strongly urged upon the Commissioners the necessity of having at least this amount. It will be impossible to pay the balance of the £8,500, therefore here the attention of Congress will be called to this matter at once.

The committee will give the case their early attention.

House bill 12,732, which provides for the relief of James H. Spurgeon, a commercial agent, was referred to Attorney Hession for his opinion.

The House is to-day publishes in its columns a statement of the Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon, pastor of the famous Tabernacle, preached in 1864, and an address delivered by the Right Hon. Joseph Sturge, Lord Mayor of London, in 1864, in which he mentioned the name of M. C. Institute for Apprentices, Artisans, etc., in recent years.

The two distinct paragraphs in the Spurgeon sermon being delivered in London in 1864, and the address delivered by the Right Hon. Joseph Sturge, Lord Mayor of London, in 1864, in which he mentioned the name of M. C. Institute for Apprentices, Artisans, etc., in recent years.
