The Boys' Conference

250 Bright Boys of Waldo County in Attendance Holds its Second Session Here.

It was a pleasure to note the arrival of the boys of the Waldo County Boys' Conference, who arrived here on Friday of the 24th inst., accompanied by their leaders, and who were to spend the next few days in the city. The boys, who were from all parts of the county, were met at the station by a number of friends, and were taken to the hotel where they were to stay. The boys were all well and happy, and were looking forward to the conference with much interest.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

One of the most important meetings of the whole Conference was the mass meeting held in the Unitarian church Sunday afternoon, for men and boys of more than fourteen years of age. The meeting was opened by a short song service led by Jeff C. Smith of Waterville. Everyone joined in the singing of the "Building Song" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." Following this, the Scripture Lesson was read by Mark Shibles, the new president of the Conference, which was followed by a prayer, led by Mr. Frost. Mr. Morris L. Slugg then took charge of the meeting, in the absence of Mr. Hartshorn, and Rev. E. A. Pollard Jones of Waterville was introduced to the boys and men. He gave a splendid address, bringing in the three parts of the Y. M. C. A. motto, namely: (1) Mind, (2) Spirit, and (3) Body. Following this address, the boys who wished were to sign pledge cards accepting Christ as their leader, but unfortunately, the cards were not there and all boys so inclined made the pledge by quietly rising and standing during a short prayer by Rev. Jones. The meeting was then closed by singing that old hymn "America," with Mr. William L. Luce at the piano.

SUNDAY EVENING

The closing meeting of the conference was held Sunday evening at the Baptist church with a large audience of boys and interested friends present. Mark Shibles, the new president, very efficiently conducted the first part of the meeting, and Ermo Scott led the singing with great vim. A poem was read by David Moody and prayer offered by four of the boys. The resolutions committee reported, expressing the appreciation of the boys for all that had been done for them. The credential committee reported there were 193 boys and 22 leaders registered, making a total of 215. C. E. Frost presided at the second part of the meeting and presented Rev. E. A. Pollard Jones of Waterville, who presided from the text: "A man's life does not consist of the abundance of things which he possesses." He held the closest attention of the boys as he related the things which were and should be a man's life worth while. Jeff C. Smith of Waterville led the farewell meeting, calling on all the boys who had received a real inspiration to stand. Nearly all of them stood and Mr. Smith called on each one to tell in a few words just what he had got from the meetings, which they did, bringing out many helpful phases of these meetings. Mr. E. E. Roderick, the committee chairman, was called upon, who spoke in an appreciative and friendly way of the meetings. The decision cards were then passed around, and the meeting closed with a prayer by Rev. C. W. Martin. Music was furnished at this meeting by the chorus choir of the Baptist church, accompanied by three violins and the cornet played by Mr. Leroy Greene.

Notes.

Gov. Baxter brought with him as souvenirs of the occasion post cards of the State House, etc., and a fine photo of himself hearing his message. A fine line his father translated from the Persian language in an old book and had engraved on a tablet for his own home circle—the school children of Maine:

"Who learns and learns
Yet does not what he knows,
Is one who plows and plows,
But never sows."

The delegates had booklets of the programs, photos of the speakers and men on the various committees, of some of Belfast's principal buildings, of their special songs, etc., to take home as souvenirs. Anyone having any bills against the conference committee is requested to send same to Morris L. Slugg. Orlando E. Frost, one of the best friends the boys of Waldo County ever had and who was really the man responsible for starting the convention last year, and who has been for years interested in the Y. M. C. A. work, gave them an address Saturday morning at the Universalist church that will frequently occur to them as they complete their school work and enter upon their life work: "What a Boy Needs to Insure His Success in Business."

When the convention boys and leaders went from the Universalist church Saturday forenoon to the Custom House Square to have their group photo taken they occupied the sidewalk, and had three abreast, from the church to the post office. Not a loud word was spoken and only the tramp of feet was heard.

Saturday evening the session was held in the Methodist church with devotional services, followed by brief addresses by the delegates from each town on the subject, "What Kind of Leaders do We Boys Need?" This was followed by addresses by the leaders on "What Kind of Boys do We Leaders Need?"

