On Buller's Camp At Abu-Klea General Stewart Swells the List o In England. LONDON, Feb. 20.-The war office is in re-

eipt of a dispatch this morning from General Lord Wolseley announcing the death of General Stewart at Gadkul from the wound eceived on the 19th ult. while advancing after the battle of Abu Klea on Meterrneh The news of General Stewart's death spread like wildfire throughout London, and on every side expressions of regret are heard at he taking off of such a gallant officer. The names of Gordon, Earle and Stewart are on everyone's lips and the query of the moment s: "Who will be next?" The Prince of Wales, who arrived in London yesterday from his sojourn in the South of France, to-day inspected the Grenadier previous to their embarkation, for service in Egypt. After the review the Prince ad dressed the men briefly. He lauded their fine appearance and soldierly bearing and arged them to remember the gallant record of the regiment during the Crimean war. "I have no doubt," said the Prince, "that the regiment will acquit itself as creditably in the present emergency as then." The streets and public places through which the regiment marched were thronged with people anxious to witness its departure. From the housetops all along the route flags were flying, while the windows and stoops were filled with people. The excitement consequent upon the departure of troops for active service rarely, if ever, equalled that which prevailed to day. All along the line of march the men were enhusiastic and wildly cheered, and shouts from the multitude for vengeance and the estoration of British prestige filled the air.

The feelings of the people were intensified by the display of the trophies captured by the late General Gordon during his campaign in China. The regiment embarked at Lord Wolseley telegraphs to the war office that on the 16th inst. General Buller reached Abu Klea. Here the rapidly increasing num-bers of the Mahdi's forces became so threat-also been ordered suspended.

General Lord Wolseley reports that General Buller's camp at Abu-Klea was attacked by a small advance force of Arabs, who kept ip a persistent and remarkably accurate firing at long range all night. The sharp-shooters apparently numbered about four hundred. Two British soldiers were killed nd eleven wounded. The British replied to the fire, but did not attack the rebels during new forts and otherwise strengthened his position. By the messenger who brought this information General Buller sends word to Wolseley that his position has become critical. He has information that countless hordes of Arabs are advancing with El Mahdi at their head. A Great Victory A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ev-Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming 'smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." Charles A. Roberts, East Wilson, N. Y.
