The schr Julia Long was sold yesterday at administra tor's auction for $3250, to John F Colburn, a fair price, considering the repairs required. This vessel is to b employed in bringing cattle from Kawaihae to Oahu. The G F Haendel is now 152 days out from Bremen; and as she has the Kamehameha Statue on board, a good deal of interest is felt in her appearance. As the Statue is insured for $15,000, the work could be readily duplicated in case of disputer. Whilst there is some complaint of tightness in our money market, it is interesting to note assurances of great financial case and abundance abroad; and in this respect we quote from the New Bedford Mercury, received by last mail: "Money is so plenty and so cheap at London that the British Government is reported to be seriously thinking of refunding its 3 per cent. consols at 2% per cent. Wm. H. Vanderbuilt is credited with having borrowed freely in London at 2 per cent. using his 4 per cent. United States bonds as collateral. The abundance of money and the low rates at London are naturally turning the attenof British capital to American railroad investments and speculations, and several of the prominent railroad stocks have been or soon will be placed on the London stock exchange list as well as on the list at New York." The value of the exports for the week past amounts t

THE PACIFIC

Commercial Advertiser.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1881.

WE have already expressed our unqualified satisfaction at the appointment by His Majesty of his sister Her Royal Highness, the Princess Liliuokalani as Regent of the Kingdom during his absence. We now publish Her Royal Highness's address to the Hawaiian people on assuming the reins of Government. Most heartily do we on our own part respond to it and equally heartily we call on all Hawaiians of whatever race to support the Princess Regent in the unwonted task that has fallen to her, in the advancement of a common welfare and the maintenance of the independence of our beloved land."

WE sincerely hope that prompt attention will be given to the recent proclamations and notices issued by the Board of Health, on the subject of vaccination. The responsibility of parents, whose infant children are not yet vaccinated, is, in this matter, very serious. Through their carelessness, laziness, or wilfulness, they may leave their helpless little ones defenceless against one of the most horrible, and most infectious of diseases, and in the end, the deaths of these children may lie at their doors. For those whom this solemn responsibility is not sufficient to render attentive to the duty of vaccination, the law provides the goad of of vaccination, are laid carefully down in Sections 311 and 312, of the Civil Code, and Section 316 provides for those who "refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of the law" a fine of five dollars-giving half the fine to the informer. If there has been any carelessness in the past, in the enforcement of this law, it is certain that public opinion will tolerate none now. The Board of Health has performed the duties imposed upon it. Duly qualified vaccinating officers have been appointed for every district in the Kingdom, and an ample supply of reliable vaccine lymph has been obtained. If any child should remain unvaccinated, it will not be because this means of protection against the dreaded smallpox has not been brought within reach of that child's parents, or legal custodians. If all that has been done by the Board-if the terrible responsibility for their childrens' safety, which preservation-be not sufficiently powerful ncentives to obey the law, then the ordinary police methods for enforcing the law will have to be resorted to. It will indeed be a thing much to be regretted if coercion has to be substituted for invitation, if the ample arrangements made for rendering vaccination available and easy to all, have to be supplemented by measures which will bring the informer's hateful office into play. But however much there may be to regret in a recourse to coercive measures, any laxity will hereafter have to be much more painfully regretted, should an outbreak of smallpox demonstrate that infant vaccination has been neglected.

More Small-pox on the Quinta .- This vessel left behind seven deserters from her crew, and her captain did not care to wait for them, as they tell a bad story about her. They state that one Chinese passenger died on the 2ud inst., a second one on the 3rd, a third on the 6th, and a fourth one on the 9th inst., and all were evidently cases of small-pox-The first two deceased parties were brought to this port in boxes, and were affoat awhile. Now the Quinta arrived on the 12th and her passengers were taken to quarantine, examined by Dr. Hutchinson and discharged on the 18th, and on the 19th, or about 14 days since the last case on board, a diseased Chinaman was discovered, and pronounced a small-pox case by Dr. Hoffmann; he was afterwards examined by Dr. Hutchinson and pronounced doubtful, probably a cutaneous eruption; but subsequently examined by Drs. McKibbin and Hutchinson, and declared to be an unquestionable case of smallpox. One of the deserters asserts that the first case of smallpox on board appeared on the 25th Decembershe left Canton on the 18th December. He handled the corpses, which he says were rotten with smallpox, and took all the four out of their bunks, and was provided with a bottle of brandy whilst en-

Supreme Court.

