Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cook and baby have returned from Spartanburg, S. C.

Mrs. R. S. Williams and Miss Mena have returned from their northern visit.

Mrs. F. M. A. Curtis and Miss U. L. Turnitt are guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hunt.

Mr. Stephen C. Miller, recently editor of the Wakulla Times, will practice law in Tallahassee.

Hon. E. K. Foster was among the attorneys who have had business before the Supreme court this week.

State Attorney Geo. W. Walker of the Second Judicial Circuit is attending court in Franklin county this week.

Rev. F. W. Blackburn of Jacksonville preached an eloquent sermon at the Tallahassee Methodist Church Sunday night.

Money sold cheap again at the regular monthly meeting of the Leon County Building and Loan Association Monday night.

Hon. Patrick Houstoun went to Jacksonville Wednesday to attend the meeting of the Florida World's Fair Directory, of which he is a member.

The FLORIDIAN is under obligations to Mr. Joseph Duncan for two pretty clusters of thin-skinned and finely flavored lemons grown at his home in Tallahassee.

Dr. R. A. Shine, dental surgeon, will make a professional visit to Quincy Monday, and will remain there perhaps a week. Dr. Shine is a first-class dentist and the FLORIDIAN cheerfully commends him to the good people of Gadsden.

Mr. Lyman R. Bradley, late of Cornell University, has accepted a clerkship with United States Marshal Weeks at Jacksonville. Mr. Bradley has relatives and friends—Mr. C. W. Bradley and Mrs. Weeks—in Tallahassee, and will be their guest frequently during the winter.

Mr. F. M. Claghorn of Rochester, Minn., who was connected there with one of the best trotting establishments in the country, has taken charge as superintendent of Captain Houstoun's Lakeland Park stock farm. He is a college graduate and an expert judge of good horse flesh.

Messrs. B. C. Mudge and F. E. Owen of the LaPierre Phosphate Company, are here to handle the placing in position the machinery so as to insure an early beginning of mining operations. Both these gentlemen are prominent Boston capitalists, full of energy and vim, as well as being backed by unlimited capital, and they will surely make the LaPierre mines "go."

Latham, Alexander & Co., the New York bankers and cotton brokers, have placed the FLORIDIAN under obligations to them for a copy of their publication, "Cotton Movement and Fluctuations, 1890-1891." This is the eighteenth annual edition of this recognized standard reference book in the cotton trade. It is almost a necessity to the cotton buyers of the country, and gives them more light upon the movements of cotton than any other publication issued.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has a steadily increasing popularity, which can only be won by an article of real merit. Give it a trial.

The Cecilia Choral Society will give a concert early in November, which will open the amusement season. A splendid programme will be presented.

The FLORIDIAN says that Baby Cleveland will never be president until woman rules the roost. True. But she can "rule the roost" if she can't be president.—Leesburg Commercial.

Ayer's Pills, being convenient, efficacious and safe, are the best cathartic, whether on land or sea, in city or country. For constipation, sick headache, indigestion, and torpid liver, they never fail. Try a box of them; they are sugar-coated.

The Quincy Herald says: Tobacco buyers are buying tobacco rapidly and are paying good prices. Our farmers are so well pleased with the prices received that they will greatly increase the acreage next year, and the quality will also be improved as the growers have more experience in cultivating the weed.

Judge J. B. Collins represented Florida City Division No. 50, Sons of Temperance, at the meeting of the Grand Division at Jacksonville. A state lecturer will be put in the field to work up interest in temperance matters. Judge Collins reports that he had a pleasant trip and was much gratified at the good work being done by the Sons of Temperance.

The Florida World's Fair directory in session at Jacksonville Thursday adopted by-laws, then effected a permanent organization by unanimously selecting the following officers: W. D. Chipley, president; S. A. Jones, first vice-president; Jos. H. Durkee, second vice-president; Geo. W. Wilson, secretary, and John F. Dunn, treasurer. The following working committee was selected: W. D. Chipley, Geo. F. Foote, Patrick Houstoun, G. S. Hardee and G. W. Wilson.

About Ice Making.

Artificial ice is one of the greatest blessings that the progress of science in late years has given to the South. That which a few years ago was a luxury which only the well-to-do could enjoy, is now becoming one of the common necessities of life for all classes. Ice making is an industry that is proving of the greatest value to the whole South, and the widest extension of this business should be encouraged, as an abundance of good, cheap ice, adds to the comfort and healthfulness of the people, and makes it possible, even in small towns, to keep fresh meats and vegetables of all kinds, the importance of which can only be appreciated by those who have been deprived of them. While ice factories are being established very rapidly in the South, there is still room for an almost indefinite expansion of the business, and this could be materially helped by a policy on the part of the ice makers of selling at a very low cost, and thus vastly increasing the amount consumed. In view of the importance of this subject, the Manufacturer's Record of Baltimore begins in its last issue a series of articles by an expert on the history of ice making and refrigeration in general, which will cover every phase of the industry, such as the importance of developing this industry, its value to the South, some very striking comparisons of the healthfulness of natural and of artificial ice, various methods now in use for ice making, etc. People interested at present or prospectively in ice making will find these articles of much value. To encourage ice making in the South is to encourage that which will add to the comfort and healthfulness of the people.

MASTER MECHANIC BURTON.

The Florida Central and Peninsular Promote a Worthy Employee.

Mr. E. Burton, who for several years has been general foreman of the Tallahassee shops of the Florida Central and Peninsular railway, has been promoted to be master mechanic of that road, vice M. J. Rogers resigned. Mr. Burton will have his headquarters at Fernandina.

This promotion proves that the Florida Central and Peninsular company appreciates efficient and faithful service. Mr. Burton has always conscientiously and carefully watched over the interests of the company here and was well deserving of the promotion.

