PUNAHOU OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON WITH RECORD VICTORY OVER CO. B

Collegians Pile Up 66 Points While Soldiers Strive in Vain to Carry the Pigskin Over the Line - 'Sleepy' Baldwin Accomplishes Five Touchdowns

By HOWARD CASE.

Oahu College 66, Fort Shafter 0. Just two minutes after the Fort Shafter eleven kicked off to Oahu College in the opening quarter of the initial football game of the season on Alexander Field Saturday afternoon, Harry Baldwin, the speedy Punahou left halfback, took the pigskin on the collegians' second down and ran 30 yards through a clear field for a touchdown. Stafford Austin, the Bull and Blue right end, kicked a pretty goal, and the score stood 7 to 0. Then followed a slaughter unparalleled in the annals of local gridiron history. Taking the advantage of their more unexperienced opponents in every stage of the game, the Punahou men executed touchdown after touchdown, never once allowing the soldiers to get within their danger line, and when time was called at the close of the final quarter, the college boys had piled up 66 points against the infantrymen's nil.

Here is how they did it: Harry Baldwin secured the first touchdown with little or no trouble, and Stafford Austin kicked goal, score, 7 to 0. Seven minutes after this coup, the Punahou men advanced to the Soldiers' 10-yard line and Harry sent across for his second touchdown, Austin kicking goal; score, 14 to 0. The Puns kicked to the Soldiers, and when the latter attempted a punt from their 5-yard line, Allan Renton, the O. C. right tackle, rushed through and blocked it, secured the ball and carried it over the line for a score. Austin failing to kick goal from a difficult position, the tally stood 20 to 0 at the end of the first quarter. Brief play followed this.

The second quarter started off with the ball in Punahou's possession on the Soldiers' 20-yard line. On the first down, Harry Baldwin took the leather and, with another clear field, rushed over the line for the fourth touchdown: Austin once more kicked goal and the score stood 27 to 0 in favor of O. C. The collegians kicked off to the Shafter men, this being followed by scrimmage in the center of the field. On their last down the Soldiers punted; the ball being received by Ernest Baldwin, who carried it for 10 yards before he was downed. This brought the Puns to within 20 yards of the Soldiers' goal, and on the second down, the ball was slipped to Ernest Baldwin, the O. C. right halfback, who covered the distance for a touchdown with apparent ease. Austin failed to kick goal and the score stood 33 to 0. The collegians once more gave the Soldiers the benefit of receiving the kick, but they soon recovered the ball on a fumble by the Shafter men. The Puns forced their way into the Soldiers' territory and once more Harry Baldwin was given the leather, carrying it 25 yards for a touchdown. There being no goal kicked by Austin, the score stood 39 to 0. The Soldiers kicked to the Puns and Bill Inman, the O. C. captain, who ever wears a smile, took the sphere on the 30-yard line. After ma-down Ernest Baldwin ripped off two yards of this distance, and on the second, Menoher, back in the game as quarterback, took the pigskin the remaining 13 yards for a touchdown. Austin kicked goal, making the score 66 to 0. The Puns kicked to the Soldiers, who immediately lost the ball on downs, being pushed back two and three yards at a time. The Puns recovered a good pass, which gave them a gain, and between the backs they advanced until within 20 yards of the army's gain, and between the backs they advanced until within 20 yards of the army's line. The ball was given to Ernest Baldwin on the second down, he carrying it over the line for the last touchdown of the game. Austin failed to boot the leather between the uprights, leaving the score 66 to 0 in favor of Punahou.

The foregoing is a brief account, with the details left out of how Punahou won the game. There is little use in saying more, but credit must be given the Soldiers from the standpoint that they at least tried. Lack of practice and of a competent coach are probably the main reasons for their overwhelming defeat. They were weak on defense and offense; there was absolutely no field management; there was no team play and a great lack of interference. This may be overlooked, however, through the Soldiers' inexperience. Three of the army players, Connery, Dunn and Bosworth, did the greater part of the work, while Bosworth and Ember deserve mention. One of the big weak spots in the Soldiers' line was in the center, for time and again George McInerny, the Punahou center, shot across the line and had tackled the Army's quarter before he even had time to pass the ball to his backs. With steady practice and with a good coach to show them the best points of the game Company B team could without doubt be worked into a strong eleven. The members of the team have got and made, but they are sadly lacking in experience.

