A Valuable FARM For Sale.

THE subscribers offer for sale that well known Farm, the residence of William Warner, situate on the Wilmington and Christiana turnpike road, about three quarters of a mile from Wilmington, containing about 170 acres of land in excellent order, of which there are 25 acres of woodland, about 57 acres of marsh, and the remainder upland under culture and grass.

The improvements on this farm embrace every thing that is necessary to comfort, convenience or utility, and consist of an elegant stone mansion house built a few years since, in the modern style, of the best materials and in the most convenient manner, two stories high, sixty feet in length by forty one in depth, with a piazza extending from the whole length of the house, and supported by columns from the roof. The situation of the house is high, fronting to the west, and commanding a fine view of that city, the river, the borough of Wilmington, Christiana creek, and the adjacent country. Contiguous to this house, are all the necessary out houses, most of which are newly new, consisting of a stable and carriage house, ice house, smoke house and bath house constantly filled from a copious spring of fine water. There is also a large garden in excellent order and the grounds around the house are handsomely laid out, and adorned with a number of fruit and ornamental trees.

The other improvements are a large and comfortable two story brick house for a tenant or overseer, a stone barn, stone spring house, stone poultry house, and other out houses, a pump of excellent water near the door, and a perpetual lime kiln for burning oyster shells.

On the farm there is a thriving apple orchard of about eight acres; also a young orchard of the best grafted fruits, consisting of peaches, pears, plums, cherries, and choice apples.

The above described property possesses every requisite either for a delightful residence or a profitable speculation. The improvements are elegant and convenient, and the land is in such a high state of cultivation that the purchaser cannot fail to obtain a handsome interest upon the purchase money, by leasing it to the share.

A tenant is now on the farm, Robert McArthur, who may be recommended as a manager whose industry, good conduct, integrity and skill in the various branches of agriculture, entitle him to every degree of confidence.

If it be desired, the mansion house with a competent portion of land will be sold separately from the farm, as it will admit of convenient division.

Possession of the mansion house, garden, young orchard and new improvements, will be given immediately, and of the residue of the farm on the 25th of March next.

The property will be shown by William Warner; the terms will be accommodating and made known by application to William Warner or the subscribers.

HAIR RESTORATIVE,

And Preservative Vegetable Cerate.

THE important discovery of a vegetable substance, capable of restoring and preserving the hair, was accidentally made by an individual, who has neither the capacity nor the disposition to practice deception or fraud. The fullest reliance may be placed on the efficacy and power of the Vegetable Cerate, not only in restoring and preventing the falling out of the hair, but in producing the greatest lustre and liveliness of it; and the public may rest assured that its effects will be clearly manifested in the course of a short time by the renewal and vigorous growth of the hair, and by effectually preventing its coming out or falling off. The Vegetable Cerate tends to re-energize and excite the energies of the capillary vessels, which constitute those organs that secrete the matter forming the hair; these, like many other organs of the animal body, which have been in a state of dormancy or disease, may be restored to their healthy action, and perform all those functions assigned them by nature.

The proprietor being aware of the numerous specifics palmed on the public, and desirous that the present article may not suffer, rests its merits on the effect it has produced on hundreds of persons, both male and female, and found to be the only thing in restoring and preventing the hair from coming out of the heads of those who have used it, and all that is asked, as it relates to the verity of its effect, is a fair trial.

Elderly people, with bald heads, must rest assured that by applying a few boxes of the above Cerate, their hair will be restored with all its youthful beauty and life.

To prevent imposition, the sale of the Vegetable Cerate will be confined to Dr. JAMES H. HART, for the City of New-York only, corner of Broadway and Chamber-st. three doors from Washington Hall, where it will be sold at $1 75.

A liberal deduction will be made to country dealers. N. B. Gentlemen that are bald, or are using it for some weeks, will find a small fibre of hair growing on the place that is bald; they will continue it for about ten days after its appearance, then they will shave their hair close off where it is affected, after that it will receive its natural and vigorous growth.