JANUARY SESSION, 1881. Before His Honor the Chief Justice

Chas. C. Harris, Esq. FRIDAY, JANUARY 14th,-Andrew Welch vs Thomas Spencer. Assumpsit. This suit was for a sum claimed by Welch under an agreement. The document had not been signed by the partners but by their respective attorneys, the late firm of Green, Macfarlane & Co, acting in that capacity for Capt. Spencer. An important point in the case was whether the authority conveyed by the power of attorney enabled the persons signing the deed to make an arrangement of this character binding on their principals. The Court over-ruled several objections raised by Mr. Davidson, who appeared as counsel the for defense. Before the jury retired. Mr. Davidson excepted to His Honor's summing up, 1st, because he had said that the powers of attorney were both sufficient to convey authority to make the disputed agreement; 2nd, because he instructed the jury to find a verdict for $10,000 and $1,300 interest; 3rd, because he had laid it down that the agreement bound Spencer to ship all sugur to San Francisco, and therefore to Welch, so that by certain shipments to Portland he broke that agreement. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $7729-85, to which Mr. Davidson at once excepted as | tionally. being against both the law and the evidence. Mr.

Hatch appeared for the plaintiffs. DIVORCE CASES.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 15th .- E. A. M. Giles vs Henry Giles. The parties were married on June 5th. 1879, and Giles is now libeled for failure to provide the necessaries of life. Mr. Bickerton appeared for the libellant. The case was heard, and judgment

Keahiwela (w) vs Kailiulaula. This case had been been continued from October term to give Kailiulaula who was accused of desertion, an opportunity of answering the charge. A letter from him was now produced in which he excused himself for the desertion on the ground that he was now living with another woman, by whom he had had five children. The divorce was granted, and an order was made against the respondent for $20 cost, to be paid with-

Kauki (w) vs Puhi. The grounds alleged for seeking divorce were "extreme and continued cruelty." Mr. Holokahiki appeared for the libellant, who failed to establish the truth of her charges against Puhi, who declared himself very much attached to her and anxious that she should return to him. In the course of the evidence, Kauki acknowledged that she had already had three husbands, and that she meant to have another if she could get rid of this one. His Honor ordered her to return home with Puhi, but at first she absolutely refused. However matters were eventually made smooth and the record now is "reconciled in Court." Mr. J. L. Kaulukou appeared for Puhi.

Kahoki (w) vs Makai (k). In this case, which was leard on the 8th inst, the Court refused a divorce. Makai was charged with desertion, but the ev.dence in support of the charge was not satisfactory. The parties have been man and wife for 32 years.

" BANCO SITTING. Monday, January 17th.—Joseph Merrill vs Sarah
Chapman Weed. The complainants, for whom
Mr. Benj. Austen appeared, are Joseph Merrill, N.

Merrill, William Patten Merrill, Obed B. Merrill, Susan Patten, Rufus Patten, Emmeline Eunice Howe, Mary Jane Merrill, James Merrill, John F. Merrill and Edward Merrill the heirs of the late Constant F. Merrill of Honolulu. Sarah Chapman Weed claims to hold a certain piece of land formerly the property of the said Constant F. Merrill, by virtue of a will made in her favor by the latter. The complainants say that Merrelll was " of unsound mind" when he made his will and pray that it may be declared null and void. The case was partly heard and adjourned to 12 noon on TUESDAY, JANUARY 18th, when the hearing was WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18th .- The Merrill case was concluded. Judgment was reserved.

