THANKSGIVING

The harvests are gathered, the fields are bare,
The chill of the autumn is on the air.
The brook in the meadow, still fringed
With sedges,
Feels the touch of the ice-king at its edge.
The mountains beyond the broad river
Rise;
Snow-silvered, they shine as the daylight
Dies.
The north wind sweeps where the reapers
Sang,
And the earth is hard where the fresh
Grain sprang.
The toilers are gone with laughter and
jest,
The greenward's asleep, and the forests
rest.
One robin sings late on the leaf-bare
bough;
The last of its kind; 'twill be winter now.
Cold, dreary, and dark is the world tonight.
But the home within is aglow with light.
The table is loaded with homely cheer,
The fruit of the goodness that crowns the year.
Praise God; 'tis from Him that all blessings flow;
Praise Him, all ye creatures in earth below.
Where the fire leaps high by the hearth
they kneel
To voice the thanksgiving glad hearts should feel.

—Richard Sills Holmes

Among our fixed and movable observances and anniversaries, Thanksgiving and Christmas have the first place because they, in the highest degree, appeal to that which is both human and spiritual in our natures. These are the days which most deeply thrill the heart of the nation. These are the days when sons, daughters and grandchildren go back to the home, to father and mother. Christmas belongs to the world, but Thanksgiving Day belongs to America. It was instituted by the Pilgrims and the descendants of those men and women who came to the western Atlantic shores with a determined purpose laying the foundation of a republic, have perpetuated it and made it a more sacred as the years have passed.

STATE OF MAINE

Proclamation by the Governor

Seldom since the first New England Thanksgiving Day has there been greater cause for gratitude to Almighty God, or graver need to seek His blessing and His sustaining guidance.

By the favor of Divine Providence, our Nation has in large measure escaped the riot and disaster which in the aftermath of war distress threatens to overwhelm so much of the civilized world.

But in the seething unrest so prevalent in industrial centers and in occasional fierce outbreaks of selfishness and greed, are plainly to be seen symptoms of possible calamities no less appalling even in our own land.

The future offers no sure defence against this peril except the power of the spirit of God in the hearts of all Americans, redeeming them from self-seeking, and inspiring them to mutual understanding and helpfulness.

Now, therefore, I, Carl E. Milliken, Governor of Maine, do hereby designate and proclaim Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November, a day of Thanksgiving and prayer.

And while returning thanks to God for his abundant bounty, let us humbly beseech Him to save us from selfishness and cruelty and to renew within us that devotion to truth and righteousness which shall safeguard the fruits of the victory for which so many of our countrymen have fought and died.

Done at the Executive Chamber in the State House at Augusta, on the twenty-second day of November, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and nineteen of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-fourth and of the State of Maine the ninety-ninth.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and cause the seal of the State to be affixed.

CARL E. MILLIKEN,
Governor

By the Governor
Frank W. Ball, Secretary of State.

DE GEORGE WHITMORE.

E. Francis De George, formerly of Worcester, Mass., and Miss Elsie Cleone Whitmore of East Northport were married Nov. 10th in the presence of a few friends at the Madison Avenue Baptist church in New York city. The pastor, Rev. George Caleb Moor, officiated with the single ring service. They were attended by cousins of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas C. Morese. The bride wore a becoming tailored suit of navy blue with hat to match. She is the third daughter of Mrs. Cleone Hills Whitmore of East Northport, is very well and favorably known in Belfast. For the past few years she has been employed in Washington, D. C. and in New York. For the present she is employed in an art embroidery establishment. Mr. De George had been in the Marine service with the rank of corporal and was stationed at the West Indies. He learned the tailor's trade and is now associated in the clothing business with Mr. Morese. He has visited the bride's relatives in this vicinity, where he made many friends.

ABOUT RHEUMATISM

What Thousands Have Found Gives Relief From This Painful Trouble.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, manifesting itself in local aches and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles. It cannot be cured by local or external applications. It must have constitutional treatment.

Take a course of the great blood-purifying and tonic medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood on which rheumatism depends, and gives permanent relief. This medicine combines, with excellent alteratives and tonics, what is generally conceded to be the most effective agent in the treatment of this disease.

If a cathartic or laxative is needed take Hood's Pills. Purely vegetable.