And those who have the misfortune of losing their hair by sickness, the Cerate will restore to them in a very little time a full and beautiful head of hair, as it is beyond all doubts that it is the only thing that has ever been discovered in this country, or perhaps in any other.

A few boxes of the above valuable article just received from New York, and for sale at the Watchman office.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR

In Familiar Lectures, accompanied by a Compendium, embracing a New Systematic Order of Parsing, Exercises in False Syntax, and a Key to the Exercises, designed for the use of private learners and schools; by Samuel Kirkham, Second Edition: Enlarged and much improved. Price 63 cts.

The following are extracts from a few of the many Recommendations prefixed to the work.
From the Rev. Mr. TODD, Principal of the Harrisburg Academy.
Having examined the first edition of Mr. S. Kirkham's English Grammar, with considerable attention, I have no hesitation in saying, that, in my opinion, it is among the best works of the kind with which I am acquainted.
NATHANIEL TODD.

Harrisburg, Nov. 8th, 1824.
Extract from a communication by Dr. Wm. RAFFERTY, President of St. John's College.
Dear Sir,—I have perused your "Grammar in familiar Lectures" with attention, and I feel a pleasure in assuring you that I think it the best, for initiating youth in a grammatical knowledge of the English language, that has ever been published. Wm. RAFFERTY, D. D.
Annapolis, April 12, 1824.

From Mr. JUNGSMANN, Principal of the Frederick Lutheran Academy.
Having carefully examined Mr. S. Kirkham's new system of English Grammar "in familiar Lectures," I am satisfied that the pre-eminent advantages it possesses over our common systems, will soon convince the public, that it is not one of those feeble efforts of quackery which have so often obtruded upon our notice. To say that the author has brought into a small compass, a greater number of important principles, disseminated of all unnecessary matter, than is comprised in almost any other elementary treatise on grammar, is not doing justice to the merits of his work. Its decided superiority over all other systems, consists in adapting the subject-matter to the capacity of the young learner, and the happy mode adopted of communicating it to his mind in a manner so clear and simple, that he can easily comprehend the nature and application of every principle that comes before him.

By teaching the young beginner to parse every part of speech systematically, as soon as it is explained to him, and by exercising him in false syntax, the theory of the science becomes happily blended with practice; and his attention is immediately arrested, and his labors are rendered pleasing and advantageous. In short, all the intricacies of the science are elucidated so clearly, I am confident, that even a private learner, of common docility, can by perusing this system attentively, acquire a better practical knowledge of this important branch of literature in three months, than is ordinarily obtained in one year.
JOHN E. JUNGSMANN.
Frederick, Sept. 17, 1823.

Extract from Mr. TILLET, Author of a new system of Algebra.
Sir,—I have no hesitation in saying, that, in my opinion, your new system of Grammar is much the best elementary treatise on the grammatical construction of the English language, that has come under my observation.
FRANCIS TILLET.
Winchester, Va. Feb. 21, 1824.

Extract from the Rev. Mr. STERN'S.
City of Washington, Oct. 25, 1823.
Having examined Mr. S. Kirkham's "Compendium of English Grammar," I think, on the manner in which he has condensed the rules and definitions, and from the simple and lucid exhibition of these, it is better calculated to facilitate the progress of youth, than any other that has come under my notice.
JOHN STERN, A. B.
Principal of the Eastern Academy.
From Dr. FIFIELD.
Sir,—I have carefully perused your "Grammar in familiar Lectures." I think it eminently calculated, both on account of its conciseness and perspicuity, to facilitate the instruction of youth, and abridge the labor of the instrument.
E. O. FIFIELD.
Principal of the Mechanic Hall Academy.
Alexandria, Oct. 30, 1823.

I have examined, with much satisfaction, Mr. Kirkham's new system of English Grammar. I am satisfied, it is precisely what it declares itself. I think it is scarcely possible to enter the temple of grammatical knowledge, by a more easy, or a more beautiful inlet. In my judgment, the internal merits of the work must ensure its circulation.
Wm. BENNETT, Preceptor.
Annapolis, November 4th, 1823.
