The B. H. S. Graduation, Etc.

The Class Tree.

The tree planted Wednesday on the upper school common was named in honor of a former classmate, Marjorie Brown, the fourteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown of East Belfast, who lost her life to save a friend from drowning. Her pastor, Rev. William Vaughan, gave a eulogy on the young heroine; principal Foster made a few remarks and the school sang. Abide With Me. George Ashley Mathews, class president, placed the bottle containing class records and an account of their heroic classmate's sacrifice at the roots of the tree and threw the first shovelful of earth over it, followed by other members of the class of 1920.

The Graduation

There was a very large and enthusiastic audience in the Armory last Wednesday evening to listen to one of the most practical programs ever presented by our High school, and it is hoped by many that this may be a precedent for the future. The class colors, red and white, were used in combination with an abundance of green in the effective decorations. Evergreens were massed on the front of the stage and on either side of the arch received only by streamers of the class colors in loops, and vases of tulips, etc. The rear curtain was completely screened with the lilacs caught with red knots of crepe paper on a surface of evergreen. The idea was original and the effect excellent. Their programs were printed with red ink; while the flowers worn by many of the members and the bouquets presented carried out their class colors and flower, the red and white carnations.

The Salutatory

The Salutatory by Miss Evans was preceded by thoughts based on her motto, "Build for Character, not for Fame," and both productions were not only well written but remarkably well delivered.

The first innovation

came with the commercial scene when the stage curtain went up to reveal the up-to-date office of Sayden-Horne & Co., with the following office force in uniforms putting into practice the many things our commercial departments are now specializing on: Manager, Elizabeth Hills; Purchasing Agent, Ashley Mathews; Saleslady, Renne Dutton; Neostyle Operator, Emma Webber; Bookkeeper, Muriel Brown; Filing Clerk, Marion Thurston; Adding Machine Operator, Jennie Roberts; Stenographers, Doris Allen, Ava Burgess, Hazel Heald; Typists: Mildred Thomas, Dorothy Ingalls, Louise Colson.

Karl Smalley

with an original blackboard drawing, gave a practical demonstration of history in the numerous and confusing changes brought about in Europe from 1914 to the present date. His subject matter was well compiled, thoroughly committed and presented in an entertaining manner. It was an excellent illustration of this history-making epoch. This was followed by another practical illustration subtitled when Marjorie Cobb and Thomas Lothrop gave original talks on chemistry, one preparing the test of oxygen, hydrogen, etc., as the other explained their uses, etc.

Royce Miller's demonstration of higher mathematics including velocity and sound was a wonderfully clever piece of work for a B. H. S. boy to commit and present in public.

A short scene in a French millinery

parlor with Bernice Harriman as the modiste and Katherine Brown purchaser, demonstrated that the languages are receiving attention in the B. H. S. as well as the commercial, etc. It was a pretty scene.

Ashley Mathews, president

presented Mayor Wescott with a check of $150, the class gift for the new school building. Mayor Wescott's response was characteristic, acknowledging appreciation, etc.

Hope Dorman preceded her valedictory

with a brief essay on the importance of a knowledge of the English language to the boy or girl who would make a success in life. Its importance was clearly defined and vividly illustrated. Miss Dorman is the youngest member of the class but her reasoning would do credit to any college graduate. Her farewell address to faculty, school and classmates was impressive.

Charles S. Bickford, chairman of the school committee, presented the diplomas with practical words of advice.

The music included several selections

by the school orchestra and chorus numbers. The latter included a very appropriate song of "Maine" by R. P. Chase, and the class ode written by Charles Robbins.

Supt. E. E. Roderick read a letter from Mrs. Sarah E. Lewis of this city who presented a valuable painting to the school in memory of her daughters Helen, now deceased, and Liella, seriously ill. The former graduated in 1884 and the latter in 1887.

The following prizes were awarded:

The offered by Dr. Alfred Johnson of Belfast and Brookline, Mass., for the best essay on the Separation of Maine from Massachusetts to Bartlett J. Whiting, '21; by John Cochran Chapter, D. A. R., on the Settling of Belfast, Louise Clark, '21. The Chamber of Commerce prize for the best general work of a Senior in the commercial department went to Doris Allen and that of A. C. Hopkins for the best work in shorthand and typing by a Junior went to Ruth Dinsmore.

The benediction was pronounced

by Rev. George C. Sauer of the Baptist church.

The faculty:

Harry A. Foster, Harold S. Webb G. Eva Wentworth, E. Eirena DeBeck, M. Muriel DeBeck, Mrs. S. Augustus Parker, Margaret M. Mitchell, Superintendent, E. E. Roderick. Accompanist, Elizabeth A. Hills.

