Journal and Courier. Friday Morning, Sep. 23, 1881. Jennie Cramer's Fate. Further for the Defense: The Prescription at Blackman's—The Gold Evidences—Cramer Had—The Magistrate's Finding—The Court's Decision—The Jury's Verdict—The Court's Remarks—The Court's Disposition of the Case.

The first witness called in the afternoon was John S. Hawell. He said: I live at No. 24 Grand street, New Haven, and work in the Candeber broom shops; have lived in New Haven all on five or six years. He testified in corroboration of previous witnesses.

The cross-examination did not materially change the character of the evidence given on Friday. The testimony of the witnesses seemed to be a good deal at variance on every thing except the transactions which occurred at Savin Hook.

The Court Record. United States Circuit Court. Before Judge Blackford, Wednesday, in the United States Circuit Court in Hartford, was tried the case of the New Haven Steam Saw Mill company vs. the Security Insurance company of New Haven.
