EFFECTS OF SECESSION IN FLORIDA.

A gentleman who arrived recently from Florida has called at the Times office, and furnished us with some interesting items of news. He corroborates the accounts that we have from time to time published in regard to public opinion at the South. Secession in Florida was not effected by the vote of the people; on the contrary, every effort was made to prevent an honest vote being taken. The Legislature, which directed that a Convention should be chosen, only allowed five days to intervene between the notice and the election. The consequence was, that the country people, who were opposed to secession, had no opportunity to vote, and the people of the towns had it all their own way. No one in Florida entertains a doubt that a majority of property holders are Union and conservative; for a proposition made in the Convention to allow only property-holders to vote, was not entertained for a moment. The secessionists of Florida are those who have everything to gain and nothing to lose; and, for the present, they rule supreme. As an instance of the spirit that prevails, it is related that a Floridian, within the last month, entered the store of a Northern man, and stabbed him four times, without any provocation whatever. Rushing out into the street, with the dripping weapon in his hand, he shouted, "This is the blood of G-d in Yankee; let us serve them all so!" For this brutal murder, the perpetrator was elected to the Florida Convention. Our informant, though himself an owner of negroes, and an advocate of the institution of slavery, was twice fired at for wearing a Union cockade. A man in Florida who openly professes loyalty to the Union is called an abolitionist, and is lucky if he escape being lynched.

The legitimate effects of secession have already made their appearance in Florida. Poor people are beginning to feel hungry. Pork is $1. Establishments which, a few weeks ago, had eight clerks, have now only one. Small towns which were thriving have been suddenly checked in their growth, and have a desolate appearance. All who can are making preparations to come North. Of course, no Northern-born people will willingly remain at the South after secession, for loyalty is still to them a moral obligation, and a word of some meaning. But there is nothing singular in the fact that every one, with any property to save, should be eager to reach some place where life and property can be secured to them. In Florida, proprietors have already been taxed $14 per head for their negro property, and negroes which sold for $1,100 each six months ago would not now fetch $500. When our informant left, there was nothing in the State Treasury; and there is every probability that secession will ultimately throw Florida back into a wilderness, and make the State a suitable domain for Seminole and Camanche.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Millidgeville Recorder thus states the account between Georgia and the United States:

	Dr.
United States to Georgia, for 32,000,000 acres of the public domain in the common Territories at 50 cents	$16,000,000
For shares of other public property	20,000,000
Total shares of Georgia	36,000,000

JUDGE STORY CAN'T BE SECKED FROM.—A queer scene took place last week in the Court of Quarter Sessions, S. C., Judge Monroe presiding. The Attorney General, Mr. Miles, proposed to quote an opinion on an important legal point from Chief Justice Story. The counsel for the prisoner, Mr. Wilkinson and Col. Simons, thought there was an important adjudication on that point made by a judge in their own State. The Attorney General said that he thought the opinions of Judge Story entitled to weight, though he was a United States judge. Judge Monroe, in deciding, thought they could not precede from the legal opinions of Judge Story, any more than from those of Lord Eldon. The Mr. Wilkinson here mentioned is the law partner of C. G. Memminger.

PRECIOUS METAL PRODUCTIONS.—The value of the production of precious metals, per annum, in different countries, is as follows: United States, $30,000,000; Great Britain, $10,000,000; Russia, $2,500,000; France, $15,000,000; Austria, $2,500,000; Prussia, $20,000,000; Belgium, $10,000,000; Spain, $7,500,000; Sweden and Norway, $5,000,000; Saxony, $1,500,000; Italy, $2,500,000; Switzerland, $390,000; Australia itself produces $1,250,000; Mexico and Chili, $45,000,000; the rest of South America, $7,500,000. According to these figures, the annual precious metal crop of Europe, America, and Australia, approximates $380,000,000.

The Lagrange (Ga.) Reporter of the 25th says: "The deed is done! Our rights are not secured! We have been fied and drummed—and voted out of the Union. We still love the Union. We love our old Government, because it was established by the strong arms and the blood of our true men as the world ever saw. We never did have any war to make on the Government, but always regarded it as our revolutionary inheritance bequeathed to us by our revolutionary fathers, and we have adored this Union of the States, because that Union was formed and cemented by their blood. We were given them up to our enemies! We have now left the sacred chambers of our fathers to the desecration and pollution of our enemies. The action of Georgia may be right, and—it may be wrong."

A stupor practical joke was played at Philadelphia on Thursday. The coroner was notified to hold an inquest on the body of an unknown man, who had been frozen to death, and a crowd of prominent citizens were informed that the body of a friend was lying at a certain public house. On going there, it was found to be a man modeled in snow.

National Republican.

VOL. I. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1861. No. 61.

A grand jury down South ignored a bill against a huge negro for stealing chickens, and before discharging him from custody, the judge had him stand reprimanded; he concluded as follows: "You may go now, John, but (shaking his finger at him) let me warn you never to appear here again." John, with delight beaming in his eyes, and with a broad grin displaying a beautiful row of ivory, replied, "I wouldn't bin here this time, judge, only the constable he fotch me."

ROMAN STATISTICS.—Official documents just published at Rome, supply the following statistics respecting that city for the year 1860: "The number of parish churches is stated to be 54; families, 37,708; bishops, 34; priests, 1,417; monks and friars, 2,390; nuns, 2,031; students in ecclesiastical seminaries and colleges, 886; residents in the apostolic palaces, 884. The total number of inhabitants in 1860 was 184,049, of whom, 96,293 were males, and 87,756 females, showing an increase of 1,464 on the preceding year. The ratio of births to the whole population was 1 to 28; of deaths, 1 to 29; of marriages, 1 to 129. The Jewish population, which is not included in the above, numbers 4,468 persons, of whom 2,248 are male, and 2,220 females."

