Panhandle and were not on sale. A large portion of today's offerings consisted of stock steers, which found ready sale. There were a few common cows and heifers that sold at good prices for the quality. Some of the local butchers are wanting good to choice butcher stuff very much, and are willing to pay all it is worth.

Seek halls and very not consider the stuff very mich, and are willing to pay all it is worth. and are willing to pay all it is worth. Stock bulls and stock steers in good de-mand. Thin cows and helfers dull and

The supply of hogs was liberal and the quality is better than last week as there are not so much thin, rough stuff coming in. The market opened about steady at yesterday's top price, $3.60, although early advices from eastern markets noted a weak feeling. By noon the market developed considerable weakness and by 3 o'clock sales were made 10 cents below the opening price. Atternoon advices from Kansas City reported the market fully 10 cents lower and getting worse. The sales-men here could not get a bid on several cars of hogs which arrived about 4 o'clock and consequently they had to be car-There was a very unsettled feeling at the close.

We wish to say just a word to cattle paisers and shippers regarding misleading things in the Kansas City live stock pawould think to look over the list of repre-pers. They seldom make any report of made on thin and half fat cattle, and one sentative sales that everything sold well when the truth of the matter is the low sales are not given and the only parties who know anything about them are the shippers and salesmen. Such things certainly would work against the interest of this market, and the commission men here wish the matter explained so shippers will understand it.

Often a shipper has come in here with being satisfied with the prices offered here has gone on to Kansas City and sold them for less money, beside being out that much more on time and expense. In shipping your cattle don't forget to give your home narket a fair trial.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

City Union Ticket office 12! North Main street, and Union Depot, Duglas avenue.

House Joint Resolution No. 5. oint Resolution No. 5, proposing an amend-o sections three and twenty-five of article ment to sections the constitution of the constitution of the constitution is it resolved by the legislature of the state of Kan as a two-thirds of the members elected to each sa, two-thirds of the members elected to each house thereof concurring therein. Secrems 1. The following proposition to amend a constitution of the state of Kansas is hereby fundthed to the qualified electors of the size for self-approval or rejection, namely. That section are arrive two, be succeeded by the same and read as follows. Section 3. The members of the cleanaring shall receive as compensation for electronic states.

Approved March 1, 1859.
I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and carrest copy of the original entmined resolution now in site in mr office, and that the same took effect by notationing in the statute book May Teb, 189, 60.
WillLIAM HIGGINS, Secretary of State.

Approximal February Z. 1988.

I knowly negrify that the foregoing is a true and ordered copy of the original empirical resolution news in the in my effect, and that the same took effect by s private named Williams, and from our very first battle he used to declare:

"Boys, the rebs will never mold a bul 630 PM 740 AM let to kill me." It-seemed as if there was something in it, for while almost every other man in his company got a scratch now and then, and every fight reduced the roll call, he never was hit. At Fredericksburg he stood for five minutes alone, with the men on the right and left shot down, and yet he wasn't hurt. We got around to Spottsylvania at last, and only the day before that fight he cracked his beels together, uttered a crow, 100 A.M and said: "Boys, we shall have a fight to-morrow E50 A 36 100 A 36 and I'll bet ten to one I don't got hit."

Next day about 10 o'clock we were ad-955 P W vanced in support of some Ohio troops 1135 AM 1215 PM which were hard pressed, and just as we swung into position the Confederates opened on us with solid shot. The very 640 AM first ball I saw come our way bounde 130 P W along the ground and hit Williams on the two w the left thigh with an awful thud. His hip was smashed to a pulp and he hadn't five minutes to live. Two of us moved him a few feet, propped his head up, and then, as I put his canteen in his hands, I said:

"Poor oldsboy! We thought you had charmed life, but they've hit you at last. "Yes, I'm done for," he replied, as he drank off half the contents of the canteen; but, you see, I was figuring on bullets, and the cussed rebs have gone and worked in solid shot on me!"-New York Sun.

ROXANA DARNING SOCKS.

I like to watch her sitting there, The lamp light on her jetty hair.

The queen upon it all my own.

Her slippers peep out just below On feet that sure forgot to grow.

And wife Rozana is so sweet In plain bome dress that's always nect.

Her hands are dimpled, warm and white and always busy still at night.

And when I feel upon my brow Their touch, I in quick homage bow,

She is so gentle, good and kind, And to my faults so strangely blind.

As slow the old farm clock tick-tocks.

The lump light on her jetty hair.

Houses in places otherwise, unexceptionable are often so closely overhung with trees as to be in a state of humidity by the prevention of a free circulation of air and a free admission of the sun's rays. Trees growing against the walls of houses and shrubs in confined places near dwellings are injurious also as favoring humidity At the proper distance, on the other hand, trees are favorable to health. On this principle, says Dr. James Clark, it may be understood how the inhabitants of one house suffer from rheumatism, headache, dyspepsis, nervous affections and other coasequences of living in a confined, humid at-mosphere, while their nearest neighbors, whose houses are otherwise situated, en joy good health; and even now one side of a large building fully exposed to the sun and a free circulation of air may be healthy, while the other side overlooking shaded courts or gardens is unhealthy. Humid, confined situations, subject to great alternations of temperature between day and night, engender the most danger-ous of all the physical qualities of the air, and humidity in general is the most in-jurious to human life. Dryness, with a free circulation of air and a full exposure of the sun, are the material things to be attended to in choosing a residence.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Teachers and Gentle Voices. That "excellent thing in woman"-and in man, also, when in the school roomteacher and taught alike. Few teachers influence can be measured by the quality no excuse for the bard, sharp, rasping tone, so common as to be usually reckened one of the characteristics of a "school among the most unruly children. The law of similia, similibus curantur does not hold good in such a case. Screaming and shout-ing at children is to make demons even of little angels, and they must be angelic in-deed who can escape such a transformation. The teacher should know how to make distinctness serve in place of force, to the end of sparing her own throat and the nerves of her pupils -- Caroline B. Le

The Growth of Yachting. The number of yachte which change hands in the course of a year is larger than most people have any idea of. Though the commissions charged are small, the yacht agency is a legrative dusiness. One agency in this city occupies the entire floor of a building in a crowded down town business street. "Vested interests" is a phrase fra-quently heard in yachting circles, and one has only to look over the books of a yacht agency to see that this parase means a

A person unfamiliar with yachting would be astonished at the great amount of wealth invested in yachta in America. It is to be estimated not by hundreds of thousands, but by millions. Each year the "vested interests" increase, and the necessary, purely business transactions attached to them grow also .- New York Tribune.

The laburers of the blacksmith Zhurav-leff, of Riev, found a comical bomb and They knew what the thing was, but they thought it was not charged, because they had found it lying about freely. To make it several times in the fire and it did not explode. Hereupen they fitted it up as an anvil. But as soon as they tried to forge a piece of iron on it it exploded with tremendous force, tors off the roof of the building and souttered the walls. the explosion tended upward above the beads of the workingmen, and only three of them were alightly wounded by flying fragments.—Chicago Heraid.