CIVIL CASES .- FOREIGN JURIES. MONDAY, JANUARY 20th .- James Maguire vs The Union Fire and Marine Insurance Company of New Zealand. This was a claim in respect of the * Eugenia M. Briggs," which vessel was allowed to go ashore at Huelo, Maui, last June. She was insured with the above named company, by a policy unning from December 6th, 1879 to June 6th, 1880. and in the Swiss Lloyds by an annual policy. The evidence for the plaintiff was to the effect that when abandoned the evening before her stranding, she was full of water, that the wind was from the N. N. E. or thereabouts, with a rough sea and that under such circumstances the abandonment was justifiable. The cargo she carried was lumber and railway iron. For the defense Mr. Preston submitted that the 6th of June, the day of the abandonment was not included in the terms of the policy. Mr. Hartwell in reply contended that the custom of the country made the policy run till noon on the 6th, and that the legal authorities on the subject justify the construction that it ran till midnight. Mr. Preston claimed that if the custom referred to exists it should be proved and even if it were so, the crew did not leave the ship till the evening of the 6th. It was claimed that the American rule should apply to this case, but the Court was of the opinion that as the defendants were a British company the English rule must apply. Mr. Walker gave evidence as to the policy on the vessel and stated that he had ordered her to be sold for the benefit of whom it might concern. She only brought some trifling sum. On the motion of Mr. Preston, penalties. The duties of parents, in respect | the Court reserved the point as to whether the sixth was included in the policy. The case was then sent to the jury who after twenty minutes deliberation, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, from which three of their number dissented. Mr. Preston immediately excepted to the verdict as against both law and

In this case the Court having been advised that the accounts between these parties extend over a period of five years, and that they involve disputed items of almost monthly and perhaps more frequent occurrence directed (by virtue of Section 1131 of the Civil Code) that these accounts be referred to three Referees ; the plaintiff and defendant each to name one and the Court nominating Mr. R. Alee and Chong Fook vs Anan and Chock Chung. An ejectment case. The title in dispute was a leasehold one. After the evidence had been taken Mr. Davidson for the defendants moved for a nonsuit, but the Court ruled that after having joined issue and introduced evidence before the jury he could not do so, to which ruling Mr. Davidson excepted. Before the case went to the jury Mr. Hartwell for plaintiffs submitted that the only remedy which defendants had, if they were wronged, was to bring to cause trouble to man. Man should then be a Bill in Equity or to bring a suit for damages for answerable for his own troubles. If it was desrests on parents-if the very instinct of self- the failure to give a new lease. To the Editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser. Sir :- So much has already been written on East Indian Immigration that a letter from the Minister of Foreign Affairs to the diplomatic and consular corps on the same threadbare subject takes one by surprise. Our rulers have really waked up from their (simulated?) nap, rubbed their sleepy eyes, and disclosed facts which the public has known all about for years past. One fact they themselves only seem to have recently discovered; namely "that to obtain British Indian laborers, special arrangement with Great Britian would be necessary." Does any one forget that the gentleman now filling the office of Minister of the Interior was entrusted with the execution of that self-same measure years ago, and that be failed to accomplish it, although every facility was ment in the district around the Shannon. afforded for its completion ?

To judge by a very half hearted and uncertain sound one of the objects aimed at by Ministers is " to obtain a few thousand East Indians with their wives and families . . . to remain in the country' and "become Hawaiian subjects." Is it possible Ministers expect the British Government will order East Indians to become Hawaiian subjects? If they do hope. Those people are free; not chattel property or slaves to be disposed of by the stroke of pen. If they choose to become Hawaiian subjects no impediment will probably be thrown in their way, but no compulsion will be used or permitted. The inducement must come from Hawaaii. They must first be convinced that their own interests will be advanced, their consent may then be had. The whole paragraph from which these words are taken leads one to believe that Ministers are not more in earnest now than on the memorable occasion above alluded to.

There is nothing reassuring in turning to the Board of Immigration. One of the judges of the Supreme Court who has uniformly opposed the endeavors of those interested in introducing East Indians, being still a member of that Executive Board, although the Constitution decrees that the Executive and Judicial Power shall always be preserved distinct. One would imagine that a regard power to influence, perhaps control, the destinies of the country and the fortunes of individuals ; but as he clings to both, he must in his executive capacity be subject to criticism which does not redound to judicial dignity.

Fortunately for the country His Majesty the King, has taken the preliminaries of East Indian immigration personally in hand. May he succeed in arranging them. If the cost be now greatly enhanced, tax payers must thank those persons who have been the means of imposing the additional burden. Whatever may be said as to the propriety or otherwise, of a judge of the Supreme Court filling an executive office, no complaint can be made that the Sovereign in undertaking this business is acting unconstitu-

FOREIGN NEWS.

