

LOCALS

The March term of Circuit Court at Wailuku opens next Wednesday.

The Wailuku District Court has been quite busy this week disposing of pakaplo cases.

The road board is at work this week repairing the roads to Wahee and Maalaea Bay.

Send your orders to the News Job Office if you want prompt and satisfactory results.

This is mosquito season in Wailuku, and three varieties are busy at work in eight hour shifts.

Broken fragments of the komu storm are still drifting up from the southwest, giving Maui daily showers.

Notwithstanding the rough weather at Kihului, unloading of freight and the loading of sugar progresses rapidly.

The Japanese snow left town for Lahaina last Tuesday morning in a caravan of wagons furnished by the Iao Stables.

A gasoline automobile came spinning up the streets of Wailuku last Monday, and appeared quite at home in our lively little town.

An elaborate concert is being prepared to be held at Alexander House next Saturday evening, March 12. Save the date for the occasion.

Wailuku's 1st class Barber Shop. U. Luke U. Sea.

Mr. Lucas has the contract for the Lahainaluna School buildings, and will have the lumber on the ground next week. The work will be pushed to completion.

It begins to seem quite likely now that the new wholesale liquor store to be started in the Kepoikai building under the auspices of Peacock & Co. will fail to materialize.

As long as the town clock is silent, the Kindergarten at Alexander House will be opened according to railroad time. "Central" can give it to you over the telephone.

Authoritative letters from Honolulu state that the contract for the Wailuku schoolhouse was to be awarded early this week, and that it would probably be built of rubble stone.

FOR SALE—One Brunswick and Balke Standard Billiard Table and outfit. Almost new. Apply to M. McCANN, Lahaina.

A subscription paper was circulated in Wailuku this week to raise $150 for the purpose of repairing the tower of Kaahumanu Church, which has been damaged by the recent heavy winds.

The Ten Cent social at Alexander House last Saturday evening was a gratifying success, both in point of attendance and enjoyment. The socials are quite popular and will be given more often hereafter.

The hearing of the water right case of Lahaina between the Territory and the Pioneer Plantation has been postponed as it has been discovered that Commissioner Lyle A. Diekey is disqualified to sit in the case.

Superintendent Filler of the Kahului R. R. is making arrangements to run the tug "Leslie Baldwin" on regular trips up to Pump No. 1 along the Spreckelsville road, as that highway is now navigable for small steamers to the foothills.

The Kahului Store has remodeled its office department and considerably enlarged it, which makes a marked improvement. The office now presents an elegant and attractive appearance, as well as being more roomy and commodious.

An injunction suit has been filed in Honolulu by a disgruntled Hilo contractor to set aside the contract awarded to Lucas Bros. for the construction of the Lahainaluna school buildings, on the ground that the contract was irregularly awarded.

From the annual report of Manager Barkhausen of Pioneer Plantation, Lahaina, it appears that the successful mountain tunnelling for water at that plantation will eventually result in saving hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to the Plantation.

A petition is being circulated at Lahaina for a $100,000 wharf to deep water, to connect with the railroad from Wailuku to Lahaina. If, however, the wharf is not built until the railroad is in operation this generation will embark from Lahaina in row boats.

LAHAINA LINES.

While Presiding Elder Pearson was in town last week, he gave a lecture on "The War in the East." A large audience of Japanese, and a few Korean's listened with intense interest. The elder's remarks were interpreted into the Japanese and Korean languages. An impromptu map of the seat of war was specially prepared for this occasion.

Mr. Wilkins and his assistant carpenters are rapidly constructing the new building on the Government school grounds. The dimensions are as follows: length, 26 feet; width, 24 feet; height, 12 feet.

The Rev. Father Wendelin expects a visit from Bishop Libert at the end of the week.

Mr. Henry Dickerson has been somewhat indisposed for several days. Rev. T. Komuro translated an English book into Japanese last year, and he intends to translate another book shortly.

Reidar Olsen's birthday was celebrated by a very pleasant party on Feb. 26.

The U. S. Lighthouse Inspector will probably report in favor of building a lighthouse for Lahaina.

The funeral of Sylvia Viola, infant daughter of Robert Edsworth and Rose Cockett, took place at Lahaina Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

Band Benefit.

The love of music is inherent in almost every person and where there is a lack of an appreciation of the divine art, there is sure to be found some element that is antagonistic to higher culture and advanced civilization. In communities where there are no bands or singing societies it is a noticeable fact that people are unprogressive, devoid of refinement and live wholly on the physical plane, giving no heed to any of the arts and totally indifferent as to the outcome of the future. As soon as bands are organized in such places, the whole character of the people is changed and they feel that they have taken on a new lease of life.

The Wailuku Brass Band is an accomplished fact—they have given concerts and proved that the organization is not a whim, a fancy, but something permanent. Their progress has been marked, and shows what earnest effort and careful instruction can do.

The Band proposes during the coming year to give regular concerts, but wishes to appear as regularly organized bands appear—in uniform. For this reason, it is proposed that a Band Benefit be given at one of the halls of Wailuku, at which a small admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to go towards the purchasing of the uniforms.

The program will consist of band and orchestra selections, solos, etc, full details of which will appear shortly together with location of entertainment, price of admission, etc.

Concert at Alexander House.

It is expected that a concert will be given Saturday evening, March 12th at the Alexander House. Music will be rendered by an Hawaiian male quartette and by soloists and clubs of several nationalities upon instruments typical of the countries represented.

The proceeds are to be devoted to the insurance of Alexander House. Tickets for children under ten years of age, 15 cents, adults 35 cents. All members of Alexander House classes over ten years of age, who ask Misses Babb or Gay for tickets during the week will receive them for 25 cents.

Aluli Turned Down.

A day or so before Attorney-General Lorrin Andrews left for the Coast, he commissioned Attorney N. W. Aluli as Deputy for the Second Judicial District, to preside as such at the March term to be held at Wailuku. In pursuance of his appointment Mr. Aluli took up the Calendar, and had largely advanced the preliminary work.

On last Monday however, Deputy Attorney-General Peters, who by the way has no burning aloha for Maui, cancelled Aluli's appointment and issued a commission in lieu thereof to Attorney M. F. Prosser of Libue, Kauai, who will be in attendance on Circuit Court as Attorney-General.

Although Mr. Prosser is quite competent, still it is a source of chagrin to Mr. Aluli's friends on Maui that he should not have been allowed the honor of coming to his own home town as Deputy Attorney-General.

Company I, N. G. H.

Captain Hipa of Co. E, Honolulu arrived on Wednesday, and will spend three weeks on Maui, shaping up our military company for a visit from Lieutenant Newton, U. S. A., who is expected here on March 19. Since Capt. Hipa's arrival he has spent every evening drilling Co. I, and on Sunday the company will be taken out, probably to the sandhills, for an all day field drill.

Captain Hipa highly compliments Captain Bal and the officers of Co. I on their efficiency in evolution drill and the manual of arms, and predicts that Maui will have one of the banner companies of the battalion of National Guards.