As for the Punahou team, those who saw the game know how they played. Every man on the squad, trained to the minute, did his best, as the score will show. Menoher is a find at quarterback, and his field generalship is abovepar. Harold Baldwin, the left halfback, has proved to be the fastest man on the team and he, with Ernest Baldwin and Gordon Brown, form a backfield combination that would be hard to beat anywhere. Stafford Austin demonstrated his ability as a goal kicker by materially adding to Saturday's score, and at end comes in for his share of the credit. In keeping with last year, Allan Renton, at right tackle, played a heady game, never once failing to bring his man to earth. The rest of the credit, and there is a lot of it, is equally divided among the other men on the line. However, the game was more or less a test contest, and it is now evident that the line-up which Oahu College will use in all coming games of the season.

Next game—Oahu College vs. High School, Oct. 18.

HAWAII FINISH THEIR SCHEDULE IN FIRST PLACE

Coast Defense and Stars Have Good Chance to Tie by Winning Next Sunday

Yesterday's Results. Stars 11, P. A. C. 4. Hawaii 8, Aaahi 4.

By winning a game yesterday while their nearest rivals enjoyed a day off, the Hawaii jumped into the lead of the Oahu League pennant race. Dave Deha's men are now through, but there is a good chance for a triple tie for first place, as the Coast Defense team and the Stars, tied in second place half a game behind, both figure to win Sunday's game.

This does apply only in case the Stars triple tie is thrown out of court. If any one of the points at issue is sustained, and the Star-Coast Defense game of a week ago ordered re-played, the entire situation would change. However, even if this game is played over, the Stars have but small chance to win it, as five of the soldier-players will be in the field for maneuvers. As things now stand, the Coast Defense crowd should beat the Portuguese, and the Stars the Aaahis. This would tie both winners with the Hawaii, with five games won and three lost in the second series, a percentage of .625.

The classic feature of yesterday's double header was that the audience won by half an inning in each contest. Only eight and a half frames were required, which was a real blessing, as the games were the poorest of the season in every respect. The 25th Infantry Stars played rings around the 25th Infantry Portuguese, in a sloppy and tiresome exhibition, and in the closer the Aaahis could hardly wait to take their places in the field before throwing the game away to the Hawaii. This latter game had interesting spots and there was some very nice baseball mixed in with a most indifferent brand. But two errorful innings spelled ruin for the Japanese team, the players booting the ball and throwing it to all corners of the lot. If some grand ball covered with chewing gum or glue, could be used in games played by the Aaahis, they would win often. Or Manager Abe might impose a fine every time a fielder threw in the general direction of a base. For the Aaahis take keen delight in peering at the atmospheric holes above the heads of the basemen. It was the accepted theory until recently that the infielders all had hereditary enemies in both the right and left field bleachers, and that the throws which caused the spectators to duck were delivered with intent to bean. But this supposition has been discarded of late, as the air lane 40 feet above second base, where there are no hostile tribesmen, has proved a very popular target for Aaahi players.

Comedy of Errors. The Aaahis made eight errors yesterday, and nearly every one of them figured directly in run getting, for with only five hits, the Hawaii chased eight men over the pan. C. Moriama opened the game, and this proved an unwise move, as the team seemed nervous behind him and played way below form. In this frame the first man up got a three-bagger, and three errors and a pass that followed, let in three runs. T. Moriama then took the slab, and held the opposition down to four hits for the remainder of the game. Another bunch of errors in the third let in three more runs, and the game was up the spout.

Barney Joy pitched a nice game for the Hawaii, and not only used his head, but also kept it. The opposition was ready to get his goat at any time, but he refused to aviate, although rapped pretty hard in spots, and fairly generous with passes.

The first game was a joke, so far as the alleged Portuguese team was concerned. The feature was the way that Captain Bushnell yanked men out of the game and off the mound, and the changes which he engineered in the hope of stemming the tide. La Mere was the first victim, for in the opening frame he let an easy pitch slide through his fingers, and was sent to the bench, Swinton coming in to catch and A. Joseph going to center. Scott started pitching but was hammered so hard that in the fourth Medeiros relieved him. Tony 'got his' and in the sixth Bushnell took the mound himself. In the meantime Filzer had been booting them around first, and he, too, was banished. F. Joseph taking his place. Willis pitched an effective game although he was touched up in the fifth and seventh innings.

