PEACHES FIT IN MOST ANYWHERE IN YOUR PLANS

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Service Staff Writer

Peaches and cream—that's about the last word in fruit perfection. But for a change now and then, try peaches in some other way. For breakfast, try them and serve with crisp bacon and rolls. Use firm but ripe peaches. Cut in half and remove pits. Sprinkle lightly with salt and then roll in brown sugar. Fry them gently in hot bacon drippings. That's a new brand of breakfast surprise.

For luncheon, serve them baked. Use large peaches. Peel, cut in half, remove pits. Into each cavity, place a little butter, about 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 teaspoon lemon juice and a shake of cinnamon. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F. for about 15 or 20 minutes. Serve hot with cold cream.

Peach ice cream is rated as one of the best of all frozen desserts. Here are two recipes, one for the automatic refrigerator, one for the old-fashioned and ever popular hand freezer.

PEACH ICE CREAM FOR REFRIGERATOR TRAY

One and one-half cups fresh peach pulp, 1-3 cup (or more to taste) granulated sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup heavy cream, well whipped, 1-3 cup evaporated milk.

Sprinkle sugar over peach pulp and stand 10 minutes. Then add salt and lemon juice. Stir and stand 5 minutes. Combine gently the whipped cream and undiluted evaporated milk. Add to peach pulp mixture. Freeze in refrigerator tray until mushy. Remove from tray and scrape bottom and sides until smooth. Return to tray and freeze for 3 hours more.

PEACH ICE CREAM FOR HAND FREEZER

Three cups fresh peach pulp, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cups granulated sugar, 1-3 teaspoon almond extract 1 quart heavy cream, 1-1-3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Add salt to peach pulp. Sprinkle pulp with sugar, lemon juice and almond extract. Stand for about 10 minutes, stirring several times. Chill, then add cream (do not whip the cream). Freeze in hand freezer, using 3 parts ice to 1 part salt. Remove dasher, then pack salt for 2 hours in 4 parts ice and 1 part salt. This will ripen the ice cream and give it a smoother texture.

MONDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, crisp bacon with fried peaches, toast, coffee, milk. LUNCHEON: Frankfurter and vegetable salad, water-cress sandwiches, fruit cup, nut cookies, tea, milk. DINNER: Broiled steak, mashed potatoes, stuffed egg plant, lettuce and green pepper salad, peach ice cream, chocolate cake, coffee, milk. 3

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Slam Is Simple If You Take Time To Plan Your Play

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY "Is it better to underbid or overbid?" I was asked the other day. Both are faults, but to the beginner at contract, I would say, overbid slightly. If you get into some difficult contracts, it will teach you how to play the cards. If you make every contract easily, you won't learn the fine points of the game.

contract of six spades on today's hand. It is easy to miss the contract, but if you stop and think a bit, you can make it.

Win the opening lead with the king of clubs, then lead the king of hearts. Don't trump—discard one of your losers. West will win with the ace and return another club, which you win with the ace.

Lead a small trump and win in dummy with the ten-spot, cash the queen of hearts and discard another loser. Ruff a small heart, return a low trump, win in dummy with the jack and ruff another heart.

Pick up the outstanding trump, go over to dummy with the king of diamonds, and you can discard your last loser on the established heart.
