THE CHURCHES

There will be a preaching service at Woods schoolhouse, W. Northport, next Sunday at 2.30 p. m. by Rev. C. W. Martin.

METHODIST CHURCH. People's Methodist Church, Rev. Charles W. Martin, pastor; parsonage, No. 7 Court St.; telephone, 213.11. Sunday morning preaching, 10.45; Sunday school, 12 m. Evening service at 7.30. Prayer meeting this Thursday, evening at 7.30.

SERVICES at Mason's Mills church will be held Sunday at 10.30 a. m. with preaching, followed by the Sunday school.
At the Trinity Reformed church there will be preaching at 2.30 p. m., followed by the Sunday school. Rev. William Vaughan, pastor. Tel. 221.21.

ST. MARGARET'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
Rev. D. M. Brookman, D. D., priest in charge. On Sunday, August 1st, at 10.45 a. m. there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion, with sermon. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.
Next Sunday an announcement is to be made that will be of much interest to all who have at heart the welfare of the parish, especially those who were here when the beginnings of the work were made.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. Rev.
George C. Sauer, pastor; residence, 13 Cedar; telephone, 123.11. Services are maintained throughout the summer at the usual hours: Sunday 10.45 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.; with Bible school at 12 o'clock.
Mid-week service on Thursday at 7.30.
Sunday, August 1st, the pastor speaks on "If I Were Twenty-one Again, What Would I Do?" There will be the observance of the Lord's Supper at this service and the reception of new members. Special music.

At the evening service the theme will be "Pictures of the Buffalo Convention." The music will be led by an orchestra.
The public is cordially invited to these inspiring services. Last Sunday the soloist was Emory White, tenor of New York, a former Belfast boy. Mr. White's singing gave great pleasure to the many friends present. The selections were very beautiful and rendered with the perfection of tone and expression.

NORTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
Rev. A. C. Elliott, pastor; parsonage, 26 High street; telephone, 157.4. Morning worship at 10.45. Church school at noon.
Evening service at 7.30. Mid-week service Thursday at 7.30. A large congregation of former parishioners and friends gathered in the North church last Sunday to hear a sermon by the Rev. George S.
Mills of Bennington, Vt., a former pastor who during his pastorate in this city won the love and esteem of the entire community. The subject dealt with by Mr.
Mills was "The Profits of Religion," which he handled in a very able manner, and from which he drew many practical and valuable lessons. Next Sunday morning a "Flower Service" will be held in the North Church, when the pastor, Rev. A.
C. Elliott will preach. His sermon topic will be "Lessons from the Lily." Soloist, Mrs. Leroy Paul, organist, Miss Amy Stoddard. Members of the parish are requested to send plants and flowers to the vestry on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of decorating the church. Let all lovers of flowers and the beautiful in nature, plan to attend this service. There will certainly be a message for them.
Visitors are cordially invited to attend, and are assured of a warm welcome.

KNIGHT-ELLINGWOOD Arthur W. Knight of Monroe and Sadie E. Elingwood of Belfast were married July 20th at the Baptist parsonage in Camden by the Rev. Thomas M. Griffith. The single ring service was used.
After the ceremony the couple left at once for a short trip to Portland and other places of interest. They are now at their home in Monroe.

Community Chautauqua

Gave Belfast Five Days of Rare Enjoyment With Large Audiences and Fine Weather.

The fourth annual visit of Community Chautauqua was under the superintendency of Prof. John C. Moore of Blackstone, Va., and with the delightful little Miss Mary Cole of Warner, N.H., in charge of the Juniors. The former is at the head of a school of 600 boys and the latter is a professional teacher during the school year at her home town. Chautauqua is a real blessing to the country. Their large and airy tent makes an ideal auditorium and only the very best of talent is presented. The days of July 21st to 25th, inclusive, were profitable and pleasant for Belfast and surrounding towns. The local management was under the direction of a large committee with V. A.
Simmons chairman.

The five up-to-date lectures were all of the highest type and by bright, cultur-ed men, whom it was a pleasure to listen to and to meet socially. Dr. Alexander Cairns of Newark, N. J., has a national reputation as preacher and lecturer and his lecture on this occasion was a new one on the novel subject of "The Goose That Lays the Golden Eggs." He presented a skull and frequently referred to it in discussing on the mind or brain as the "Goose" in question. It was in reality a sermon, but it was filled with the most wholesome truths and accented with witty stories that caused frequent and hearty laughs.

Harold Peaver of England was substituted for Percy Allen, who was unable to be present. Mr. Peaver, an expert naval engineer, spoke on "The Mysteries of the Deep" as it had been his privilege to see them in years of active service in England, particularly in the World War. The lecture contained many thoughts that had never reached the American press and pictures never reproduced except by the speaker. Mr. Peaver spoke moderately and with a dead in earnest manner.
He was a very favorable impression.

Dr. E. E. Violette, a native of Illinois, but a world traveler, who had visited at least forty countries of the world spoke on "Americanism, The Goal of History." He was a fascinating speaker and his chief charm was his innate and love for America. Every sentence was presented with a self-evident truth, if not new, it was given an added meaning by this eloquent man, who had seen and could impart his knowledge with word pictures. It was like a trip around the world with the ideals of our own country omnipresent. He was accompanied by his charming wife.

Mr. Louise L. McIntyre, a national authority on physical education, gave a most instructive and worth-while talk on "Keeping in Trim." She was a conspicuous example of the principles she desires to inculcate. If her instructions were followed they would mean better health and more happiness for all who hear her.

The lecture-concert by John Tobin of England on "Anglo-American Music," was as unusual as it was entertaining. It was a revelation even to music specialists. He played America four times to illustrate rhythm, melody, and harmony.
At one time he played three selections, Tipperary, Home, Sweet Home Suwanee River. His piano was one of the most pleasing features of the program.

The Fortune Hunter by Miss Maude Willis and Polly of the Circus by the Metropolitan Players were most enjoyable as presented by these well known versatile artists. Both selections were brimming full of wit and wisdom and a humane sentiment that held the closest attention of young and old.

The musical numbers were better than advertised and that is a rare thing. The Madrigals and the Venetian Serenaders gave popular and favorite numbers. The former added the interest of unusual instruments and the latter the novelty of their native costume and dance. It was for the Beacon Concert Company and The Cremonas to give genuine delight.
The Cremonas are young Boston artists and it is easy to predict what a great future is before their young tenor, Roy Cropper. The Cremonas are all from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. In their ensemble they were especially fine.
Their vocalist, Miss Margaret Perry was a general favorite. Their audience Sunday evening was the largest for the entire course and the most enthusiastic.

The Toyshop Pageant by Belfast girls and boys, under the direction of Miss Cole was received with the most favorable comment. Mrs. C. E. Read presided at the piano, Alvin Gray was the toy maker and Doris Collins, his little daughter, who had personified them with her childish love. Later she became willing to cash with them for the pleasure of poor children and they were sold to a charitable society with Gretchen Fletcher its president. The children were particularly fond of Miss Cole and enjoyed every hour of their play time. They hope to meet her next season.

About 375 course tickets have been subscribed for and Mr. Moore will turn in about two weeks to secure the guarantors.
