

THE KING'S MOTTO.

A lover gave the wedding ring into the goldsmith's hand, "Give me," he said, "a tender thought Within the goldsmith's hand, The goldsmith gravely, With careful art— "Till death us part."

The wedding bell rang gladly out, The husband said, "O wife, Together we shall share the grief, The happiness of life. I give to thee My hand, my heart, Till death us part."

"Was she that lifted now his hand, (O, love, that this should be!) Then on it placed the golden band; And oh! how tenderly— "Till death us join, Lo, thou art mine And I am thine."

"And when death joins we never more Shall know an aching heart, The bridal of that better love Death has no power to part. That truth will live For thee and me, Eternity."

So up the hill and down the hill! Through fifty changing years, They shared each other's happiness, They dried each other's tears. Alas, Alas, That death's cold dart Such love can part.

But one sad day—the stand alone Beside his narrow bed; She drew the ring from off her hand, And to the goldsmith said: "Oh, man, who gravest With careful art, "Till death us part."

"Now grave four other words for me— "Till death us join." He took The precious golden band once more, With solemn, wistful look, And wrought with care For thee, my love, "Till death us join."

A Well Known Druggist.

My drug store was the first to sell Swift's Specific. It was then put up in quart bottles which sold for $5.00 each. I have seen a great many cases cured by its use, and some who had tried all sorts of treatment. In fact, I have never known it to fail when taken properly. I sell a large quantity of it, and for all diseases that are dependent on blood poison or skin humor. It cures PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES ON THE SKIN and makes the complexion fair and rosy. As for blood taint, there is no such word as fall. It cures cases that have long withstood other sorts of treatment, and without any of those recurring troubles that generally follow mercurial and other so-called cures. T. L. MASSABRO, MACON, GA.

A Curious Petrification. (Boths Ross (Gd.) Republican.) J. P. Stanley returned Friday from a trip to Hopland, Mendocino county. He brought with him a curiosity in the shape of a petrified pumpkin found in the neighborhood of that town. The story is that a farmer, some years ago, had a lot of pumpkins washed away by a freshet down a ravine, and for a number of years the pumpkins were observed where the water had lodged them, but no one had ever thought they had turned to stone. A few weeks ago a man was passing down the ravine, and picked up what he supposed to be a pumpkin, but to his great astonishment found, upon investigation that it was a boulder, and a very heavy one at that, and that the rest of the pumpkins, to the number of about 50, were also petrified. The specimen brought by Mr. Stanley is quite perfect, and is of a calcareous formation. It attracts much attention.

A YOUNG MAN'S CASE. Mr. S. S. Ho-gew, Jr., of No. 147 Park Street, Lewiston, Me., relates the following personal narrative, May 14, 1883: "About fifteen months since I had a severe attack of typhoid fever, was very lame, and confined to my bed for eleven weeks, and when the fever left me I was in a very debilitated condition. My back and loins seemed to have no strength, and I had no vitality or appetite. I tried various kinds of medicine recommended by my friends, but found they did not improve my condition. I was induced to try Hunt's Remedy which has been used with such great success here in Lewiston that it has a very enviable reputation of being a most reliable and specific remedy. I purchased one bottle, and can date my improved health from the time I commenced using it, and my progress continued very rapidly; I gained in strength, and experienced less pain in my back my appetite increased, and after using three (3) bottles my pains were all gone, and my health entirely restored, and I can most heartily recommend Hunt's Remedy to any who may need a true remedy for debility, kidney or urinary troubles."

A GOOD MECHANIC. Mr. L. J. Jones, of No. 10 Charles Street, Portland, Me., writes us these convincing facts: "May 11, 1883. I have for several years been troubled with liver complaint and indigestion, and have suffered at times terrible distress, and have tried many different cures, so called, that have been recommended from time to time. I one day noticed in one of our papers the testimonial of a person that had used Hunt's Remedy and been cured of diseases similar to mine. I purchased a bottle of one of our drug stores in Portland, and before I had used the first bottle found that I was improving beyond my expectation; have used in all six bottles, and I have no trouble from indigestion, no distress or pain in back as formerly had; and since I have been cured my wife has used it for kidney trouble and it has cured her. We can both say that Hunt's Remedy is a blessing to any that are troubled with kidney or liver diseases, or indigestion. We gladly recommend it to our friends or to any sufferers from liver or kidney diseases and you can use this letter as you may choose for the best interest of suffering humanity."

The above remedies are in use by the leading horsemen in the country, and as they are simple and safe any person may administer them to his horse and save a large doctor's fee. They will do all they are recommended to if the directions are followed and they are kept constantly on hand.

GENERAL CONDITION POWDER. This may be used as the very best treatment in Epizootic, Distemper, Swollen Glands and should be administered especially after a hard drive to prevent the animal from being feverish. It is indispensable in colds and coughs.

WORM POWDER. This is the only sure remedy ever used for those annoying pests. If the animal is so troubled they will be expelled in a very short time after the first administration, leaving the horse in excellent condition and the hair a lively color.

FOR FISTULA, SPRAINS, Tender Cords and a general Liniment. This is the best liniment in the world, and is used by Robert Bonner to-day in preference to any other.

FOR SPAVIN below the joint. A horse spavin can be removed and the hair restored in six weeks. A bog spavin can not be removed, the only relief to the animal is to give him a high heeled shoe. Wounds of every description can be healed by these remedies.

FOR THRUSH. By following the directions the lame horse can be relieved in three days, ready for use, and by attending to his feet twice a week and giving him a dry stall he will never be troubled again.

FOR GREASE AND SCRATCHES. This is now the only safe and sure remedy in use. If the disease involves the entire leg it will make a perfect cure; and will remove any skin disease on any part of the body.

FOR COLIC. This remedy is so convenient that the horse can be relieved without even taking him from the carriage if it be wind colic. If flatulent keep the horse quiet and in addition to the remedy give 3 or 4 tablespoonfuls of scalded flour and starch with 2 ounces of laudanum every 2 hours for 4 to 6 hours and if there are no other complications no horse need ever die with colic under his treatment.
