

Schedule Of Big Games

Carnival Committee Arranges Series
Between Six Baseball Clubs.

Tomorrow afternoon, if the weather permits, the second baseball game between the All-Maui nine and the "Next Best" bunch will be played on the Wailuku diamond. The representative team will loan a battery to the other outfit, and another close and exciting game, like that of Sunday last, should result.

The All-Maui team is getting plenty of practice, and there is no doubt that the team will be in the best possible condition when the curtain is rung up on the big carnival of February next.

The schedule of games that are to be played in the carnival series is now out. Six teams will compete and they are as follows: The Punahou Athletic Club, All-Maui, Hawaii, Oahu, Kauai and the Asahis. The first game will be played on February 14, and will be between All-Maui and the Punahou outfit. The second game—on the same day—will be put up by the Hawaii and Oahu nines. Punahou and Maui have met twice in the past, and each team has a win. It will be interesting to see how the teams will stack up on February 14.

The carnival committee is working hard to make a success of the Inter-Island series and there is no doubt that there will be some fine games played during the gay days next February.

The schedule of games is as follows: February 14—Punahou vs Maui; Hawaii vs Oahu. February 15—Maui vs Asahis; Oahu vs Kauai. February 16—Kauai vs Punahou. February 17—Maui vs Hawaii. February 18—Hawaii vs Kauai. February 20—Hawaii vs Punahou. February 22—Kauai vs Asahis; Oahu vs Maui. February 23—Maui vs Kauai; Asahis vs Hawaii. February 28—Punahou vs Asahis. March 1—Asahis vs Maui. March 7—Oahu vs Punahou. A fine trophy will go the winners of the championship of the Hawaiian Islands.

Promotionist Visits Maui

Sidney R. Jordan, of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee staff, was a visitor to Maui last week. He came up on a flying trip and, before leaving for Honolulu, was shown over a good deal of the island. W. H. Field took the Oahu man up Iao Valley and right to the tableland. Mr. Jordan was delighted with the scenery, and declared that even he, though in touch with the scenic attractions of the islands, had no idea that there was anything as beautiful as Iao Valley. The Needle claimed much of the visitor's attention and he said that the pinnacle is a wonderful sight. Mr. Jordan was also taken over Paia and Puunene way, and he remarked that the Maui roads are better than most of the streets of Honolulu. He had nothing but praise for the roads and wished that something of the sort existed on Oahu.

About seven years ago Mr. Jordan was on Maui for a trip, and it astounded him to see the progress that has been made at Kahului, Wailuku and the surrounding districts since he was here last.

Man Drowned While Fishing

Hawaiian Lost Life Near Power House—Warm When Found.

Through an unfortunate accident on the beach, near the power house of the Electric Light Company, a young Hawaiian man was drowned at half-past eight on Thursday morning. The unfortunate's body was recovered about twenty minutes after the man had disappeared from sight and every effort was made to revive life. A hurry call to the police station brought the automobile to the beach, and the corpse was taken to the Malulani Hospital, where further efforts were made to resuscitate the man. All was in vain, and life was pronounced to be extinct. An inquest was held, and the jury returned a verdict that Mokuhalii, the Hawaiian, had met his death through accidental drowning.

It appears that the man and some other men went fishing from the beach and that Mokuhalii went too far out in the breakers, which were running very high. He was seen to lose his footing and to be overthrown by the waves. The undertow, evidently, then caught him and he disappeared from the sight of his companions.

The alarm was turned in to the police station and the Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff raced down to the scene of the accident. In a few minutes the body was found, and, as it was still warm, it was thought that there was a chance of saving the man's life. By the time the hospital was reached, however, life was extinct and nothing could be done to save the man.

Well Known Men Sick

County Attorney D. H. Case is rather seriously ill in Honolulu. He was to have been operated on last Monday but, owing to a bad cold and weakness, the operation could not be performed.

Mr. Case has been advised to take a rest of a couple of weeks before submitting to the surgeons' knife, and he and his wife are now living at the Atherton home in Nuuanu Avenue.

R. A. Wadsworth, of this town, is also in Honolulu for medical treatment, and may also have to undergo an operation. This news was received by the last mail. All Wailuku wishes the two well known men a speedy recovery from their sickness.

Rice Cup Tennis Final

Down at Puunene the Rice Cup tennis tournament is still going strong, and the finals are to be played this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Collins and Lindsay are to meet Young and Engle, and a good match should result.