CELESTIAL IGNORANCE.—After Prince Kung, next brother to the traditional "brother of the Sun and Moon," had signed the treaty with Great Britain, he paid a visit to Lord Elgin, attired in a satin robe, with the Imperial dragon embroidered in gold on the skirt, and smaller animals of the same denomination creeping over his breast, shoulders, and back. After imbibing some Heidsieck he became chatty, and confessed, that until the present visit of the English the Chinese did not know that India was a province of Great Britain; and that he, in common with his countrymen, had believed that England was so small an island that half of the population were compelled to live in ships.

CARDINAL WISEMAN AND THE POPE.—At the same time that Mr. Heuser, M. P., pledged the Catholics of Great Britain to pay a yearly tribute of one million Roman dollars to his Holiness, Cardinal Wiseman, in a letter to the Holy Father, expressed his sorrow that in spite of his utmost exertions to exact contributions, he met with poor success. The Cardinal further states, that while he receives from all persons assurances that they will maintain the spiritual authority of the head of the church, yet the utmost repugnance is manifested to pay money to be expended in armaments to continue the political thraldom of Italy. The Cardinal also expresses the opinion that, in the present melancholy position of affairs, it would conduce to the best interests of his Holiness, were he to come to an understanding with Victor Emanuel.

In olden times, women were prevented from marrying until they had span a set of bed furniture, and hence they were called spinsters until they were married.

School Marm—"Thomas, what does b e n c h spell?"

Tommy—"Don't know, Ma'am."

School Marm—"Why, you little numskull, what are you sitting on?"

Tommy, (looking sheepish)—"I d-o-n't like to tell!"

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Burch are to come together again, and that it was on that account that further prosecution was abandoned. Mr. Corning is said to have acquiesced in the arrangement, it being satisfactory to Mrs. Burch.

Rev. Dr. Porter, Chelsea, (Tenn.) has discovered that a superior quality of gas can be made of cotton seed, with the addition of a little rosin. His church and dwelling are lit up with it at a trifling cost. The gas is prepared by a simple process.

A SERVANT STARVED TO DEATH.—Mr. R. D. Mitchell, a retired naval surgeon, living in Henley, England, has been committed for trial for starving his female servant, named Clark, to death. She was removed from his residence to the workhouse in a state of horrid filth, and so reduced by starvation that, though twenty-four years old, she weighed only fifty pounds.

The effect of the intensely cold weather upon the lions and tigers, in the London Zoological Gardens, has been very severe. The magnificent Nubian lion, which has been twelve years in the Gardens, was found dead in the morning, having been perfectly well the afternoon before; a post mortem examination showed that he died absolutely of cold. His mate gave birth, two days after, to a still-born cub, accelerated by grief for the loss of her mate. Notwithstanding the great care taken, there has been a large mortality among tropical birds, monkeys, and antelopes. The hippopotami are the only tropical animals which have been unaffected by the cold.

DESCRIPTION OF LOVE.—Love is like the devil, because it torments; like heaven, because it wraps the soul in bliss; like salt, because it is refreshing; like paper, because it often sets one on fire; like sugar, because it is sweet; like a rope, because it is often the death of a man; like a prison, because it makes a man miserable; like wine, because he is here to-day and gone to-morrow; like a woman, because there is no getting rid of her; like a ship, because it guides one to the wished-for port; like a will-o'-th'-wisp, because it often leads one into a bog; like a fierce courser, because it often runs away with one; like the bite of a mad dog or the kiss of a pretty woman, because they both make a man run mad; like a goose, because it is silly; like a rabbit, because there is nothing like it. In a word, it is like a ghost, because it is like everything; and like nothing, often talked about, but never seen, touched, nor understood.

The other day an agent of the New York and Erie Railroad Company was putting up one of the finely illuminated cards of the road in the office of the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, when a fire-eater came up, saying: "The New York and Erie railroad! Yes! Through broad gauge route! Yes! Let's see, I think New York gave about fifty thousand majority for Lincoln," saying which, he gave the card two or three kicks, of course destroying it. The agent mildly remonstrated, but a crowd soon collected, and the landlord informed him it would not be safe for him to remain longer in the house. He collected his baggage, and left the city as speedily as possible.

PROSPECTUS OF THE WEEKLY NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December, 1860.
The undersigned have commenced the publication, in this city, of a weekly newspaper, called the National Republican.
It is printed on a large sheet, 27 by 42 inches, and is furnished at the low prices stated below. It will contain all the original matter of the daily National Republican, with the exception of local news not interesting to country subscribers. It will give full reports of the proceedings of Congress, and of the other departments of the National Government.

It will contain all the news of the day, foreign and domestic, markets, &c., &c., as well as an original correspondence from all parts of the country. The miscellaneous department will receive special attention, and, in all respects, the effort will be made to establish the character of the National Republican as a FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

In politics, the paper will be Republican, sustaining the incoming Administration of Mr. Lincoln, but disclaiming, however, any pretension to be the organ of the President elect. There is no other Republican paper in the District of Columbia, or in the vicinity of it, and it is believed that recent events have opened to such a paper an important sphere of useful effort. The time has come, when the actual administration of the Government upon Republican principles will expel the misrepresentations which have made those principles so distasteful to the South.

But it is not only here, and in this vicinity, that the projects of the National Republican hope to make it useful. To the whole country they offer a journal which will discuss national politics from a national standpoint, and which will never be swayed from patriotic duty by any overpowering pressure of local interest.
