A Fatal Accident.

Wednesday William Shangle was fatally injured in an accident that occurred just below the Rimrock on the Unbottown hill. He was hauling baled hay for the Burnham & Gribble commission house. He started from Lewiston early in the morning and expected to get back with his load about the middle of the afternoon. It was about 3 p. m. when he reached the top of the hill and 15 minutes later his mangled body was resting on the roadside while life ebbed away.

Geo. S. Hinkle who was bringing down a load of hay for the O. K. feed yard was about a half mile behind Mr. Shangle when the accident happened. He was at his side in 15 minutes and remained with him till his death. His account of the accident is as follows: "Shangle was driving down the grade with his foot in the brake rope when the brake block slipped out and the wagon lurched forward upon the wheel horses and the whole team started to run. Shangle jumped but the brake rope threw him back under the wagon on his face and the hind wheels passed over the small of his back crushing him." This is the story Mr. Shangle told to those who gathered about him. He lived about an hour and a half after the accident. Mr. Hinkle and others carried him to the roadside and brought water to bathe his head and quench his thirst. He suffered great pain but was conscious and talked freely about the accident and about his wife and children. He mourned greatly because he had to be taken from them leaving them among strangers and alone. He was free from pain for the half hour preceding his death and the end came easily and quietly.

The deceased is the son of William Shangle, of Cassia county, Idaho, a very prominent cattleman of that section of the state, and he has only been here about two months. The father was coming here in a few weeks and together they were expecting to locate their cattle upon some of the ranges here. The wife of the deceased and four small children are in the city. They live in one of the small houses along the dike.

Coroner Strong visited the scene of the accident directly after the news reached town and brought the body to the city. It now lies in his undertaking rooms awaiting news from the father who was telegraphed the particulars of his son's sad death.

Latest War News.

Yesterday's dispatches brought very little news from the war centers. There was a rumor to the effect that Manila had surrendered to the Americans for fear of falling into the hands of the insurgents. At Santiago the fleets still continue the bombardment, following up the advantage gained by Hobson's famous deed of daring, of which a full account is given elsewhere. Tomorrow General Shafter and 27,000 troops will land on Cuba—infantry, cavalry and artillery. These will co-operate with the fleet and the insurgents for the immediate occupation of Santiago de Cuba.

Arrangements Perfected.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the Fourth of July are making rapid progress with the work. Fully $750 has been already subscribed to the fund. The committee on fireworks has ordered from San Francisco an assortment of set pieces with rockets, showers, and all accompanying display valued at $500. These will in all probability be displayed from the island in Snake river while the crowd view the splendid scene from the brow of the hill. The athletic sports will be well represented with prizes that will tempt the best contestants in the country. A grand bowery dance continuing throughout the day will be another feature of the program. The general committee will have another meeting tonight.

Council Proceedings.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday night two ordinances were passed one in answer to a petition for closing certain business houses on Sunday and the other reducing the license on wash houses.

The petition for closing business houses was circulated by the clerks and it had received the signature of nearly every merchant in the city. This is practically the same ordinance that the ladies of Lewiston sought to have passed some months ago and its passage at this time is probably due to their silent influence, which as it nears election time is becoming a more potent factor. The ordinance will be in effect Sunday, June 19, but some of the merchants will begin next Sunday to observe the obligations imposed.

OREGON GOES RÉPUBLICAN.

Monday's Election Defeated Free Silver Fusion and Resulted in a Glorious Victory.

The state election in Oregon Monday resulted in a victory for the republicans. The completed returns will give the republicans the state by nearly 10,000 plurality. T. T. Geer will be the next governor. Tongue, republican, carried the first district by about 2500 and Moody, republican, received over 5000 plurality in the second district.

The legislature is republican by 44 majority on joint ballot which will insure the election of a republican United States senator to fill the vacancy now existing. The legislature will stand as follows: Senate—republicans, 44; opposition, 16. House—republicans, 68; opposition, 22. In the city of Portland W. S. Mason, republican, was elected mayor by 2500.

Governor Jno. R. Tanner, of Illinois, and a party of Chicago capitalists arrived in the city Tuesday evening direct from Warrens where they have been examining some mining properties. They own the Iola mine in that camp. The party came by private car to Weiser and went into Warrens over that route and returned via Lewiston to Riparia where their car will be to meet them. The capitalists of the party were Jno. W. Gates, president of the Illinois Steel Co., Wm. Palmer, vice-president and Jno. A. Drake, treasurer of the Illinois & Indiana Railway. All members of the party have the highest praise for the great mineral regions of Idaho that they inspected.

Miss Galloway entertained the normal seniors last Sunday by giving them a straw ride. The 17 grave seniors with their teacher as chaperon, perched upon a rackload of new mown hay made a tour of the town and drove into the country to enjoy an elegant picnic lunch some where in the suburbs. The class yell was very much in evidence in the musical part of the program.

Tuesday the first floor of the new Vollmer block gave way under the strain of several carloads of merchandise and the entire north part of the floor with its load was crushed into the cellar. The wreckage was cleared away Tuesday night, and a new floor was put in and more securely braced than formerly. The damage done was comparatively light.

J. M. Harrington is seriously ill with nervous prostration.

The second ordinance amended the ordinance licensing wash houses; hitherto they have paid $8 per quarter but under the amended ordinance they will pay but $2.50 per quarter. The petitioners asked for a specific reduction in favor of the Soper steam laundry but the attorney decided that no discriminations would be legal and that the only thing to do would be to make a reduction on all wash houses. This was done.

The treasurer's report showed $3746.95 on hand from last month, $863.22 received, $3844.66 disbursed, and $765.51 on hand at the close of the month.

The marshal reported 16 arrests, 5 horses and 7 cows impounded and licenses collected to the amount of $127.78. Street Commissioner Miller gave his final figures on the cost of the work on Main street. He says that it cost $575 to complete 343 feet of the work or an average of $1.71 per linear foot.

Following are the bills allowed: Jno P. Roos $50; Wm Denny $10; TELLER $7.70; Tribune $7.70; J. P. Roos $7.50; L. J. Hornaday $35; J. W. Poe $25; Light Co. $110; J. N. Sharrah $80.50; J. N. Carved With a Cleaver.

On Sunday, R. S. Deebury, a waiter in the Royal Restaurant in a fight with James Shekappo, struck him with a cleaver on the side of the head inflicting a frightful wound. Shekappo and some companions ordered breakfast which was served them. The others paid for their meals and retired to the lodging room. Shekappo refused to pay, and in the altercation that followed is said to have made a movement as if threatening to draw a revolver. Deebury seized a cleaver and struck the Indian down. Later Deebury was arrested for assault with intent to commit murder. He was placed under $2000 bonds. The preliminary hearing was held before Justice Hornaday yesterday and the arguments of counsel will be heard at 2 p. m. today. Lane, Brown & Green appearing for the prosecution and S. L. McFarland for the defense.

Mrs. R. C. Beach returned Wednesday from her visit to Oregon.

Blowing

Doesn't make a steady blaze of business unless you have a mighty good thing to blow about. Our agency for Chase & Sanborn's Teas and Coffees makes us leaders in Lewiston, as Chase & Sanborn lead the United States in the Coffee and Tea business. We could have never built up our trade on any but Chase & Sanborn's importations. The sales on Teas and Coffees have more than doubled in the past month, which shows that a good thing is appreciated.