The P. M. S. S. "City of Sydney," has brought us news from the outer world to 4th inst., that being the date at which she left Auckland.

The interest of European news still centres in Ireland and Greece. In Ireland matters appear to grow daily more serious. A patrol of soldiers had been attacked in Cork, and the state of things throughout the country was such, that all the meetings that were to have taken place on Saturday and Sunday, 1st and 2nd January, were prohibited by the Government. A flying column of troops was traversing the country to prevent any attempts that might be made at drilling in the night. The trial of the Land Leaguers at Dublin, which commenced on the 28th ult., was opened by the Irish Attorney-General in a speech for the prosecution, which occupied four days. The speech was based on the charges against the leaguers chiefly on their utterances at different meetings throughout the country. The trial excites intense interest and the court was densely crowdedday after day. The Times, in a leading article which appeared on New Year's day, announced that the Irish Land Bill which the Government proposes to introduce, will supplement and repair the defects in the Act of 1870. No new principles of land legislation are embodied in the measure, a fact which proportions. The rectification of the Greek frontier will apparently not be peaceably accomplished. The Greeks have been arming, because, as the Prime Minister, M. Coumoundurous, as reported in the Times correspondence, announced to the Chambers in Athens-We have the decision of the Great Powers, and it is our duty to cary it into execution." The King has declared to the Legislature that he will have

The news from the Cape of Good Hope is not hopeful. The Basuto insurgents have been beaten, and only a desultory guerrilla warfare is now going on in that direction. But the revolt of the Transvaal Boers is a more serious matter, and the colonists are reported have asked the Imperial government for assistance. The latest intelligence to hand, states that the Boers had abandoned the Utrecht garrison. The garrisons at Stardeslin and Wakkerstroom were strongly entrenched and well supplied. Large bodies of troops were marching to the front from Natal. Previous to that news had been received of a disaster to British troops in the Transvaal. News had been received from headquarters that a detachment of 250 men of the 94th Regiment, marching to Pretoria, were attacked by a large number of Boers, and almost crushed; 50 officers and 120 men were killed or wounded, and the remainder were taken prisoners. The colors of the regiment were, however, saved. News had also been received that the Boers at Potchefstroom murdered five Englishmen who were residing in the town, and as soon as the information of the outrage reached headquarters a battery of artillery was despatched and shelled the place. The enemy were completely driven out, and over 100 were killed by the guns.

From Australia we learn that the Premiers of the various Colonies, had arranged for the proposed Intercolonial Conference of Delegates, to meet on the 13th inst. The troublesome chief, Te Whiti, had been interviewed by Captain Knollys, the aide-de-camp of the new Governor of New Zealand, Sir Arthur Gordon. The Governor sent a letter offering to meet Te Whiti. The latter replied in his usual enigmatical style, "the potato is cooked green." Exactly opposite interpretations had been given of this sentence, but the general interpretation was that it meant that Te Whiti considered it about time to " throw up the sponge."

Tuhi asserts that it was drink that caused the mad impulse under which he committed the murder, and before his execution, wrote a letter to the Governor of New Zealand praying that as he was to die, spirits should die also. The following is the text of the letter :- " I have heard that I am to be put to death on Wednesday, and I am willing to die on that day, but I have a word to say to you. be erected at Levuka. H. M. S. Alert arrived at Levuka on the 14th Dec. from Tonga. At first, as the ship approached the port, it was generally surmised it was a ship they may make up their minds to abandon such a of war from New Zealand, with his Excellency the Governor, and all was bustle and confusion. Bunting was recklessly hoisted, school children prepared, and the various members of the public odies rushing about in dismay to find their addresses, when, all at once, it dawned upon the mistaken community that they had been innocently but thoroughly " sold.'

The missionary barque " John Williams" has arrived at Sydney from Samoa. The war was still raging in Samoa when she left, with little prospect of cessation, unless the English, German, and American Consuls interfere. In the other islands the chiefs had ceased fighting but were watching each other. Malietoa, the King, is dead. His successor is endeavoring to bring about a reconciliation, but with little success. It is believed that united action of the Consuls will prevent further bloodshed.