Mr. Wren also sang in Northport and at the Centennial Celebration in Swanville on his former visits here. He met many of his former admirers, as he was a special guest at the Way Back ball Monday evening.

MAE MURRAY IN HER LATEST, "PEACOCK ALLEY"

With Mae Murray in the stellar role of "Peacock Alley," which comes to the Colonial Theatre today and tomorrow motion picture fans will have the opportunity to see this beautiful star of stage and screen in one of the most elaborate of productions.

"Peacock Alley" presented by Robert Z. Leonard, is by Edmund Goulding based on a story by Ouida Bergere and is released by Metro Pictures Corporation for Tiffany Productions, Inc. The story of a Parisian dancer who falls in love with a small town American youth and finds her husband's people scandalized when she goes back to his home, resulting in the couple seeking their fortunes in New York, is one which gives Miss Murray unusual opportunity to appear in many gorgeous and artistic costumes among elaborate settings.

No advance in prices.

William Fox Sending His Biggest Production to this City.

"Queen of Sheba," a William Fox super-special which enjoyed a sensational run on Broadway, New York, is booked for the Colonial Theatre two days, starting Monday, June 5. It is described as a stupendous spectacle and a great love story. New York critics hailed it as one of the greatest photo-dramas ever produced. It showed to crowded houses throughout the run, until taken off to make way for another of the Fox specials. It is declared that the pageantry of "Queen of Sheba" is unsurpassed for magnificence on the screen, and that few such thrilling spectacles as the chariot race ever have been presented in motion pictures.

The filming of "Queen of Sheba" under the direction of J. Gordon Edwards took an entire year. Throughout the period a huge force of workers in many lines of endeavor was employed, and in addition every member of the Fox organization on the West Coast—actors, clerical workers, artisans and all—took a personal interest in the progress of the stupendous production and lent their aid to it. Tom Mix, for instance, volunteered his services in rendering the chariot race thoroughly realistic.

The construction of massive sets, the designing and making of the elaborate costumes, the perfecting of the dances, meant a vast deal of labor, and the difficulty in the way of completing the production on the scale originally planned seemed insuperable. They were overcome, however, and "Queen of Sheba" given to the screen.

Betty Blythe appears in the role of the Queen, Fritz Lieber, the noted Shakespearean actor, is King Solomon, and Clair de Lorez is Queen Amarah, wife of Solomon.

WALLACE R. TARBOX

Funeral services for Wallace Reed Tarbox were held Monday afternoon, May 15, at 3 o'clock at the Congregational church in his home town, Fryeburg. Dr. James F. Albion, pastor of the First Universalist church of Portland, and a friend of the deceased of long years' standing, and Rev. Edward Wilder, pastor of the Congregational church in Fryeburg, officiated. The church was filled with mourning friends from Portland, Brownfield, Denmark and Conway, as well as from Fryeburg. The floral tributes were both magnificent and abundant, mute testimonials to the esteem and love in which Mr. Tarbox was held by a wide acquaintance. Several hymns were rendered by a ladies' quartette, including "Lead Kindly Light," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Dr. Albion's tribute to Mr. Tarbox's memory was a masterpiece and as those who knew him best attested, all so true and merited. To know Wallace Tarbox was to love him. Mr. Tarbox's wide business territory brought him in contact with many people and his reputation for honorable dealing and integrity of character, together with his genial sunny disposition, won for him friends wherever he went. Mr. Tarbox's name will ever remain among his friends a cherished memory as among those, who benefited by some of the many kind deeds he loved to do. His was a rare nature, kindly, benevolent, lovable. The world is better for his living and his passing is sorely mourned. Mr. Tarbox was survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Reardon Tarbox, whom he married in Belfast, which was her home, 30 years ago. Mrs. Tarbox has held many prominent offices in the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, both in the State and National bodies. Wherever she went, Mr. Tarbox accompanied her and no service was too great or too small for him to render to the organization in which his wife was so deeply interested. Mr. and Mrs. Tarbox were intensely devoted to each other and their hosts of friends extend to the bereaved widow their tender sympathy in her hour of grievous sorrow.
