The time of greatest danger to your storage battery is right now. Unless it is given proper care, winter's cold, icy weather will mean a costly repair bill or a new battery next spring.

Let us store your battery over the winter months. We are splendidly equipped to relieve you of all fuss and worry. Ample storage space and competent battery men assure you of the very utmost in battery service. And next spring when you want to get out on the road—your battery will be ready, with all the "kick" and "zip" you want.

Drive around today and let us examine your battery free, and tell you the kind of storage you should have.

You will be surprised how little this storage will cost you.
