An Illinois justice of the peace has discovered a new cure for drunkenness. His plan is to have the tippler hauled up before his court where an oath is administered that never again in the world will he take an intoxicating drink. If the fellow ever after appears before the court for being drunk, he is at once confronted with the charge of perjury.—EX.

"There's nothing in a name," said the Man With Whiskers as he stood on Froehly's corner last Saturday afternoon. "For instance there is the Smith family in Fort Wayne. They always affixed 'ie' to the names of their children. They had Johnnie, Maudie, Willie, and Bellie. Bellie married a man named Ake and now they call her Mrs. Bellie Ake."—Lebanon Critterion.

A novel law suit is on down in Texas. A newspaper, during the campaign last fall, said a certain doctor was the biggest liar in the district. The doctor sued the editor for $5,000 as damages to his practice. The editor will first try to prove that as the doctor had no competition his practice was not injured; second, that his practice was not worth half the amount sued for; that the allegation, as to the doctor being a liar, is true.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by Jones & Gibson.

The Minneapolis Messenger poet gets off the following: "When dad has worn his trousers out, they pass to brother John, then mother trims round about and William puts them on. When William's legs too long have grown, the trousers fall to hide 'em, so Walter claims them for his own, and hides himself inside 'em. Next Sam's fat legs they close invest, and when they won't stretch tighter, they're turned and shortened up for me—the writer. Ma works them into caps and rugs, when I have burst the stitches; at doomsday we shall see, perhaps, the last of dad's old breeches."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
