General Grant, upon being introduced, said: Gentlemen of Rochester—I appreciate the honor of being called upon to preside over this assembly.
There will be other speakers to address you and I hope you will hear them. It is very encouraging for the cause we came here to foater and advance to see such earnisiness in spite of bad roads and bad weather. Since the opening of the campaign. I have traveled from Illinois to Boston and from Boston to your city. It is convincing to my mind that the Republicans are alive to the questions of the day and want to be informed on them. It tells me that the generals who fought so well to destroy our Union and who do not profess a change of heart shall not adminsister on our estate. We will do it curselves. I am gratified too to, find that wherever I have been two topics have taken possession of the public mind. They are, first, loyal Government, honost ballot and a fair count; second, all are awakened to the fact that the tariff is not a local issue, nor confined to one class. The farmers understand that employment in the manufactories can be made a benefit to them.
(Herê the noise was ogreat that not a word could be heard outside the stand.) Now, gentlemen, you are not able to hear a word I say, so I will retire. I have the Engagement. CHICAGO, Oct. 27 .- A dispatch received at the military headquarters vesterday gives the particulars of Colonel Joachim Terrassas victory over Victoria's band of Indians. The Mexicans attacked Victoria in the Castillo mountains, surrounding his fortified position and by a simultaneous attack capturing it brought the engines from Williamsburg; Victoria's sixty warriors, with eighteen but their services were not of much avail, for women and children, were left dead on the field. Sixty-eight women and children and two white captives were taken, and one hun not get near enough to put any effective dred and sixty eight animals recovered, with all the arms and plunder. Terrassas lost three nothing left but a part of the blackened walls men and twelve wounded. Thirty Indians and a huge pile of burning embers. The escaped through being too late on the ground little wheels, delicate works and cases of but a competent force is pursuing. thousands of partly-finished watches, and the works of thousands of clocks were all melted and twisted together in this hotbed of coals.

Colonel Buell, through whose hands dispatch passed, says: This is one of the re-sults of our movement into Mexico, and 'virtually ends the war with Victoria. I think shall be able to head the small party that escaped. I shall reorganize here, having col-cums for operation both east and west. Washington, Oct. 27.—The annihilation of Victoria's band by the Mexican troops has al-ready been reported. It will be seen that the reason our troops were not in at the death was owing to the objection of the Mexican authorities. Colonel Buell reports that Ter furniture. No. 421 was occupied by P. Bramwood, who lost $600. No. 423 was rassas, who commanded the Mexican forces was grateful for the co-operation of the
