HARTFORD, Jan. 13. The nomination by the Republican legislative caucus this afternoon of the Hon, Joseph R. Hawley as the candidate for United States Senator was no surprise to the Republican citizens of the State and will give universal satisfaction.

|Special to the JOURNAL AND COURIER.]

But little business of importance was ransacted at the Capitol to-day outside of the nominations for Senators. Several petitions were referred, mostly to incorporate emeteries. The first labor bill of the session was introduced in the House by Mr. King, of Naugatuck. It provides for the stamping of all goods made by convict labor. It provides a fine of not more than $500 for its violation and applies to all the State's prisons where goods are made. It was re erred to the Labor committee. The following bill was introduced by Rep esentative Chaffee, of Derby:

'Property of residents of this State who have served in the army or navy of the United States in time of war and have been honorably discharged, the property of the resident widow or wife of any such known, excepting such as has not come to her from her husband or from her own earnings since marriage, and of resident vilowed mothers a densioned widows and mothers of soldiers and sail ors who have so served and been honorably discharged shall be exempted from taxation to the amount of one thousand dollars." It was officially announced to day that George P. McLean, of Simsbury, had been appointed by Governor Lounsbury as his executive secretary. The fact that the apcointment had been made had already been nnounced in the Courier. Mr. McLean as served a term in the Senate and has a very lucrative law practice in this city. He will no doubt make an excellent secretary in every respect. "There will be but little business transacted of any great importance before the latter part of January," said a legislator this afteroon. "The parallel road lobbyists are geting in a great deal of hard work," said he, and no doubt they will achieve nearly all hey are aiming at. And, by the way, a peition will be brought to the legislature someime early in February to compel the holders of $30,000 of the $400,000 of old first mortgage bonds of the Shepaug road to come into the reorganization scheme. These bonds still hold out and decline to exchange for preferred stock." The lobbyists were out in force to-day, making themselves solid with the green members of the House. This body is now well organized and is said to be getting in pretty effectual work even at this early date. The average reader thinks of a lobbyist as a The average reader thinks of a lobbyist as a person who by corrupt means secures the passage of jobs through the legislature, but here in Hartford lobbyists are very generally respected and not looked at in such a light. Many well known sitizens belong to this house of lobbyists, or the third house, as it is more generally termed. The headquarters of the body are at the Allyn House and on any day during the assigns of the House n any day during the sessions of the House e corridors of the hotel are filled with a crowd of Senators, Representatives and lobbyists, the latter class skipping about among the legislators and holding quiet little chats, which oftentimes result in pledges. This work of the third House is done so skillfully and adroitly nowadays that not only is detection defied, but it is really rowd of Senators, Representatives and lobhard except for those who are constantly on the watch to find good grounds for suspicion. This legislature being the first biennial, and here being no other session for two years, he lobbyists intend to get in some pretty olid work before the session closes.

LYMAN BEECHER LECTURES. Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden Dis cusses the Christianizing of Economic Theories-Christian Boctrine of Property in Land - Valuable Lec-

Rev. Washington Gladden gave his second lecture in the Lyman Beecher course in the whole affair was the burial yesterday in Marquand chapel yesterday upon the question whether the theory of economics could ular young lady. Moodus, as many know be Christianized. The desire of property is is a pretty country town situated among the the one over-mastering passion of modern hills of Middlesex county. When it was flashociety. It has built our large cities, covered the continent with a network of steel and that her remains would be brought to and made the ocean a ferry. Such a passion can create wonders and it can destroy them as quickly. It excites tempers and sentinents which are the reverse of Christianity —contempt in the rich and envy among the poor. The inequality of old was not such a constant source of irritation as now, when it is difficult to persuade the poor that the chasm between them and the rich is one of nature. The wealthy become more insolent and the poor have more wants and are growing more discontented. In the commercial realm all are trying to overreach or undermine one an other. Love one another is not the rule of this realm and it has yet to be brought un-der Christ's dominion. Egoism is the sub-stratum upon which all rest. Mr. Gladden read an extract from an author who tried to set forth that self-love was greater in man than benevolence because God had created it so and in speaking of this said if this were true then the preponderance of good will over self love was the occasion of the fall, Eve giving to be her husband instead of extinct all herself her husband instead of eating it all herself, thus bringing evil into the world. It is true that God is able to neutralize the effects made by the evil in man, but this gives us no idea of what might be ours by obeying God.

The error of the old economists was optimism. This has given place to materialism outside of the moral order. Christian morality assumes that men are free; and their condition in social society is a result of choice. We can never win for the Master the allegiance of the strong men of the world until we can show that he has the power and purpose to rule in the factory and in busipurpose to rule in the factory and in busi-ness as well as in the church and the home. The political economists of to-day are abandoning the old theories and teaching a system in harmony with Christian ethics. In the fields of economic theory there are the clearest signs of the kingdom of God. The old ideas still remain in the people, however. Rag weeds are easily propagated, but not easily exterminated. In these facts we may find the following practical suggestions: Let the Christian teacher get hold of the truth that the Christed when self-love is above ber and to challenge the materialistic fatalism in social forces. The laws of economics are not physical laws, but are modified by will and choice; moral considerations and conduct modify the working of economic forces. Sympathy with the laborer and in-terest on the part of the employer affect the fortunes of the laborer for good or ill materially. Hopefulness, self respect and social ambition are the best means by which to promote wealth. The protracted reduction of wages has an evil effect which perpetuates and aggravates itself. Moral agencies alone can remove economic aggravations. The truth demonstrates itself. Economics cannot be discussed without reference to ethical questions. Such discussion is both immoral and unscientific. Our condition requires al ways that increase of national wealth be subrdinate to the national welfare. The subject of the lecture this afternoon will be "The Christian Doctrine of Property

Capital,
Ladies, guardians, trustees, charitable institutions, colleges, religious societies, savings banks and capitalists have found these securities more desirable than any other because absolutely safe, free from care, and yet paying twice the dividend of a good railroad or government bond.
Your savings bank account of $1,000 will pay you the next five years, at 3 per cent., but $159.27, while one of our guaranteed farm mortgages, at 6 per cent., will not you $338.33.
There are statistics showing that during the last twenty-five years, in an investment of over $300.900,000, not a dollar of principal or interest has been lost. This record is without a parallel in the field of investments. We believe that a thorough investigation o the method and care which we observe in taking these securities will show that our business has reached a system as perfect and well defined as that of fire or life insurance.

The Market Strong and Active-Southern Stocks Show Up Strong-New England Also Conspicuous and Strong-The Whole Market Higher at

There was more activity in the stock market this morning than during the same hours yesterday, while the tone of speculation was firmer. Canada Pacific was especially strong on the announcement of a new connection and through service to Boston. he chief interest, however, was in the southern stocks which it is proposed to consolidate under the control of the Richmond Terminal company. The stock of this company, which opened yester day at 40, sold up to 46 by 12 o'clock to-day. The advance was attributed to the general belief that a combination of Norfolk and Western and East Tennessee under the control of Richmond and West Point Terminal has been virtually agreed upon. Louisville and Nashville was also strong and at one time the prices showed an advance of 1% per cent. After the southern stocks, New York and New England was the most conspicuous and just before 12 o'clock was 214 per cent, higher
