Upon an examination of the claim, I find that it is for personal injuries sustained by Mr. Sullivan from the discharge of a firearm of a soldier of the National Guard on July 4, 1894, while Mr. Sullivan was serving as Captain of Company D. Third Infantry, N. G. C., at the time of the strike. From the facts before me, it clearly appears that there is no legal claim against the State for such injuries; and to appropriate the money named in this bill would be to make a gift, which is in direct contravention of Section 31 of Article IV. of the Constitution of the See also Brown vs. Hart, 93 State.

While I regret the misfortune of Mr. Sullivan, my duty compels me to disapprove of this bill.
