Our Freedom's Hundred Years.

The celebration of the centennial anni ersary of the surrender of Cornwallis to the allied forces whose admirable strategy and gallant conduct brought the struggle for liberty to a close in the menorable siege of Yorktown, was fitly begun yesterday with homage to Him in whom the fathers put their trust, and whose beneficence crowned their valor and sacrifices with the boon they craved. Who could tell that did not know save by sight of the wastes of war, that this people waged but a few short years ago a contest, brief in duration, but mighty in its consequences and fearful in its cost? Once again our glorious flag, the symbol of our matchless system floats over a united people. Important Railroad Rumor.

Our Atlanta letters make mention of a rumor current in that city that a comjointly, and, as a consequence, the con- Sun says: struction of the Macon and Atlanta extension and the Atlanta and Rome Railroad will be abandoned. We give an article from the editorial columns of the since freedom's fight was won. The seed Atlanta Constitution of Saturday on the subject, in which, while expressing disbelief in the truth of the rumor, the writer gives some good reasons for regarding it not altogether improbable. Of course we have no data on which to found an opinion in regard to the matter, and give the rumor only for what it and is worth. We have all along been of the opinion that the "railroad boom" in two or three competing systems of roads -costing many millions of dollars-to transact the legitimate commerce of our section, which competing systems must also compete with formidable outdivert business from our South Atlantic ports to other points. The cut-throat raiload war now being waged upon one another by the great railroad combinations of the North and West indicates very plainly what may be expected to occur between the rival systems of the South, and, little as such an event was to be expected, we would not be survent ruinous rivalry between themselves, and, at the same time, strengthen them against outside hostile combinations.

A Stalwart Cabinet.

The conviction is slowly effecting a odgment in the minds of the Garfield Republicans that the new President is "not on their side." and that when his new Cabinet is named, it will be a stala word, nor even opened his mouth on the good reasons for believing that he is sufwarts. But notwithstanding his rigidity Chicago Tribune's Washington correspondent says, "the general understanding is that the stalwart element is to pre vail in the counsels of President Arthur, and none of the anti-stalwart or Garfield element will have recognition in the Cabinet"-and then he adds: "There are those who predict stirring times in the immediate political future of the Repub

Senator Edmunds (Rep., Vt.,) having said much of late about "the unscrupu lous partisanship of the Democrats." the New York World (Dem.) very bluntly and truthfully says: "If there is a more unscrupulous partisan on the Democratic side of the Senate than Mr. George F. Edmunds himself, the World has yet to hear of that remarkable man." How scrupulous, asks the World, does Mr. a President of the United States, in which they 'were in a very decided minority, both popular and electoral? Mr. Edmunds was chosen a judge in that case, and he decided that he would not look into the evidence which showed the election of Tilden and the defeat of Haves. He took the ground that a court organized to try a case should not try it. and should refuse, in Florida and Louisiana, where the Governor certified the election of Republicans notoriously defeated, to go behind the Governor's certificate, while it should insist upon going behind it in Oregon, where the Governor certified the election of a Democrat notoriously defeated. This shows how scrupulous is the partisanship of Senator Edmunds.

Among such politicians as be-lieve the end justifies the means much admiration is expressed for the shrewdness exhibited by the Republicans in thus outwitting the Democrats, and corresponding sympathy or contempt, as the case may be, is expressed for the stupidity of the Democrats in not binding Mr. Davis have been unable to see the necessity for here than that Judge Davis would gladly have accepted the Presidency pro tem at the hands of the Democrats, and the inference could only be drawn that his aid would be at their service whenever necessary. It is scarcely doubted in any well-informed quarters here that if the Democrats had been willing as the Republicans were to bargain at the last pecial session of the Senate, they could have controlled the organization of that ody, but then, as now, they declined to enter into any arrangements which could ave even the semblance of an attemp improperly influence the vote of any one. This may be poor politics, but it is at any rate honest and honorable."

An Important Railroad Rumor. Atlanta Constitution of Saturday A rumor came to us late yesterday evening which we do not believe, but which came from such a source that we are not justified in entirely discredit-

It is said that combinations, or arangements, or consolidations have been ffected between the Louisville and Nashville; the Cole-Seney system and the Georgia Central system by which Colonel Cole will at once cease the building of the Macon and Rome ex-tensions, and will use the Georgia Central and the Louisville and Nashville lines for his traffic, giving them the same right over his lines.

