

GOVERNOR'S ACTION IS NOW EXPLAINED

Believes the Metropolitan Police Law Will be Repealed by Legislature.

Tells a Local Democrat

FOR THIS REASON HE IS LEAVING THE APPOINTMENT OF POLICE COMMISSIONER TO MAYOR SCHILLINGER.

That Governor Hanly has held back his appointments to the police board of this city, because he expects that the present Metropolitan police law will be changed by the Indiana general assembly, to the extent that all board members will be appointed by the mayor of this city, was verified by the statement of a prominent democrat yesterday who expects to land a position on the board taking the place of Clifton Merrill, resigned.

He said, "I was at Indianapolis last week inquiring of the Governor as to when the democrat member of the board would be selected, and that official stated that as the metropolitan law would be changed, the mayor selecting the members of the board, he would make no appointments in Richmond. He said that he was going to wash his hands of the Richmond situation and when the vacancies were filled in this city, the mayor would do it." He also stated that in case the mayor controlled the selection of the board, the democrats would be in the majority, and this statement gives rise to much speculation as to who he would appoint.

Despite the fact that there is little probability that under the new regime there would be a great many changes in the rank and file of the force there is a feeling of uneasiness among the patrolmen and they fear a general shakeup. The proposed change in the law is the principal topic of discussion among them.

CORONER FILES VERDICT FAILS TO FIX THE BLAME

Says, 'However, Concerning Miss Moore's Death That a Pipe Had Been Placed Where There Had Been an L Pipe Before.'

Coroner Bramkamp yesterday returned a verdict in the case of Miss Mary Moore, who was asphyxiated last Wednesday. The responsibility for the death of the young woman is not placed, but he finds that the pipes in the basement were tampered with. The verdict is as follows:

"The deceased came to her death on January 31, 1907 in the cellar of her late residence, corner of North Fifth and D streets, by asphyxiation from the inhalation of artificial gas. From the testimony of witnesses and from evidence personally observed I find that the gas escaped from the upper end of a T on the surface pipe of the Light, Heat & Power company, replacing the L which should have been there, and from a loose union forming part of the connection between the T and a by-pass buried in the east wall of the cellar. No positive evidence was secured to determine who had tampered with the pipes."

The funeral of Miss Moore took place yesterday morning.

BIG AUTO SHOW IS ON

OVER 5,000 IN ATTENDANCE

Chicago Managers Making an Effort to Outdo the New York Autoists—Coliseum Decorated Gorgeously—Splendid Music.

[Publishers' Press.] Chicago, Feb. 2.—Hall the auto! The biggest best "bubble" show the world has seen—not excepting the recent New York Madison Square exhibition—opened here today at the Coliseum, with an overflow into the First Regiment armory.

More than 5,000 persons attended the opening. Society, in big white veils and fur overcoats, turned out in force. "Horsey" people kept in the background and talked in low tones. The organizers of the show made no secret of the fact that they were trying to outdo New York. The Coliseum was decorated as never before. Bas-reliefs of auto scenes and pictures and sketches of auto's covered the walls. An orchestra played all the afternoon and a concert was given in the evening.

Aside from its technical value the show was a brilliant gathering and its social side was not the least important feature of the exhibition. Several exhibits are still to be installed but already more than 100 automobile makers are represented.

Dandruff Lotion.

Put ten grains corrosive sublimate in five ounces distilled weak hazel. Shampoo the head with the yolk of an egg beaten in a pint of warm water; no soap. Rinse in several waters, finishing with cold; dry, and at night apply the lotion with a medicine dropper—just a little on the scalp only. With a bit of absorbent cotton rub it in, but not hard, or it will irritate. Do this until the dandruff is entirely gone, which may take only a couple of bottles or perhaps half a dozen. Use the egg shampoo once a week. When the scalp is clean and the dandruff nearly cured have twenty grains of quinine and a tablespoonful of fine table salt dissolved in a pint of best bay rum and apply to the scalp twice a day. Do not brush much and only gently, but "pinch" the skin of the scalp with the fingers so it moves easily on the bone of the skull.