The class:

Doris Madolin Allen, Harold Bradford, Katherine Cushman Brown, Muriel Marie Brown, Ava May Burgess, Maurice Eben Cobb, Louise Annie Colson, Kenneth Wesley Colcord, Hope Dorman, Rena Isabel Dutton, Emily Richardson Evans, Eva Ellen Hall, Myra Berenice Harriman, Hazel Thelma Heald, Elizabeth Alice Hills, Annie Eunice Ide, Marguerite Ingalls, Dorothy May Ingalls, Thomas Whittier Lothrop, Jr., Clyde Elton Marriner, George Ashley Mathews, Barbara McKenney, Charles Eriend Meservie, Fred Royce Miller, Alice Maria Robbins, Charles Knowlton Robbins, Jenny Elizabeth Roberts, Karl Raymond Smalley, Marion Belle Thurston, Mildred Carolyn Thomas, Austin Knox Vaughan, Emma Moreland Webber, Melvin Edwin Wood.

The Banquet and Ball

The banquet in the Baptist vestry was private for the class and their guests. The class table was decorated in red and white including large bouquets of tulips. The menu was delicious and well served. President Mathews acted as toastmaster and the special class parts, all interesting, bright and well delivered, were: The History of the Class, by Dorothy May Ingalls, Thomas Whittier Lothrop, Jr., Clyde Elton Marriner, George Ashley Mathews, Barbara McKenney, Charles Eriend Meservie, Fred Royce Miller, Alice Maria Robbins, Charles Knowlton Robbins, Jenny Elizabeth Roberts, Karl Raymond Smalley, Marion Belle Thurston, Mildred Carolyn Thomas, Austin Knox Vaughan, Emma Moreland Webber, Melvin Edwin Wood.

The ball followed the banquet in the Armory

with music by McKenney's orchestra.

The News of Belfast.

William L. Luce and Harry A. Foster have become the firm of Luce & Foster, agents in Belfast for the American Alliance Insurance Company of New York. Ask them about the limitless risks their company takes.

The Boy Scouts connected with the Baptist society under scout master George H. Robertson made their first camping trip of the season to their grounds on last Saturday night. They slept in blankets out of doors and feasted on beans baked in the ground. They returned home Sunday morning a happy crowd. They will be glad when their log cabin is ready that friends may occasionally enjoy their hospitality.

The Castine Normal Alumni Association will open camp at Sandpoint from August 2nd to August 23rd, inclusive. It is expected there will be a large attendance. By permission of the president, graduates may bring friends, who will be cordially welcomed: Mr. and Mrs. Richardson have been invited to be the guests of the Camp. For particulars write to Agnes Westcott, 60 Charlesgate East, Boston, Mass., before July 4, then to Sandy Point, Maine, or to Ella F. Jordan, 204 Hemenway St., Boston, Mass.

Capt. Walter J. Smart of Islesboro has been placed in command of the handsome new schooner, Blanche C. Pendleton, now practically ready for her maiden voyage. Capt. Smart has been with the Pendleton Brothers for many years and is a most successful sailing master. Mrs. Smart is now with him on the schooner, but does not plan to make the trip. Monday a dove flew on board the schooner and will be kept as one of the most desirable of mascots. As soon as a crew can be obtained she will sail for Norfolk, N. S., to load plaster rock for Norfolk, Va.

The Palm Beach, Fla., Post of a recent date gives an interesting account of a rifle tournament in that city when a former Belfast man, Milton W. Farrow, won by a safe margin: "Capt. J. T. Barton desired that practice commence at the most difficult range, and it was decided that two sighting shots and five shots for record should constitute this preliminary. The following scores were made: Farrow, Sr., 24; Breley, 23; Altman, 23; Ferguson, 21; Carson, 21; Farrow, Jr., 21; Bell, 20; Steele, 20; Baker, 19; Gutelius, 18. The veteran marksman was roundly congratulated because of his ability to "come back" in his mid-season form by the gallery—as well as by the officers and members of the club."