H. S. F. B. PLAYERS SHOWING BENEFIT OF GOOD COACHING

Under the supervision of their coach, Evans, the gridiron men of the Honolulu School for Boys have developed a team that should be able to hold its own in the coming second team series. Last year the boys of this school had two teams but did not succeed in winning the championship. They are not discouraged in the least, and with the good spirit which they showed last year, are going to try harder than ever to capture the second team championship.

This year the boys will get good coaching, something which they sorely lacked last year. Coach Evans, who came from Vermont academy, will take over the work and should be able to improve the team considerably. Already the football men have benefited by his pointers and they say that they have learned many new things which they had never heard of before.

The team that the boys expect to turn out this year will be heavier than last year's, but not quite so fast. A number of veterans will be on this year's team and they should be able to strengthen it.

Cockitt was elected captain, and will hold down a position in the backfield. He is the fastest man on the squad and one of the best all-around players on the team. Among those who will be missed this year is Norey, last year's quarterback, who broke his jaw this summer and is under the care of a doctor.

Reed, who formerly played end, will play full this season, and May will probably take his old place. Some of those out for football are Cockitt, captain; Reed, Lake, May, Kula, Lee, Young, Pahau, Makalena, Kun Yee and Kam Mun.

PHILADELPHIA. — You would not recall Ed Collins if he was called Sullivan, but that's the name he played under when he first went with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1906. He played shortstop and third base that year in only six games, for he was a youngster, fresh from the captaincy of the Columbia college team. The next year he played in ten games for the Mackmen. At the beginning of his third season with the Athletics he became one of the regular infield lineup and has been one of that famous stone wall defense ever since. He has covered the second bag since 1909. Collins is one of the best hitters on the team, averaging well above .300. This year he is slamming the ball for .339, based on 120 games. He ranks first as the best run getter and fourth as the best base stealer in the American league. Watch his smoke in the world's series.

'Y' NET MEN START TODAY

Play in the Y. M. C. A. novice tennis tournament will be started this afternoon, on the association courts, corner Hotel and Richards streets. The drawings, which were made last Saturday afternoon, and the schedule of matches, follow: Purvis vs. Rath (winner to play Cross), Watt vs. Oss, Worrall vs. Horne, Larimer vs. Zurbuchen, Edgewood vs. Ricker, Graham vs. Fitts, Whitaker vs. Schmutzler, Beardmore vs. Cramp (winner to play Gear).

Monday's Matches. 4:30 p.m.—Whitaker vs. Schmutzler. 4:45 p.m.—Purvis vs. Rath. 5:00 p.m.—Beardmore vs. Cramp. Tuesday's Matches. 4 p.m.—Larimer vs. Zurbuchen; Graham vs. Fitts. 5 p.m.—Watt vs. O. 48-hole match over the Lellehua links. The teams are to consist of seven men on a side. The match will probably be played on Sunday, Oct. 12. The players from Schofield who are expected to participate are Colonel Campbell from headquarters, Major E. V. Smith, Captain B. H. Watkins, Captain C. S. Lincoln, Captain F. M. Hinkle, Lieut. George E. Turner and Captain Robert McCleave or Lieut. L. O. Mathews. The Schofield Barracks players have recently received strong reinforcement in the persons of Lieut. H. E. Naylor and E. E. Pritchett of the 1st Field Artillery. Both are excellent golfers and Lieut. Naylor is probably the player of highest class in the army stationed on Oahu. Evidently Schofield is figuring on reversing the result of the last three-match tourney when the town players downed them in the aggregate of individual matches won.