Salve For The Lips.

Get from the druggist half an ounce of spermaceti ointment, put this in a dish over hot water and add seven grains of alkanet, letting it stand for the heat until the ointment is a pretty rose color; strain through blotting paper or a bit of fine muslin and then stir in seven grains of balsam of Peru and two drops of oil of cloves, the latter to preserve and perfume the whole. Before adding the clove oil let the whole settle, pour from the dregs and then put in the oil.

Y. M. C. A. or Sunday Baseball

They're trying to pass in the senate, a bill to stop Sunday base ball. They say that it's awfully wicked, and should not be indulged in at all. They say, that, in towns size of Richmond,

The boys never will be devout, While there's a "picketed nine" on the diamond And a pitcher who fans them all out. Say, friends, give the boys something better

And just watch them drop Sunday ball. Now's your chance help to build them a Y. M. C. A. And their Sundays they'll spend at the Hall.

The boys are not naturally wicked, 'Tis not that they want to do wrong. They're so full of activity, youth and good health And the joy of their life is so strong. They can not sit down and do nothing. So let's give them some place to go, And some thing to do, that is worthy of them

They will not disappoint us we know.

—"Old Fashioned."

R. T. Hall of the Larkin Soap company at Dayton is spending Sunday in Richmond.

Miss Flora Mills of South Twelfth street has gone to Marion, Ind., where she will be the guest of friends for several days.

HONOR TO THE DEAD TRIBUTE PAID TO GORMAN

Late Senator From Maryland Eulogized by Body, of Which he Was Member—Day Doubly Saddened by Death of Congressman.

[Publishers' Press.]

Washington, Feb. 2.—On the day set aside to honor the memory of the late Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, of Maryland, the house was doubly saddened today by receiving the announcement of the death at Malone, N. Y., of Representative William H. Flack, of the 26th New York district. After the Gorman ceremonies the house, in accordance with resolutions presented by Representative Krapp, (Rep., N. Y.) adjourned out of respect to both deceased statesmen.

The speaker appointed to attend the funeral of Representative Flack the following members:

Messrs. Sherman, Littauer, Knapp, Draper, Driscoll, Fassett, Dwight, Ryan, Fitzgerald, Golden, of New York; Grosvenor, of Ohio; Minor, of Wisconsin; Watson, of Indiana; Howell, of New Jersey and Reynolds of Pennsylvania.

Speaker Cannon did an unusual thing in taking the floor to pay a tribute to the late Senator Gorman. Representative Charles A. Towne, of New York, severely arraigned the muck raker whom, he said, had attacked Gorman. He said:

"The function of the muck raker is not that of criticism at all. It is frankly one of pessimism, one of spite, of hatred, of diabolical, savage, indiscriminate cruelty. Nothing could better illustrate the extent to which the public judgment may be temporarily demoralized than the opinions of so many honest and earnest men should be swayed by the mercenary rhetoric of certain brilliant but perverted minds."

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

Commercial Club Will Elect Seven Directors Tuesday Night—Officers for a Year.

The regular monthly meeting of the members of the Commercial club, will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, at 7:30 o'clock. The election of seven directors to serve for the ensuing year, will be held at this meeting. W. E. SCOTT, Secretary.

THE HUMAN BODY.

It is a Mass of Tiny Soapy Globules Called "Myelins."

Man is made of soap and not of dust, according to a statement recently delivered before the Harvey society at the Academy of Medicine in New York city by Professor J. G. Adams.

Man is not entirely made of soap, of course, but there are scattered through his body an unknown number of tiny globules called "myelins," which are now believed to be a primitive form of true soap. It is the only pure type of soap on earth, and scientists say it may be that man was originally constructed on a self cleansing principle. All he had to do was to exercise his will power—think hard—and set his myriads of soap globules in motion.