40 Solomon Islanders engaged on one of the German cotton plantations, on Samoa, took to the bush, and were so hard pressed with hunger that they seized a boy who had fled with them, for decency, if not principle, would dictate to that and tied him up, and had a portion of him mapped judge the impropriety of filling the two offices, the off by running a knife more than skin deep along judicial with its salary, the executive with its the favorite joints. A wild pig appeared, and they left the boy and rushed after the pig. The boy was discovered in an exhausted state by

The steamer Genie, of the Marquis De Ray's expedition, arrived at Sydney on the 27th Dec. The Captain reports that, on the India's arrival. New Ireland will be resolved upon as the site of the new colony, at Port Breton, at the south-west end of New Ireland. No time will be lost in getting the combined crews and settlers to clear the lands, cultivating, building houses, &c. Five houses are completed. One building was removed from Takitaki to the new settlement. The buildings are distributed over about two miles and the onists are comfortable, and working vigorously. They comprise two classes—one connected with the Marquis de Ray's company, and the others free settlers. There are two harbors half a-mile apart, named English Cove and Irish Cove. There is anchorage in deep water, and a splendid stream of fresh water runs into each harbor. The formation of roads is proceeding steadilyone to the Tikatiki district, a distance of five miles. The captain of the Genie states that he spent several hours in three streams navigable for steam launches, and went up seven miles on the shortest one. The colonists are in good health, and are contented with the prospects of the place.

The chiefs of Rotumah have made a request to the Government of Fiji, that the Island should be annexed by the British to Fiji.

The new Church on Norfolk Island was consecrated on November 7th. Quite a company of Garrick, W Garrick, W Garron, C ern Cross," to be present on the occasion. The schooner took forty-seven visitors in all. The church which is erected as a memorial of Bishop Patteson, is built of stone. It has some beautiful stained glass windows; the gift of the Vicountess Downe. The floor of the apse and the aisle of the church, are laid with Devonshire marble, presented by friends. The font is of the same material and of great beauty. This was presented by Bishop Patteson's sisters and near relatives. Miss Yonge the author of the " Life of renders it unlikely that it will be of any avail to Bishop Patteson," gave the organ and a sum in quiet an agitation which has acquired revolutionary aid of the building fund.

A devoted old servant of the Bonapartes has just died in his Vaudois home. M. Thelin was a Switzer, born In the Vaud, and first entered the service of the Napoleonides as coachman to the Empress Josephine. He was afterwards in the household of Queen Hortense, and attached himself to the fortunes of the young Louis Napo-leon. He followed the latter to Strasburg, afterwards accompanied him to America, and never

THE HAND-WRITING OF THE HOLY Spirit is as plain upon the heavens and upon the earth. condemning to destruction this wicked Kingdom of dishonest men, as it was upon the walls of Belshazzar's dining room in the midst of his thousand banqueters. MENEMENETEKEL HPHARSIN was written on the walls which no one of his guests could understand until his Queen sent for Daniel who told the King, God hath numbered thy Kingdom and finished it; thou art weighed in the balance and art found wanting, thy Kingdom is given to the Medes and Persians; that night Belshazzar was slain, Darius then undertook his Kingdom, when M. J. ROSE stepped in with his DUMP MULE WAGONS AND CANE CARTS. They are built of the Best Material that can be had in the East, as all my stock is selected by a Special Agent, and by that means I am enabled to do the Good Work that I do. I wish also to call attention to the fine carriages that I am turning out.

Beg pardon. I must relate a little incident that occurred a few days ago. One of my HIGHLY FINISHED CARRIAGES was standing near the Drinking Fountain on King Street, when a gentleman and lady were passing by and all at once the horse took fright and nearly became unmanageable; but the driver got the animal quieted down, and he came in with the same weight he went out with, and saved stakes. But come to investigate the matter, the horse took fright from seeing his shadow in MY HIGHLY FIN-ISHED CARRIAGE that was standing near the Fountain .- I also am finishing up some very nice FAMI-LY CARRIAGES AND SOME TOP PHE-TONS, which I shall soon have ready for sale. Also, REPAIRING, PAINTING, TRIMMING, and everything pertaining to CARRIAGE WORK, will be DONE JUST AS LOW AS IT POSSIBLY CAN BE, as you all know that I have had NO VISITS TO THE STATES OR EUROPE; and my low rents and plain manner of living enables me to come down to the BED ROCK PRICES.