SCHOFIELD FIGHT FANS NOW SEE DAYLIGHT

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Oct. 6.—The recent activity of Lieutenant Sherekjian, the manager of the Amusement hall enterprises, and his announcement of the very classy card for the October fight have entirely silenced the complaints of the fans that the local management has been lacking in enterprise. The card announced for the Honolulu bout this month, which announcement in the local press misled the garrison, would have been a splendid attraction if all the principals scheduled to appear had actually signed, but such it appears was not the case. Rufus Williams, the new star of the 25th Infantry ringmen, for one, told the city promoters that under no circumstances would he appear in Honolulu until he had fulfilled his agreement with Lieutenant Sherekjian, made some weeks before, so the announcement of the fight with Giles was premature, to say the least. While the unfortunate disability of Ward of the 25th, who was scheduled to appear with Williams in the main go, will necessitate the postponement of Williams' appearance here for at least one month, and perhaps two, he announces that he is entirely satisfied with the treatment of the local manager and will abide by his agreement giving Lieutenant Sherekjian first call on his services whenever he wants him. Nothing that Williams could have done or said would have done more to strengthen his hold on the favor of the fans here and it's an easy bet that Lieutenant Sherekjian will not forget his square stand in the matter. The fight between Donovan and Carlin is a very popular one here. Curiously enough, there seems little interest as to which man wins for they are both equally popular but there will be a rush for seats to see the meeting of the two for the fight offers the best matched pair on the

Punts and Passes

Harry Baldwin was surely the star of Saturday's game. The Shafter men were not able to get near him and his long runs for touchdowns were the subject of much comment. This is "Sleepy's" second year in football.

In Darrow Menoher, Punahou has a quarterback of no mean ability. Menoher played a star game against Shafter, proving his ability as a field general in many plays. He used his head and made a number of long end runs which netted the Oahus many yards.

Beside playing a fine game at end, Stafford Austin made his share of points through his clever goal kicking. He is a sure goal kicker and his misses are usually due to a flaw in the holding of the ball.

Two new men were put in at the end of the second half and some other changes were made. Kong took Bond's place at guard, Bond took Inman's place at tackle, Bertman took O'Dowda's at guard, O'Dowda took Austin's end, and Austin took Menoher's place at quarter.

O'Dowda and Pung were taken out after the third quarter, and Inman and Menoher again occupied their old places.

Inman received a painful blow below the heart during the game. Kenneth Bond, Punahou's 122-pound guard, was the smallest man on either team, but he played a star game and held his part of the line with the skill of a veteran.

O'Dowda made a nice catch when he caught the only successful pass of the game.

That score was a record breaker.

Never before has Oahu College fooled herself so badly. Saturday every man on the team went onto the field expecting to play the game of his life. They expected to win, but not so easily.

Under the inspiration of Cheer Leader Emory, the Punahouites used their voices to the best advantage.

Austin of Oahu College caught everything that came his way. He played end and his tackling was his strongest point.

George McInerny played a fine game at center. He broke through the soldiers in nearly every play and was always on to his job.

Gordon Brown made some pretty tackles and there was not a play that passed him.

The Shafter men played a clean game and proved to be good sports. They had the weight.

Bosworth played the best game of any man on the B Company team. He was not able to show his true merits as a quarterback because he was given such poor support.

A great many changes were made on the Shafter team during the game.

With a little hard practice and a competent coach, the Fort Shafter men should easily turn out a fast team.

island. The 2d infantry, which will be at the fight in force, is expected to be strong for Donovan, but either man's success will be acceptable to the local fans! "Bud" Roundtree made a great hit here last month not only by his clever work in his fight with Lynch, but by his clean, sportsmanlike behavior when he assisted his rival to untangle himself from the ropes and retired across the ring to allow him to recover himself. Not a spectator in the house that night failed to give the little coast defense man a cheer and the field artillery, many of whom had their money washed on Lynch, led the applause. If the reports from Manila about the prowess of "Bud" Walters are the correct dope, the fight between these two fast youngsters should be a hummer from the tap of the gong. Walters has traveled in some fast company in the Orient and claims the championship of the East in his weight, so the post fans, many of whom have formed an appreciative and admiring audience about Walter's improvised training quarters, are looking for something sensational in this bout. Pinkie Pastori, the tumbling wonder of the Field Artillery, who is so fast that he fairly eats up distances in baseball, basketball, soccer or any old game he attempts, is announced in one of the preliminaries and will draw a generous amount of applause. Nothing is known about Pinkie's punch, but like the Turkish corporal in Captain Stunenburg's immortal poem on the Balkan war "he sure is fierce for speed," and if Kid Stevens wants to hit him where he is he will have to master the art of hitting him where he ain't and of fighting under catch-as-catch-can rules. The second preliminary feature are two well known post favorites, Stout of the 1st Infantry and Billing of the Hospital Corps.