The soapy nature of human beings has been discovered by means of the polarizing microscope. Professor Adams gave a history of the curious researches which led up to the great "find." Fifty years ago Virchow stumbled on the presence of myelin globules in nearly every tissue of the body. They were plentiful in the brain. They dissolved in hot alcohol. Strong alkalis caused them to shrink. Virchow thought the myelins were albumens.

It was not until 1898 it was discovered they possessed peculiar refractive power. Finally Professor Lohlein of Carlsruhe made an elaborate study of the globules and showed under the polarizing microscope they had queer cross markings and were in reality "liquid crystals," showing precisely the same markings as soap globules. This was considered sufficient to demonstrate their identity with soap. The myelins, or soap globules, seem to contain a remarkable substance intermediate between fluids and crystals.—New York World.

The Three Peanut States.

Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia are the leading peanut states. In Virginia the white peanut and the small red peanut are the varieties chiefly produced, while Georgia also largely produces this small red nut. In Tennessee the white nut, which is larger than the red, and the larger variety of the red nut are raised. The chief peanut counties are Humphreys, Perry, Hickman and Dickson, but the area of peanut cultivation has been enlarged in more recent years. Few peanuts are produced in east or west Tennessee, but in the counties named they are the chief money crop of a large per cent of the farmers. The peanut has many names—goober, pindar, earth nut, ground nut, ground pea. Northern soldiers called them goobers, and there was a well known song entitled "Grabbing Goobers Peas," which was a favorite with troops "marching through Georgia."—Nashville American.

The Sidesaddle.

A correspondent of the London Mail says that women always rode astride till Queen Elizabeth in order to show a magnificent dress upon a certain state occasion rode sideways and so set the fashion.

Silk Stockings.

In 1570 Queen Elizabeth was presented with a pair of silk stockings by her tire woman and afterward never wore any other kind.

The reputation of John Sharp Williams, the minority leader of the house as a story teller is too firmly established to need any comment. ball. In some way myself and several other fellow students received invitations. Before starting for the duke's place I was informed that a distinguished Algerian princess was to be at the ball. She was said to be creating quite a sensation in the city, and naturally I had some curiosity to see her.

"Arriving at the duke's palace, I beheld a very dark skinned lady with thick lips, who was pointed out to me as the distinguished Algerian princess. Everybody was talking Italian, and I could understand very little that was going on. My suspicions were aroused, however, and edging my way close up to the so called royal personage, I whispered:

"Say, nigger, what part of the south are you from?"

"Her royal highness turned on me with a surprised look and replied, 'I'm from South Carolina, boss, but please don't give me away.'"

"I didn't,"—Washington Post.

In Praise of Peace.

Alfred H. Love, the president of the Universal Peace union, told the other day in Philadelphia a peace story.

"At this Christmas season," he said, "men talk sincerely about loving one another, about the universal brotherhood of man, and in the same breath they assert that it is right to burn and maim and kill in war."

"They are not so logical as a young colored recruit who served in the Philippines."

"This young man at the end of his initial engagement was hailed before his captain."

"So you ran at first fire, did you?" said the captain scornfully.

"Yes, sah, an' I'd 'a' run sooner, sah, if I'd knowed it wuz comin'."

"Have you no regard for your reputation, Calhoun?"

"Mah reputation hain't nuffin' to me, sah, 'longside o' mah life."

"The captain smiled and twirled his mustache. Here was an intelligent young man. He'd talk him over to the right point of view."

"Even if you should lose your life, Calhoun," he said, "you'd have the satisfaction of knowing that you had died for your country."

An umbrella dealer cautions against the double use for sun and rain of a rain umbrella. Silk wears, he says, as long as its oil lasts, then it splits and cracks and is gone. The sun dries out the oil; hence its harm.

The Quaternary Period.

Our geologists rarely use the term Quaternary. By European writers it is understood to mean the period which followed the tertiary and includes the present time. Archaeologically it is divided into two epochs, the older including the preglacial, the glacial and the postglacial ages, all characterized by a chipped stone industry, the latter beginning with the neolithic culture and continuing till now.
