OUR COUNTY COURT.

The Dodson Trial—What Jimmy Jones says on Cross-Examination—The Consent for the Defense to Present and the State Officers equally soed—What the Jury know about the affair—The Prisoners Proving an Alibi.

NEW CASTLE, Dec. 10th, 1878.

The proceeding of court subsequent to those in our issue of yesterday, are as follows:
At the close of our last letter, we mentioned the discussion over the admission of evidence relating to the cause out of which grew the shooting of James Jones.
His honor, the Chief Justice, at the conclusion of that discussion said that the witness James Jones could not be used unless the defense wanted to take the risk of making him a witness for the defense.

Of course, to this the defense demurred, and the matter was finally settled by the defense promising to go so far in his examination of Jones, further, to wit: that the witness would not be used in proving the origination of the tales referred to.

The examination was again recommended.
"Mr. Jones," asked Mr. Gray, "why did you submit to the whipping?"

"Because they said I had 'id lies'— '88 up'—sternly interrupted the court, "we have forbidden you asking that question."

Mr. Lore—I ask you if you did not admit in the presence of Mrs. Dodson, Mrs.
Prettymann and Dora Dodson, that you had been lying?"

Attorney General—There now I don't answer that.

Turning to the court, Mr. Pennington said, "If the witness had told an infamous lie, that would not in any way justify the prisoner in the course he adopted."

The court assented to this and reiterated his former expression that the real question was whether the man had been brought to Delaware and shot by the prisoners.

Mr. Lore—The man James Jones has been brought here as a credible witness, cannot we show out of his own mouth that he is a confessed liar?"

Q. You may at the proper time.
If he has made contrary statements to different parties you may bring these witnesses to establish the question of veracity.

Mr. Gray—We also wish to show that the man Jones was not kidnapped and taken to Delaware to be slain; and we want to show that there was a reasonable cause for any action that followed.

The Court—If the man had told a lie of the most outrageous kind it would not justify the act of bringing him to Delaware to kill him, and I shall instruct the jury to that effect.

Examination was then continued.
Question. What kind of a night was it.

A. Answer. It was a cloudy night.
Q. Did you say that James Dodson was present when you went out in the waggon?

A. He was; he held the horses and opened the gate.
Q. You say that on your oath?

A. I do.
At the solicitation of counsel for the defense the examination was suspended, so that court might take a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court re-assembled at three o'clock.
At the instigation of the Attorney General the witnesses were all placed in an adjointing apartment, and their hearing any part of the testimony.

James Jones, re-called for cross-examination: The carriage left about seven o'clock; did not remember going by Chesterville; went by Locust Grove and head of Sassafras. When the carriage got into the middle of the road, Mr. Newcombe took me out and took me through the thicket; Mr. Vincent was behind me; Mr. Newcombe was the first one that fired; I was standing sideways to Mr.
Newcombe; they didn't untie me. I turned to Mr. Newcombe and said, you told me you were going to let me go when you brought me here." He said, "we came here to kill you and we are going to do it." They fired quick; when I came to consciousness Vincent was walking away from me and New-combe was undoing the ropes around my body. When Newcombe fired, the bullet struck me in the head; the bullet from Vincent's pistol went in my neck and is in there yet; I can feel it when I move my head. Newcombe was only about two feet from me; he clutched the rope around my neck with one hand and held the revolver. In the other he kept the door of the wagon open. I stopped, the man didn't fire at me; he told me to leave, and I did so, muttering to myself that I would find a house to stop at if I had to walk as far as Galena.

About three days ago I went with Mr.
Roberts and showed him where the spot was.

Andrew Cork, col., sworn: Live in Appoquinimink Hundred; know James Jones, have known him seven or eight years; I married his sister; he was never at my home at any time before the night of the shooting; he came there on Tuesday about three weeks since. It was three or four o'clock in the morning; he called me "uncle"; I had a tar lamp and pusher answered him from where I lay. I asked him who he was. He said I'm Jimmy Jones—I'm sick at the heart and my hands are numb. I hit a tar lamp and pushed it out of doors; I didn't put my head out. He came in; I didn't put the torch out; he came in all drawn up. I asked what was the matter with him. He told me to "case him down on a seat." I was brother down him down on a seat. I was most scared me or him. I was scared of gentlemen that's certain! [Laughter] I saw there was a little back where the blood was coming from. When he came in he said: "Oh, Lord, save me! I told him 'I couldn't save him. I told Mary Cork's sister he was shot; and I asked her
