A large crowd followed the wagon through the streets, and the most intense excitement prevailed throughout the neighborhood, as the deceased was generally respected by all who knew him, being a very worthy and industrious man. Great indignation was expressed towards the negroes engaged in the disgraceful affair. We are informed that the locality where this occurred is a rendezvous for negroes every fair Sunday afternoon, who pass their time in gambling, and that rows very frequently occur, and promiscuous firing is indulged in. The place commands an open view for several hundred yards around, and as soon as a policeman is seen the parties scatter in every direction and manage to escape. Thus, it has been found very difficult to surprise them and effect a wholesale capture. One of the negroes concerned in this affair had two holes shot through his coat, but was not injured.

most handsome manner.

Precisely at eight o'clock the children entered singing the processional hymn,
"Praise ye the Lord," which was very sweetly rendered, and occupied the seats in the front part of the church.

The senior pastor, Rev. Dr. Axson, made a very happy and beautiful welcome address, remarkable for its eloquence and feeling, which was followed by reading a portion of the scriptures, and prayer.

The anniversary hymn,entitled "Our Glad Jubilee," was sung with great fervor, after which the Sunday School offering was made, and a very handsome sum was realized.

Superintendent W. H. Baker then submitted his report, showing the condition of the school and its prospects, as follows:

At the anniversary of a Sunday school whose work and duties are familiar to the church of which it forms a constituent part, perhaps little more is expected than a brief presentation of statistical facts.

a policeman, who was in Yamacraw, was informed of the occurrence, and, by promptness, managed to secure another negro named Thornton Williams. Subsequently two or three other negroes were arrested, and are held as witnesses.

The police barracks was telephoned, and in a very short time Lieut. Howard made his appearance, and found gathered around the lifeless body of the unfortunate man an immense crowd. Finding it impossible to disperse the crowd, under the circumstances, he galloped to the residence of the Coroner, whom he found at home, and who at once proceeded to the spot, and after viewing the body gave directions for its removal to the home of the deceased.

A wagon was provided and the remains placed therein and carried to the home of Mr. Reagan, which, a short hour before, he had left in perfect health, and with no thought of the fate that befeli him. The scene at the house was distressing in the extreme, and the grief of the wife, who was terribly shocked when the body of her deceased husband was brought in, having no previous intimation of his being killed, was truly heartrending.

A large crowd followed the wagon through the streets, and the most intense excitement prevailed throughout the neighborhood, as the deceased was generally respected by all who knew him, being a very worthy and industrious man. Rare and Beautiful Novelties for Spring and Summer, This season Mr. H. C. Houston, the well known and popular milliner, seems determined to excel his past efforts in presenting to the feminine public of Savannah and vicinity, a magnificent assortment of seasonable articles for the spring and summer. Mr. Houston has just opened a large and well selected assortment of beautiful and well selected assortment of beautiful and elegant laces, straw hats, bonnets and ribbons, over which his fair customers go into ecstacles. His line of straws certainly is superior in quality and beauty to any previous displays, and there is such a variety that every taste may be satisfied. He has also a very fine stock of splendid hosiery, dress goods, ties, etc., and a full line of the most fashionable styles in gloves, including the celebrated Foster, of all shades and colors. Indeed, we are not surprised to see his emporium crowded daily with ladies, as there are few places as attractive and inviting. We can only say to those who have not been and who want something elegant and appropriate for the spring and summer to call and see for themselves.

outspreading branches, and is nearly four feet high. It is displayed on the counter of the soda fountain and attracts great attention. The trunk of the tree represents the mother Lodge, Solomon's, and the branches her descendants, Zerubbabel, Clinton and Ancient Landmark, each designated by photographs of their present Masters. The leaves are perfect and are also formed of the pulp. In fact the design is not only good, but the execution shows Mr. Meves to possess skill, taste and originality. Another article made by the same gentleman and to be seen on the fancy table of Solomon's, is a toilet stand for a ladies' dressing case, which is finished in the best style. NAINSOOK PLAIN SWISSES, PIQUES, etc. Large assortment of GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS—Shirtings, Sheetings, Linens, etc. CORSETS in endless varieties, in White and Colored. We make a specialty of the ELASTIC HIP CORSET, which we offer at $1.00. The advantage of this Corset over all others will be recognized at once by every lady who has suffered from side bones breaking. This defect is entirely obviated in this Corset by scientific arrangements of cording in semi-circular lines over the hips, which allows a free movement of the body. A good feature in the Elastic Hip Corset, to which we call special attention, is the quilted space below the cording, the very place where softness and pliability are most desired. Country orders solicited, which shall always receive prompt attention.
