RUBBER AND CAPSINE.

There is scarcely a branch of human industry in which India Rubber has not in some form found its way. Although widely known and used, but few are aware of its medicinal virtues and great curative properties. Practical experiment has proven that it is a natural reservoir of electricity, containing more than any known substance or compound. Owing to this fact it has been used with success in curing nervous complaints and rheumatism that were invulnerable to drugs.

It has also been discovered that India Rubber possesses all the properties valuable as a specific for Pulmonary complaints and curative in many forms of Consumption and Lung disease. Combined with Capsine it is unparalleled as a Pain Reliever, whether external or internal. Nearly all the Surgeons have adopted it on account of its great healing properties.

The most effectual way of using the article is in the form of a perforated plaster. The adhesive use of ordinary Plaster is, therefore, a Plaster, is a testimony to its merit. The only objection ever found with the ordinary Rubber Plaster is that it does not slowly—requiring days and continuous wear to relieve pain or to effect a cure.

A celebrated Physician of New York, who has long made the medicinal properties of Rubber a study has succeeded in making great improvement in the Plaster by introducing Capsine, which overcomes all the former objections, causing the Plaster to do in a few moments or hours what it formerly required days or weeks.

Capsine is the most valuable ingredient ever used as an external remedy. It operates with astonishing vigor and relieves pain immediately. Its curative properties have become so famous that an enterprising Dr. of New York took it in hand, and by bringing Capsine into the attention of Physicians, have met with unqualified success. The article is known as BENSON'S CAPSINE PLASTER. The price is the same as the ordinary Plaster, 25 cents. Every Druggist has them.

 APPLETON'S JOURNAL appears in new type and with other mechanical improvements, making it the handsomest weekly journal in the country. APPLETON'S JOURNAL aims to be comprehensive, including in its plan all branches of literature, and treating all subjects of interest to intelligent readers; its designs to be elevated in taste and pure in tone; it gives in quantity five times per cent more than the largest of the Monthly Magazines, while in quality its literature is of the highest.

Price, $4 per Annum; 10 Cts. a Number.
 Special Announcement.
 The Publishers have procured, exclusively for subscribers to APPLETON'S JOURNAL, a splendid steel engraving of which is offered, under special terms, to every subscriber in advance to four for 1876.
"Charles Dickens in his Study,"

This steel engraving is in line and stipple. It is not a fancy picture, but an actual representation of Charles Dickens's study at Gadshill, while the portrait of the distinguished author is strikingly faithful.

The size of the plate is 20x24, printed on heavy plate paper 24x30, making a large and handsome engraving for the parlor or library wall. The execution of the plate is of a superior order.

The ordinary price of a steel engraving of this character in the print-shops would not be less than five, and perhaps six dollars. It is offered exclusively to subscribers in addition to the JOURNAL for one year, for $3—that is, for $1.00 additional each yearly advance subscriber to the JOURNAL for 1876 may receive a superb engraving worth fully five times the amount. This engraving is entirely new. It has never been for sale in the print-shops, and cannot be obtained except in connection with APPLETON'S JOURNAL upon the terms and conditions given above. It will be mailed to subscribers postage prepaid.

PRIVATE SECRETARIES.

A Scene in Washington in Other Days.
 From the Boston Journal.
 General Babcock, Private Secretary to the President, has been summoned to the White House having been summoned to St. Louis, President Grant is sending his executive communications to Congress by his second son, Mr. U. S. Grant, Jr. Seeing this young man crossing the Rotunda yesterday afternoon with a message from his father, the President in his hand, it was remembered of an incident which occurred before my day, but which was narrated to me by an eye witness. John Quincy Adams had as private secretary his oldest son, John Adams; a young man who possessed the irritable temper of his family without their temperate habits. One evening Mr. Russell Jarvis, who then edited the Telegraph, an anti Adams paper in this city, attended a "drawing room" at the White House, escorting his wife and a party of her relatives from Boston, who were here on a visit. Mr. Jarvis having first ascertained from Mr. Stetson that it was Mr. John Adams who had insulted them.

The next week Mr. Jarvis sent a note to Mr. John Adams, demanding an explanation, by a friend of his, Mr. McLean. Mr. Adams said that he had no apology to make to Mr. Jarvis, and would not correspond with him, considering his political relations with the President, he had no right to be at the drawing room.

A week later Mr. John Adams went to the Capitol to deliver messages to each house of Congress. Having delivered that addressed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, he was crossing through the Rotunda toward the Senate, when he was overtaken by Mr. Jarvis, who pulled his nose and then slapped his face. A scuffle ensued, but they were soon parted by Mr. Dorsey, a Representative from Maryland.

President Adams notified Congress, in a special message, of the occurrence, and there was a select committee of investigation. Witnesses were examined and elaborate reports were drawn up, but neither the majority nor the minority recommended that any punishment be inflicted upon Mr. Jarvis.

Cause of Dull Times.
 Much talked of redemption act—which ought to be called an act for postponing Redemption indefinitely—has been in force now one year, and the failures during that year foot up 7,740, with liabilities of $301,060,333, while in 1874 the failures were 5,880, with liabilities of $135,239,000. It was expected by his friends to accomplish two incompatible things—increase the volume of the currency and hasten specie payments, besides reviving business, but has done none of the three. It has resulted in the permanent retirement of $10,700,000 of legal tender, and of about $20,000,000 of bank notes, and the temporary withdrawal from circulation of some $10,000,000 more of legal tenders, a total contraction of $30,000,000. It has not brought the country any nearer specie payments, but by frightening capitalists away from investments, and increasing the disposition to hoard money, it has multiplied the embarrassments of business, with the result above recorded. Two years and a half have passed since the panic, and there ought to be a rapid and marked improvement in every branch of industry and trade. That there is not in great part due to the stupidity of Congress, in allowing itself to be controlled by the great capitalists of the seaboard cities, who are doubling their fortunes at the expense of the many.—Erle Observer.

BEANS IN A BARREL.
 The Lowell, Mass., "Courier" says: "One day last week a party in a wholesale country produce store in this city proposed a guessing match, in regard to the number of pea beans in a barrel of that vegetable. There were several grocers in the store, and their calculations varied from 40,000 to 45,000, all giving wild guesses. It was ascertained that there are about 560,000 pea beans in a full barrel; this result being obtained by counting the number of beans in a pound weight, and multiplying by the number of pounds in the barrel."

"This of course would give only an approximate number, as the figure for each pound will
