LEVEL
among many of the market-men last, when they were compelled by order of the police to vacate their accustomed corners on Hotel and other central streets, and move down to the open space below and in the neighborhood of Queen street.

While the practice of occupying the sidewalks by market-men in the vending of their wares is in many respects objectionable, it may be properly urged that it is the duty of Government to provide and set apart suitable market places.
This is due to the public, whose convenience and necessities in this particular are more involved than those of the market-men. In the present instance, the result of ordering off the dealers from their usual haunts has been to interrupt supplies to a great extent, for several days, the Chinese vegetable men having with characteristic obstinacy refused to comply with the new rules.
This will not however be likely to last long, and we hear that some of them propose to hire the vacant lot on Hotel street opposite Union street, and erect a building for a vegetable market. In former years, it has evidently been contemplated by the Legislature that a suitable market house should be provided in Honolulu for the sale of vegetables and fruit, as well as for fish, for which last there is now a special provision. The Act of 1860, respecting markets, has the following section:

11. Every person who shall violate any of the rules and regulations prescribed for the government of any public market or markets, or who shall stand or occupy for the sale or vending of any fish, fish crawfish, oysters or shell fish, or any kind of fruit or vegetables, in any street in the city of Honolulu, shall be fined one dollar for each offence, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the market to prosecute all such offenders: Provided, however, that the fines mentioned in this section shall not be imposed until such time as suitable markets and conveniences are set apart for the public use by the Minister of the Interior.

By this it will be apparent that, there being at present no suitable markets and conveniences set apart for the public use by the Minister of the Interior, there could be no fine imposed on the hucksters for "standing or occupying for the sale or vending of fruit or vegetables, in any street in the city of Honolulu."

But, the technicalities of the law aside, a market place is absolutely required by the growing necessities of the public. And it should be located in some more central position than the esplanade, or on the corner of Fort and Queen streets. It is rather too much to compel families to send a mile for their vegetables.

The coral stone building on Queen street now occupied by C. Brewer & Co. was erected by the Government in 1851, for a market house. In the Legislature of the same year an elaborate market law was enacted, providing for a "clerk of the market," &c., the principal portion of which enactment is incorporated in Chapter 65 of the Revised Penal Code. When the building was first completed, the stalls were sold at auction, and brought good prices, the vegetable and fruit dealers all centered there, and were not to be found on the streets. This continued for one or two years, until through the influence of some one in authority, in order to attract the vegetable trade to the locality of certain butcher shops, the
