Churchill said the check, in the amount of $65,376, brought the total paid to date to $169,288. The entire system will cost $254,614, with the government supplying most of the funds.

The sewage improvements include new mains, laterals, a pumping station, and treating plant. Churchill reported that the contractors are making rapid headway, and that the project is approximately 65 per cent completed.

Special Mother's Day Music Is Planned Sunday At First Baptist

David F. Machtel, tenor soloist, the adult chorus of 40, and Henri Emurian, organist, all join in presenting special music at the morning and evening services at First Baptist Church, Fifth and Market streets, in commemoration of "Mother's Day." This appropriate music, honoring "Mother", will include beloved hymns and songs that have stood the test of time. Machtel, who will be soloist at both services, will render in the morning the powerful and dramatic poem "Mother O' Mine" by the late English bard, Rudyard Kipling, with a climactic musical setting by Frank E. Tours, epitomizing the boundless depths of "mother love." At the 8:00 o'clock service Mr. Machtel will sing the lyric melody by Antonin Dvorak "Songs My Mother Taught Me," which he dedicates to his own mother.

At the 11:00 a.m. service the adult chorus will sing "O Blessed Day of Motherhood" by Arthur Day. "O Happy Home," by Sir Joseph Barnby, will be the organ prelude at 10:45. Mr. Emurian will sing a verse of the same selection during the prelude. The offertory will be "My Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me," the gospel hymn which in its simplicity reflects a lofty sentiment that has touched many a wandering soul.

The evening organ meditation at 7:45 will include "Home Sweet Home" by Sir Henry Bishop, and "O Little Mother of Mine" by Harry T. Burleigh. Mr. Emurian will sing portions of each song during his improvisations. The offertory will be Brahms "Lullaby," that immortal melody of sweet lyric beauty. The evening congregational hymns will be "Memories of Mother" and "Tell Me the Old Old Story, of Jesus, and His Love."

CAUSE IS FOUND IN ROBBERY CASE
Two Negroes Are Bound Over To Superior Court Under $1,000 Bond

Probable cause was found in the case of two Negroes charged with having robbed T. H. Taylor, white man residing at 103 Morgan street, Maffitt Village, of $370 and a bill of sale for a trailer early last Tuesday morning and both were bound over to superior court for trial.

Judge S. E. Loftin presiding Friday in Recorder's Court set bond at $1,000 each.

The Negroes, Alice Mallette and Alexander Sumpter, are alleged to have robbed Taylor in the home of Bertha Mallette where he said he had gone for a drink of whiskey. Taylor declared he had the drink and "passed out." Just as he awakened, he said, and was putting on his shoes a stout Negro girl snatched his billfold from his hand and ran from the house. Meanwhile, a short heavy Negro man held him.

An argument involving five Negro men had its final inning in court yesterday. On February 10 Emmett Wade, fisherman residing at Sea Breeze Beach, was alleged to have shot at fishermen trespassing on his property. He was subsequently found not guilty. Wade then swore out warrants charging trespassing against George James, Walter Higgins, Ivory and Marian Bryant. Yesterday Judge Loftin found them not guilty.

Garland Freeman, Negro, was given 60 days on the county farm for stealing merchandise from Kress' store. Wm. Bellamy, Negro, charged with assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting of Willie McClammy, was given 30 days in jail and fined $25 and costs. Edgar Rowell was given 6 months suspended sentence on a charge of assault with deadly weapon and intent to kill. He was ordered to desist from entering the home of Ealin Johnson.

Eddie Lee Irving was taxed with costs on a charge of willful and malicious breaking of glass in the city streets. Faye Lanier, an escapee from the county farm, was given an additional 5 days to be added to her present term.

Artis Joye served notice of appeal to the Superior Court on a charge of vagrancy and violation of the liquor law. Bond was set at $500. John Harding, guilty of driving under the influence of intoxicants, was fined $50 and costs and his license revoked for one year.

Traffic cases included H. C. McDade and J. M. Gregg, loading zone violations, 1-3 set costs; Edmond Davis and Willie Huggins, no operators license, costs Dean Fulbright, speeding, $25 and costs; $15 remitted; Albert Wells and Jimmy Carter, speeding, $25 and costs; $10 remitted.

The following received sentences for being drunk: Earl Carpenter, $10 and costs, 20 days; Ruth Sikes, $10 and 10 days; Frank Harven, costs; and Frank Cooper, $5, costs and 15 days.