The many friends of Mr. Burton in the Capital City are well pleased to know that the company has recognized his merits and worth, but they regret that he must move to another city to assume the duties of his new position.

The great Dr. Boerhaave left three directions for preserving the health—keep the feet warm, the head cool, and the bowels open. Had he practised in our day, he might have added, and purify the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; for he certainly would consider it the best.

A TALK WITH FARMERS.

Much has been said about the South paying more attention to grains and grasses and less to cotton. The most of it has been good advice and well meant. Commenting upon this advice the Richmond (Va.) New South, a new and excellent industrial journal, says that the coming year bids fair to demonstrate in a practical way the advisability of such a course.

From present indications the prices of all grains will rule high after the spring of 1892 has fairly opened. Those sections of the South which usually depend upon other sections for their provisions will doubtless pay dearly for supplies the coming year; still if this supposition proves true and the people learn a wholesome lesson from the experience, the price paid may not be so dear after all. Prices too, may not range so high as many are now led to believe, but there is good reason to expect higher prices in all grains and provisions than have prevailed for several years past.

There is a lesson in this which the farmers of Middle Florida should heed. They will not be independent and prosperous until they move their granaries and smoke houses from the West to their own farms. Many of our farmers have already done this, but we want all of them to learn to live upon the products of their own farms.

FLORIDA AND THE FAIR.

The Baltimore Manufacturer's Record recently pointed out that there was great danger that the World's Fair would prove an injury rather than a benefit to the South. It sets forth its reasons for this supposition in the following language:

That this will be the greatest exposition which has ever been seen, and that the number of visitors will be far in excess of the attendance at any preceding World's Fair, no longer admit of any question. Before the gates are open probably upwards of $50,000,000 will have been spent on the buildings and exhibits. The whole world will be fully represented there. The West, the Northwest and the Pacific coast will probably make the finest exhibits of their resources in soil, minerals, and timbers, and of their manufactured and agricultural products, that have ever been seen. What is the South going to do? It must meet these other sections in a fair fight for supremacy, and win or lose the greatest opportunity that has ever been offered for attracting the attention of the world. A meagre display will be overshadowed by the magnificent exhibits of other states, and do more harm than good. Against the iron ores of the South will be put the splendid ores of the Lake Superior region; southern coals and coals will have to meet in competition the coals and coals of Pennsylvania, Washington, and other states; southern timber the magnificent timbers of California and Washington. It is a critical time for the whole South. Shall we make such unequalled displays of our natural resources as to draw to the South the attention of the millions of visitors to the fair, or shall we, through lack of energy and enterprise, lose the chance and see the tide of men and money turned to other sections?

The South must be up and at work. It needs men of broad minds and untiring energy as much as it ever needed them in time of war.

This is good doctrine for the Florida World's Fair directory to preach. It must not be said that Florida did not do her part in proving to the world that the New South is all we have claimed that it was. We must not be satisfied with a fair display of our products. We must make it a full and magnificent display—one that will astonish the world. We can do it if we try. Then let every citizen help to accomplish that desired end.

CHATS ABOUT MEN.

Dr. A. M. Salmon, of Cambridge, England, born in the spring of 1790, is looked upon as the oldest surgeon in Europe.

James Russell Lowell, C. A. Dana, Dr. Holland, Walt Whitman, Julia Ward Howe and Queen Victoria were all born in 1819.

A gentleman who has recently visited Asheville says that words cannot portray the magnificence of the chateau George Vanderbilt is building there. The tennis court alone is to cost $50,000.

The Duke of Cleveland is the ninth British peer whose title has become extinct since the present parliament was chosen. But Lord Salisbury has created twenty-one new peers since he came into office.

Halliday, the inventor of the cable street car system, states that the sight of six horses vainly endeavoring to draw a car up a steep hill at San Francisco first suggested to him the foundation for his invention.

Admiral Gervais, who made the curious mistake at the Portsmouth banquet of drinking to his own health, is the youngest vice admiral in the French navy. He is fifty-four and entered the service at fifteen as a midshipman.

Dr. Ignatius Hortsman, who is mentioned as the probable successor of Bishop Gilmour in the Cleveland diocese of the Catholic church, is six feet three inches tall and broad in proportion. He is a handsome and interesting man.

Few Boston people know Daniel S. Ford, yet he is one of the town's richest men. He is the owner of The Youth's Companion, indulges in yachts and fast horses and gives thousands of dollars to charities. Socially he is a recluse. Mr. Ford is seventy years old and well preserved.

Secretary Foster is the crack croquet player of the District of Columbia. In this game he has no equal. Mr. Foster has repeatedly performed the feat of making three entire circuits of the wickets and stakes without a break. This record has never been beaten as far as record from.

Dr. Paul Thorndike, who is engaged to marry Miss Rachel Sherman, youngest daughter of the late General William T. Sherman, is about twenty-eight years old. He was graduated from Harvard in 1884. He was popular at college with the students and professors. He is said to be a handsome and clever man.

WHISPERS ABOUT WOMEN.

Mme. de Lesseps has the reputation of being at once the most pious and the most decoletee woman in Paris.

Miss Mary E. Holmes, of Illinois, has concluded to devote $100,000 of her fortune to the establishment of a seminary for colored girls in Mississippi.

Kate Field glories in the fact that she was brave enough never to have left the Shoreham, in Washington, after the serious accident that befell that building, and to have remained in it ever since.

The widow of Dr. Loring, who was his second wife, is descended from old Israel Putnam, of Revolutionary fame. She was an attractive figure in Washington society under the Arthur administration.

The Duchess of Marlborough has been expending her American dollars in making her husband's castle, Blenheim, habitable. She has put in bathrooms and electric lights, and sent to America for a shipload of coal for the furnace.