During the week, the Paia pair, Rice and Rosecrans, were defeated by Young and Engle, after a five set match. The score was, 10-8, 0-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, and the winners surprised even their most ardent admirers.

The tournament has been a great success and the deciding match this afternoon should draw a big crowd of tennis fans to the Puunene courts.

PINKHAM'S ARRIVAL IS AWAITED WITH INTEREST

"Home Buying" Crusade Does Not Convince Some People—How a Hilo Man Made Much Money—
J. P. Cooke Says, "Keep Up Fight."

(Special Correspondence.)

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—Well, the lightning has struck where a good many thought it would, and still not a few believed it would miss. Pinkham is governor of Hawaii and there is said to be a rattling among the bones of some of the office holders. In The Advertiser on Sunday, or was it in the Star Bulletin on Saturday, Superintendent Caldwell is quoted as believing Governor Pinkham is just about right. I think Caldwell's appointment comes from the governor. There may be other active patriots who believe as Caldwell does. I talked with Mr. Waller on Saturday, just after the news came that the candidate had been confirmed by a vote of twenty-six to twenty-four. He expressed his surprise and said he had not, until he read the news, believed that Pinkham would get the plum. McCandless went further in a reported interview, and spoke as though the action of Wilson and the Senate was dead wrong. Mr. Tenney thinks Wilson lost the chance of his life in putting in a republican instead of a democrat and considers it, apparently, a weakening. All eyes are on the wharf at this time and the scene will shift in a few weeks to the capitol. Of course there is a belief that the new official will storm the camps of the enemy, and do what he can to get even for their retarding the confirmation as long as they did.

HOME BUYING

The question of "Home Buying" is still being kept before the public by way of advertisements and communications to the newspapers. Some of the latter are really interesting, more so than the advertisements, which simply invite the public to come and buy, and which fail to show the difference between coast value and local. A case was called to my attention the other day that shows the drift of things. A college class of approximately sixty students, decided to adopt a class pin. They sought prices and were quoted $3.60 each. This meant $216.00 for the bunch. The coast price for the same article, both shops to make them to order from furnished design, was $2.85, each, or $151, for the lot. The goods were bought from the coast dealer because the class thought it best to put the difference in money to other uses. Yesterday a member of the Hui Nalu showed me a "gold" medal he won at a meet last year in the harbor. The charm was a regulation A. A. U. medal, marked "10 K." which is supposed to indicate the purity. Around the edge of this ten karat gold medal the wash was wearing off, showing a silver base, the ten karat gold being merely in the plating that covered the silver. "Caveat Emptor" I said to myself, though the phrase has long gone out of use. Now is this the custom regarding competition medals, or is it merely a custom here in Honolulu where the high cost of living forbids the use of the real thing? The agitation on the subject of home buying is interesting, and is prolific of results not always in favor of the home merchant, as one of the communications in the Sunday Advertiser proves. The merchants seem to think they have a grievance that should be corrected and the public are under the impression that the merchants are the people to correct by way of lower prices. But mail order houses will exist until the sun grows cold, and their owners will continue to make money out of the people who buy

HOW SHALL WE MAKE SCHOOL INTERESTING?

(By O. T. Boardman.)

At the annual meeting of the Maui Teachers, the following interesting paper was read by Mr. O. T. Boardman, of Lahaina School:

The human mind is so constituted that, in order to remain fixed on one thing for any length of time, and to make lasting impressions, the subject must be attractive, must appeal to the mind, must be interesting. How often do we hear people say that they do not remember what the lecturer said or what the story was about because they were not interested in it. And the experience of each of us is the same. We listen attentively to and remember the things that are interesting to us, and our attention and the duration of the impressions on our minds are exactly in proportion to our interest in the subject.

Now, if this is true of adults, how much more is it true of children. How much of the listless air, how many of the mischievous pranks, and to what extent the retardation of pupils are due to lack of interest. I shall not attempt to say, but we do know that when a child is deeply interested in his work he is alert, has no time for pranks and wants to be at the head of his class.

From this point of view, and the best authorities agree that this is the correct point of view, it seems to me that it is of paramount importance for a teacher to study how to make the school tasks interesting to the children. Some teachers think that in order to make school work interesting it must be made easy. In their efforts to make the work easy they do what the pupils should do themselves. It is much easier for a teacher to do the hard work herself than to arouse the pupils' interest so that they will be eager to do it.

If a teacher wishes to interest her pupils she must give them something interesting in an interesting way. If a teacher has a listless don't-care air, the most interesting subject will fall on dull, listless ears; but if she is full of life and vim, the children will be wide awake and eager listeners. As the

Amateur Cuts Into Message

Paia Wireless Got Excited Over
Fancied "S. O. S."
Call.

