Miss Austin and Miss Loveland Hostesses.

Mrs. Blair's audiences, although all at first, steadily increased in size, testifying to the capability and charm of the speaker. PRIZE WINNERS IN BIG CONTEST TO BE ANNOUNCED

Promptly at 8 o'clock last night the big salesmanship campaign which has been conducted by the News during the last five weeks, came to a close. The judges, J. H. Haughton, C. E. O'Connor and J. C. McCrocklin, were present when the last return was made and the polls closed. Immediately thereafter the records were turned over to the judges, who are now engaged in auditing the returns for the purpose of announcing the prize winners. This announcement, with the total vote of each contestant will be published in the News tomorrow afternoon.

The contest was conducted exactly as outlined five weeks ago. There was no deviation from the rules published at that time. Every candidate was on the same footing, and while the returns in dollars and cents to the News was hardly sufficient to pay for the prizes the publishers are entirely satisfied, for it gives to the News a power which is worth more than dollars and cents—circulation.

While the relative standing of the contestants has changed but little since the standings were published two weeks ago, all added much to their total of ballots before the wind up, and yesterday was the busiest period they have had.

RED HAIR YAUER TICKET AT JOHNNY JONES SHOWS

Every dog has his day, and apparently every red headed girl does too. Her day has arrived. All this week Maybell B. Mack has an attraction with the Johnny J. Jones Exposition, called "The Mule Circus." The orator is a pretty red headed girl known as Helen Sunshine. It's birthday week and in honor of the event Miss Mack is offering admittance free to the performances to all girls with red hair. Your hair is your ticket. War tax payable in real money.

In addition to the free admittance for red haired girls Ed. R. Salter is offering a prize of $5 to the girl with the reddest hair. Those who care to enter the contest will leave their names at the box office with the cashier.

So you see what is does to some girls to have a nice crop of red hair. Also, it pays to advertise. If you get the prize—who can tell what might happen?

Ancestors are a great consolation to people who don't amount to anything.

BEER WITH KICK TO BE AVAILABLE ON PRESCRIPTION

By James T. Kolbert.
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, March 24—Real prohibition beer with a kick is being held to the lips of the "ailing citizen" but it may prove a herculean task to tilt the bottle.

Principal provisions of the regulations carrying into effect the ruling of Attorney General Palmer that manufacture and sale of beer as medicine is not illegal, were learned by the United Press today. They are in brief:

That a doctor may prescribe four and seven eighths gallons of beer for each ailing patient every thirty days.

That a doctor must find good and sufficient reasons for prescribing beer; that he must not prescribe the maximum oftener than every thirty days, but he is not limited as to the number of patients for whom he may prescribe.

That manufacture of real beer cannot be carried on in the same plants used for manufacture of near beer—the kind containing less than one-half of one percent of alcohol.

Get It Through Druggists
That breweries may sell only to wholesale druggists, who in turn sell to retail druggists who must have permits to deal in real beer.

Even these technical restrictions are not all that is preventing the tipping of the bottle. There is a political difficulty incident to the recent change in administration.

The regulations as outlined were drawn under the direction of Internal Revenue Commissioner William M. Williams, a Democratic appointee. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon must approve them and it is said he is reluctant to do so, until they are reviewed by a Republican internal revenue commissioner. President Harding has let it be known he will not hurry about appointing a commissioner.

The new commissioner, when he takes office, may approve the present tentative regulations or he may order new ones drawn up. In either case the operation may take some time and then Mellon's approval must be secured. All this probably will take a month or more.

Expensive to Breweries.

There are about 100 breweries now in operation, according to Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti Saloon League. Wheeler declared that few of these would engage in the manufacture of real beer because the cumbersome regulations, heavy taxes they will have to pay and the limited field in which they can operate, will make brewing unprofitable.

Even under the Palmer ruling, Wheeler said, beer can be sold in only ten states—Maine, Rhode Island, Maryland, Connecticut, Ohio, New York, California, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Louisiana. Other states have state prohibition laws which forbid beer manufacture and beer cannot be transported into these states.

Despite Wheeler's predictions, numerous breweries have made inquiry concerning the new regulations and have indicated their intention to make "medicine" as soon as they are given the word by issuance of the new regulations.

LOCAL VOCALISTS TO LEAD SING ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Palatka is going to sing under the direction of local leaders at the community sing to be held next Sunday afternoon. Announcement to this effect was made by the music committee of Palatka Community Service today. Among the large group of townspeople who are learning song leading at the Community Service's institute, there are many who show unusual ability, it is said, and from this number several will be selected to take part in the program of the next city-wide sing.

Committee members stated today that plans for the big musical event are going ahead without a hitch and that indications now are that the affair to be held in the auditorium of the Mellon school next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, will be one of the best community music programs that has ever been held in this city.

It is the purpose of the music committee of Palatka Community Service to list all musical talent of this city so that it may be brought to all people. Emerson Stone who is here in the interest of community music said today that he sees "no reason why Palatka shouldn't have a community music program that would compare favorably with that of any city this size." "The interest is here and the talent is here," he said. "I've been in many cities of this size within the last year and I may frankly say that I have seen none where a greater interest in music is manifest. You have your public school music and I want to say right here that there are few cities very few cities, under 10,000 population where so god singing may be heard in the schools. Then, there is the church music. There is really no reason why all the city should not partake of the joy of this music. In the city there are many vocal and instrumental soloists of ability and I understand that there are one or two creditable musical organizations. Why not bring all of these together and get everyone into the pleasure of good music? There is nothing finer in the vocal music line than a good community chorus. Again, there is the opportunity for a community band. I know, too, there is a good orchestra in the city."

The next meeting of the song leader class will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Women's Club. The class has out grown its quarters in the Mellon school. All townspeople are invited to the class meeting.

HARDING GLAD PACKERS' STRIKE FINALLY SETTLED

GOOD HEALTH HINTS

Oklahoma Farmer Gives Sound Advice on Avoiding Sickness.—Used Black-Draught 30 Years.

Cameron, Okla.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for about thirty years, and certainly ought to know by this time what a good medicine it is," says Mr. T. L. Bostler, a well-known farmer of this place. Mr. Bostler has passed his three-score-and-tenth year, but declares his health still is good, "and I can say Black-Draught did its part."

"Where there is a lot of malaria, a liver medicine is a necessity, and I have never found one better than Black-Draught," continues the Oklahoman. "It is one that I know to be reliable. I sure use it for the liver, stomach, constipation, indigestion, and it has done me a world of good. We use it for the family, and it gives satisfaction."

"Most trouble, or sickness, comes from the liver, and if taken in time can be avoided. That is why I use Black-Draught as I do. I am much pleased with results obtained."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It acts on the bowels, gently stimulating the liver, and helps increase the normal flow of bile into the intestines. It assists in the digestion of food, and relieves constipation in a prompt and natural way.

Ask your druggist for a package today. Insist on Theford's.