While we do not be ieve that this ruwart Cabinet—what Guiteau calls "a mor is true, we must confess that it is stalwart of stalwarts." And this, al within the bounds of possibility. We though the new President has not spoken know that very pressing negotiations were started with a view to this point a word, nor even opened his mouth on the subject. He is extremely reticent. He keeps his own counsel—at least from the Garfield Republicans, though there are good reasons for believing that he is sufwas his intention, is demonstrated by the ficiently communicative with the stal- rapidity with which he has gone at his work, and with which he is still at it towards the Garfield Republicans, they have little difficulty in learning a good deal more than is agreeable to them. The gantic war between these three combina

Our reasons for disbelieving the ru-mor are manifold. In the first place the terms under which the Macon and Brunswick Road was sold prescribe that the At-lanta extension shall be built within three years or the money paid in shall be for-feited and the road returned to the State. We do not believe that Colonel Cole and his friends will disregard the law under which they purchased. If this road is which they purchased. If this road is built, the Georgia Central will care very little for the building of the Rome ex-tension. In the second place, we do not see any evidences of a late meeting of the parties at interest. Col. Wadley, it is true, has gone to New York, but General Alexander was in Atlanta several days. In the third place, there are so many points of conflict and competition between these three systems that nent could be these lines that would be permanent It is fair to say, on the other hand, that the Louisville and Nashville and the Cole Seney people have already made Norfolk and Western and the East Ten nessee, Virginia and Georgia Roads, and it is barely possible that the friendly relations these negotiations brought about have gone further. As to Colonel Cole perfecting the Macon and Brunswick rather than build the Atlanta extension, it must be removed. t must be remembered that he has onl aid in $250,000, the Legisla last session having refused to take the $800,000 balance that he of-fered to pay, objecting to the United States bonds that he offered. It is probable that he has made enough out of the road to reimburse him for the $250,000 Edmunds think was the partisanship of already paid, so that his forfeiture would the Republicans who in 1877 counted in valuable property that had been bought at a very low price. It is impossible to estimate the amount of money already estimate the amount of money already spent in the actual purchase and work on the extension. It cannot be much less than half a million dollars. This is exclusive, of course, of the enormous amount of steel rails purchased, which can be easily put upon the market and sold at little or no loss if the parties in charge have determined to suspend build.

charge have determined to suspend build-Inquiry of Major McCracken, who has charge of the building of the Macon and Rome Roads, when questioned upon this subject, last night said that he had no information in relation thereto, but that work had not been stopped, and that arrangements were heiny made to much it rangements were being made to push it ahead on even a larger scale than at present. There are about 4,000 men now at work on the entire line. We do not believe that there is any truth in the rumor, but as we said before, it comes from an important source, and we have given our readers all that we know or surmise upon the subject. In to-morrow's Constitution we shall be able to present definite in formation.

The Fiendish Crime of a Negro Doctor in Stewart County. Buena Vista Argus

Buena Vista Argus.

There is a large-framed mulatto man claiming to be the son of "Chofe," an old Indian doctor who died in this county a few years ago, who makes his rounds through the country "practicing." He claims to cure everything; says his father learned him his business, and that he knows all the remedies with which his father effected his cures. "Dr. Sparks" makes returns to the Tax Receiver of Marion county (we know not how many other counties) and pays the professional tax. "Chofe," the Indian doctor, whose son he claims to be, was considered by some as an excellent physician, and this "Dr. Sparks" has managed to make tor, whose so he claims to be, was considered by some as an excellent physician, and this "Dr. Sparks" has managed to make himself pretty well known in some sections in the country. This fellow claimed to have performed some wonderful cures near Pineville in the beginning of this year.

A gentleman in Stewart county (the name we withhold) sent for the would-be doctor. "Dr. Sparks" assured the gentleman that he could easily cure his case, and was engaged to do so. After ingratiating himself into the confidence of the family sufficient to accomplish his hellish purposes, he chloroformed the entire family, and then violated the person of the daughter, a pretty young woman, took her watch and what other things he wanted, and left the section. The family lost eight of the wretch, and smothered the matter rather than give publicity to so delicate a subject. city to so delicate a subject.

and smothered the matter rather than give publicity to so delicate a subject.

In the early part of the year, the grand jury of Schley county indicted Sparks for carrying concealed weapons. He offered defense and gave bond for his appearance for trial. He fied the county and left his bondsmen to settle the matter. One day recently one of the Schley county bondsmen saw him in Americus and had him arrested and sent to jail in Ellaville. This gave publicity to his whereabouts, and last Wednesday an officer from Stewart and the Sheriff of Schley were in Americus to get a requisition from Judge Crisp to carry Sparks to the jail in Lumpkin.

The cl'izens are very indignant over the outrageous sifiair, and the feeling for lynching him ran high. It is thought there is danger if carried through the country to Lumpkin. Indulgent Parents allow their children to eat heartily
