THE STYLE OF RAIL

An Important Conference at the District Buildings, A delegation of the incorporators of the proposed Rock Creek Raffroad Company, composed of George Truesdall, Thomas E. Wag-gatean and D. K. Plain, had a conference today with Engineer Commissioner Raymond and his assistant, Captain Symons, regarding the form of rail to be adapted for the road.

the form of rall to be adapted for the road.

The Commissioners are resolved to have the best grooved rails used on all future roads.

The company had quite a display of samples of grooved rails in Cantain Symon's office, and the merits of each were detailed by the committee and an agent of the Johnson Company of Johnstown, Fa. Major Raymond promised to bring the matter before the board at the earliest possible moment.

Here are the lines that will make their best showing-better, we might add, than during any previous season thus early. There is a freshness, a piquancya brightness about them that is welcome and extremely pleasing to the eyes that have so long feasted on the dark-appearing fabrics of winter. They apprise us of the approach of a new season ere we can lay aside the apparel of the old.

tionalist Club was formed in this city last evening at Grand Army Hall. It has been in process of formation for some weeks, and has only just been completed by the adoption of a constitution and election of officers. These are: President, Rev. Alexander kent; vice-president, Dr. M. G. Kimball; secretary, M. A. Clancy, and treasurer, Ferdinand Schmidt. The purpose of the organization is the nationalization of all the industries of the country in a similar manner as the Postoffice is now carried on. This is to be accomplished by extending the principle of co-operation to its logical result, so that all the people can benefit from it, instead of a few, as business is now conducted.

The occasion of this movement is the recent publication of Mr. Edward Bellamy's book, "Looking Backward," in which is depicted a state of society under the operation of universal co-operation. The gentlemen and ladies—for the equal rights of both are recognized in the new Nationalist Club—who have joined in this movement, believe in the possibility of realizing the ideal of Mr. Bellamy's book, and are desirous of educating the people generally in the beneficial principles of coperation. This organization does not propose to antagonize, but rather to utilize present social and political organizations by uniting them upon a common ground and inducing them upon a common ground and inducing them upon a common ground and inducing them to act upon identical principles of action.