The lower bridge is now entirely closed to travel and signs to that effect are posted at the junction of all streets leading to it. The contractors and engineers in charge of the construction are confident it will be completed within the specified time of one year. Cyr Brothers are here with a crew of 40 men and ten car loads of machinery. It will take several weeks to set the machinery up. The rock crusher will be set up at the East Side gravel pit to utilize the rocks there. Work will also be begun at the eastern end of the bridge abutments and brought this way. Prof. E. H. Sprague, at the head of the civil engineering department of the U. of M., with two U. of M. graduates, Weston Evans and E. A. McLean, as assistants, has charge of the construction, etc., and represents the State as inspector and engineer. A draw will be maintained for use of the Coe-Mortimer Co. It is already a busy place at the old bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Hall have returned from Farmington, where they attended the marriage of the latter's niece, Miss Adah Enola Nickerson, well and favorably known here, where she has frequently visited. The groom is George Edward Sinkinson of Canton, Mass., and the ceremony took place Thursday evening, June 10th, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Nickerson. The home was decorated with evergreen and bridal wreath. Rev. D. E. Adams officiated with the Episcopal single ring service. The organ's wedding march was played by Mrs. Annie Craig as the bride party entered the living room and took positions in front of the bay window. The bride was charming in a gown of French voile combined with flet lace, and carried a white prayer book, a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and wore a gold coin in her shoe. She was attended by Margaret T. Shute of Gloucester, Mass., who wore white crepe de chene with Georgette crepe and carried pink and white sweet peas. The groom's gift to his bride was a platinum and green gold pin and to his best man, Kenneth B. Shute, he gave green gold cuff links. The maid of honor received a green gold friendship circle. At the luncheon which followed the ceremony Miss Florence Norton served and the bride cut the wedding cake. There was a large display of beautiful gifts. After a short trip at Clearwater Pond they will be at home at 288 Hemenway Street, Boston. The bride graduated from the F. H. S. in 1912 and from Miss Pierce's school in Boston in 1913. The groom is a graduate of the U. of M. in 1914 and served in France in the 303rd F. A. He is now connected with the Springdale Finishing Co. at Canton.

Remember that the Waldo County Veterans' Association will hold its postponed June meeting in Morrill, Thursday, June 17th.

Mrs. Ralph Sanborn of Winterport will speak at the Spiritualist meetings to be held in Memorial hall Sunday afternoon and evening.

The members of Washington Hose Company were entertained Sunday at the Wells cottage at Little River by F. G. Spinney. It was their annual outing.

The money for a number of the Pershing banquet tickets has not been refunded. The ticket holders will please present them at The City National Bank.

Rev. Adolph Rossbach, pastor of the Unitarian church in East Belfast, has accepted a call to the First Parish Church of Waltham, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Rossbach and their little son George will arrive soon to occupy their new summer home, Rocky Point, at Pitcher's Pond.

The Junior Alliance of the Unitarian church was entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. T. B. Dinsmore on her beautiful lawn. The weather was ideal for such a party and the twenty girls enjoyed it heartily. After the regular meeting, conducted by Dorothy Thayer, president, a charming program was rendered, each member contributing something in the way of music, story, recitation or riddle. Merry outdoor games followed and ice cream was served. The girls are planning an all-day picnic next week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Public Health committee was held in the Red Cross room on Monday afternoon, June 7, at 4 o'clock, Mrs. Essie P. Carle, chairman, presiding. The report of the last regular meeting was read by the secretary and approved. The work for the month of May was reported as follows: Number of cases under care first of month, 11; number of new cases, 7; number of readmitted cases, 2; total number of cases during month, 20; number of cases dismissed, 9; number of cases remaining end of month, 11. Condition on discharge: recovered, 4; improved, 2; died, 2; nurse not needed, 1; total, 9. Discharged: to family or self, 7; died, 2. Nursing visits, 69; infant welfare visits, 33; tuberculosis visits, 2; prenatal visits, 3; office treatments, 19; other visits, 4; total, 130; night calls after 8 p. m., 2; cases reported by families, 5. Cases reported by physicians, 4. Age of patients treated: Under 2 years, 3; 2 to 6 years, 2; over 20 years, 4. Nature of cases: Prenatal cases, 1; obstetrical cases, 1; nurse present at delivery, 1; pneumonia, 1; tuberculosis, 1; well babies under supervision, 2; surgical dressing cases, 1; all others, 3; number of paying patients, 5; number of free patients, 4; fees collected, $15.50; cost of transportation, 50. Miss Mary Van Zile visited us May 7th and 8th. During week beginning May 24 Mrs. Milton Stephenson acted as substitute.

MRS. CAROLINE A. HAVENER

Mrs. Caroline (Sides) Havener, widow of the late Gardner L. Havener, passed away on June 9th at her home at City Point aged 88 years. She leaves to mourn her loss a daughter, Mrs. Emily F. Lane, two sons, Charles G. and George E., her grandsons, Gardner Lane, Rex Havener and Ivan Havener, and a beloved sister, Mrs. Sylvanus G. Woods of Prospect, who is the last of a large family, and who is better known to her many friends as Ducky. Besides these she leaves a circle of friends so wide that from distant lands and from most unexpected sources during her declining years have come tokens of remembrance and words of good cheer. A woman of wonderful mentality, the charm of her personality was felt by all who entered her presence. Above all things else a home maker, each generation of children found a warm welcome at her fireside, and carried forth into the world the memory of her loving kindness, and personal interest in their welfare. "All the mother I have known since I lost my own mother" will find an echo in many hearts, and no better tribute could be given. And so we leave her at rest, our neighbor and our friend, in this beautiful month of June, with the birds and flowers she loved so well, knowing that her brave spirit has fared forth to meet the reward that the Father has promised for faithful service.—Com.