CHARLES H. WALDEN

Charles Henry Walden, one of Belfast's most highly respected citizens, died very suddenly at his home on Court street Saturday afternoon. He had been down town during the day on business and seemed in his usual health when he returned home at about 4.30 p. m. He did not speak after being taken ill and died before a physician could reach him. His relatives and intimate friends were prepared for the shock as he had a very critical illness with heart disease in the winter of 1917. Mr. Walden was born in Lynn, Mass., 62 years ago, the son of Charles Albert and Jane (Alley) Walden. He had lived in Belfast about 40 years. January 4, 1893, he married Miss Edith Lydia Stone of this city, who survives him. Although quiet and unassuming he was identified with the best interests of the city, was a most trustworthy friend and a man of good judgment. For many years he was a director in The City National Bank of Belfast. In the home life conditions were ideal. Quietly and gladly he sought opportunity to assist the unfortunate and poor. He was well known all over Maine as he had travelled since early manhood for the Berry Shoe Store in Portland. His only brother, William Walden of Boston, came here Monday to remain until after the funeral. An aunt, Miss Pauline Walden of Pasadena, Calif., and a niece, Mrs. Mabel W. Brown of Lynn, survive. The funeral was held at his late home at 2 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Arthur E. Wilson of this city and Rev. Adolph Rossbach of East Boston officiating. There was a large attendance and the floral offerings were beautiful. The bearers were Messrs. Robert P. Chase, Mayor Clement W. Wescott, Elmer A. Sherman, Valorus A. Simmons, Charles P. Hazeltine and Selwyn Thompson.

LEROY S. SOUTHARD

Leroy S. Southard died at his home in East Northport, Friday morning, Nov. 21st, after a long illness with heart trouble, in complication with other diseases. Mr. Southard came here from Augusta about ten years ago and has been engaged as a contractor and builder. Among the buildings designed by him are the two very attractive residences and cottage in East Northport, the former the homes of his wife and son and the latter the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rogers at Birch Crest. He also built the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pennington in Northport. Mr. Southard was born in Vassalboro, June 3, 1858, the son of Cyrus and Levia (Bragg) Southard. He married Miss Henrietta Lower, who with their only son, Leroy H. Southard, survives him. One brother and one sister survive, Alonzo Southard of Revere, Mass., and Mrs. John F. Booker of Cooper's Mills. Mr. Southard was a member of the Augusta Lodge of Knights of Pythias and of Excelsior Lodge, F. & A. M. of Northport. The funeral was held at his late home at 2.30 p. m. Sunday, Rev. Arthur E. Wilson of the Belfast Unitarian church officiating. The remains were taken to Augusta Monday for interment.

TROY.

Mr. and Mrs. Babb returned to New York last Monday where he was taking radium treatment, but word has been received that he is rapidly failing and unable to return home. His great desire to live and his brave struggle for life makes it doubly hard.

The many friends of Mrs. E. E. Bagley of Boston, Mass., are grieved to learn of her fall which caused the breaking of two ribs and in consequence of the gas administered she has been seriously ill, and is still a great sufferer. Her niece, Mrs. Myrtle Clark of Lewiston, is with her. Our Sunshine society, of which Mrs. Bagley is a valued member, extends much sympathy, hoping with the return of summer she will bring to us again the sunshine of her presence.

Britons Build Biggest Plane.

The Tarrant Aircraft Construction company of Farnborough, England, has just finished building the biggest airplane in the world. It is a triplane, the middle plane of which is 131 feet wide. Above and below this are two planes, each 98 feet long. All these planes are 15 feet 2 inches deep. The body is 76 feet long (20 feet longer than the biggest biplane), and the height is 37 feet. The pilot's seat sits out 12 feet beyond the line of the planes. The body of the machine resembles a whale in length and girth, with a great blunt-ended nose. Between the planes are six Napier-Lion engines, each developing 500-horsepower. Four of them operate two-bladed tractor propellers; two of them four-bladed "pusher" propellers.

Jap Industry Hard Hit.

During the war the Japanese zinc industry was very prosperous and large profits were made on ore which was imported from Australia and the French Indies. The signing of the armistice, however, has dealt a hard blow to this industry, and it is reported that it costs $200 a ton to produce Japanese zinc, while the market price is only $187 a ton. It is expected that this will result in a request for subsidies and import protection. Since the deposits of Japanese ore are of such inferior quality that competition with imported ore cannot be met successfully.

Mr. Hills said he had not seen as much snow in two years as fell last week. Mr. Hills has enlisted for another term of service.

Friday night as Johnnie Crie was going home from school with Gardiner and Drummond Hemenway, they saw a bull moose in the field back of the Woodcock place and the boys were quite excited. Gardiner telephoned home for his father, Charles Hemenway, but he was out hunting. Then Johnnie Crie hurried home, got a team and took Del. The ideal way of washing delicate things is the way the Eden washes everything.

Washes everything without rubbing

The Eden

The favorite of thousands of good housekeepers because the big sanitary zinc cylinder of the Eden lifts all clothes, blankets and linens gently up and down through hot suds in the same way careful women wash their daintiest silks and laces. The Eden takes all the rub out of the tub and cleans everything better than rubbing.

The grimy overalls of the hard worker, the splattered clothes of the children, or stained table linen leave the Eden as clean as new—with a very much longer life ahead for not having been beaten and rubbed and frayed in the out-of-date wash-board way.