There is an amateur wireless station somewhere near Paia, and the other day the operator caused much excitement when he caught what he thought was the "S. O. S." signal of distress from the oil-tanker Santa Maria. The vessel was some hours out from Kahului, on her way to Hilo, when the amateur wireless man began to cut in and listen to a message.

The amateur became excited and rang up Kahului, and gave out the information that the Santa Maria was in trouble of some sort. That telephone message stirred things up a lot, and the agents at Kahului began to start something in the way of rescue work.

In the meantime the professional wireless station at Lahaina was gotten into touch with by telephone, and Operator Ralston was asked to call the Santa Maria and see what was wrong. Ralston soon got the steamer and was informed that all was well on board, and that the messages sent out were ordinary business ones that had nothing to do with any pilikia. It then dawned on the Maui people that the amateur wireless operator had failed to read correctly some message sent out by the Santa Maria operator, and that he had fancied that he heard the "S. O. S." call which is so dreaded by all operators. There is a stiff fine for any amateur who butts in on regular messages.

Solons Order Bills Paid

When the county supervisors met this week in special session, they did nothing much except pass bills for payment and order the issuance of salary warrants. There was some difficulty in getting a quorum, as Drummond and Meyer did not put in an appearance. However, Supervisors Henning, Kalama and Lake got together on Wednesday, and transacted what business there was to be done.

It was decided to instruct the county clerk to write to Mrs. Foster and inform her that the position of District Nurse at Makawao is to be abolished on December 31.

The regular meeting of the supervisors will be held on Wednesday next and it is said that some important matters will be taken up.

M. L. Fund Meeting

On Wednesday evening last the Maui Loan Fund Commission held a meeting and talked over the Keokea reservoir matter. Contractor Howell was in attendance and stated that he could, in sixty days, finish the job of making the reservoir water tight. There has been some small trouble about the floor, but a new reinforced cement bottom is to be put in.

The commissioners also took up some other matters which were disposed of quickly. Messrs Pogue, Kalama and P. Cockett were at the meeting, but R. A. Wadsworth, who is at present in Honolulu, could not attend.

Some more important work will be undertaken as soon as funds are available, which should be before the end of the year.

Good, Close Ball Game

All-Maui Team Loans Battery and Is Then Defeated
4 to 3.

There was a great surprise wrought on the Wailuku diamond last Sunday, when the "Next Best" bunch of ball tossers took the scalp of the All-Maui team, to the tune of 4 to 3. That looks bad but, when it is explained that the All Maui boys loaned their battery to the "Rest", the defeat of the representative team is explained.

It was a great game and the big crowd of rooters that attended had the time of their lives. The score, after eleven innings of fight, tells the story pretty well. It was a game that kept the fans on their toes all the time, and one that every fan on Maui should have seen.

The interest taken in baseball on Maui is the admiration of all visitors to this island. The reason, in many people's opinion, is because the teams that make up the league, are from different districts and, consequently, each has its own following. That is a good stunt, and one that is not possible where several teams are formed from the same town or village.

On Sunday last, Manager Rice, of the All-Maui team, was on the ground. He watched closely the work of the men on both teams, and there may be some changes in the line-up made later on.

Five games in all are to be played between the All Maui team and the "Rest." These games will limber up the representative team, and get it into good shape for the games that will be played against a Honolulu aggregation, around about Christmas time.

The detailed score of Sunday's game follows:

Hypnotist Is Injured

Hypnotist Barnett, who has been showing on Maui for some time past, had a narrow escape the other night when he was slightly wounded on the top of the head by being hit by the missile that was fired from a rifle on the stage. The wound was a slight one, but could easily have been very dangerous, if a little lower.

Barnett was going through his stunt of allowing expert riflemen to fire at him. His stunt was to catch the bullets in his teeth. The act had been given several times in Wailuku by Barnett, and there never had been any trouble. On this occasion, however, the hypnotist was seen to flinch after the shot was fired. An examination showed that he had been hit on the top of the head.

The narrow escape from serious injury has not scared Barnett, and he is traveling all over Maui, doing the same stunt. He shows at Lahaina next week and is proceeding to Hana later on.

The new fixtures for the First National Bank of Wailuku, have arrived and are now installed. The effect is splendid and the bank looks like a metropolitan one. The tellers cages and the counters are models, and many favorable comments have been passed on the improved appearance of the bank interior.
