There was an old woman who called her family to her bed side and said she was dying from the burden of her troubles. The family was surprised and they pressed the old martyr to tell the cause of such acute sorrow. She said: "My children, the troubles that are killing me are the troubles that never happened." The anti-imperialists should profit by this example.

Dubois, measured by his public utterances, has long been recognized as a Bryanite pure and simple. It does not surprise anybody to hear this fact proclaimed from the floor of a democratic convention, but to have the scheme of masqued leadership revealed is a surprise. It must be humiliating to the silver republicans to the announcement that they are duped made public. The fact is there are no more silver republicans. The Bryanites have absorbed the democratic element of this party and the other element has returned home to the grand old parent party.
