Again at the close there was sufficient demand from the short interest, which was averse to leaving contracts uncovered over the three days' holiday to stiffen the price of some of the railroads, but the general tone was easy, owing to a late drive against People's Gas Among those to show notable firmness were Southern Pacific, New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio weakness of People's Gas gave a striking Illustration of the lack of consistency in the minds of professional operators. The other day this stock advanced on the report that a newly organized company in Chicago was in control of interests friendly to People's Gas. The professional intelligence by yesterday had arrived at the conclusion that the formation of this friendly company must be the signal for war upon the Ogden Gas Company, the rival of the People's The stock was accordingly sold industriously at an expense of 2% in its price. The movement in Sugar was about equally important for the news of the day, and was pparently due to the rise in the advance of the refined product which was made on Thursday. The part taken by the profesional element was based on a scrutiny of the source of the orders in the stock, and when the traders thought they could trace elling orders to inside sources they trailed on and sold. Tobacco and Brooklyn Transit were weak during the morning, but partly recovered later in the day. Chicago Terminal preferred lost 214. promise of a strong bank statement to-day

Speculation has maintained its indifferent Wall street this week. About midthere was a stiffening of the market and an appearance of awakened interest, but it proved to be due to nothing more than a large demand from the shorts. The determined abstinence of capital from taking any part in stock operations causes some gloomy forebodings amongst the professional traders that the public interest in listed securities has become permanently impaired. There is no doubt that the wholesale issues of new capital last year, the methods employed to push up prices of noters to realize handsomely and the sub- and vegetables, and on choice stock very fair quent collapse of those stocks made a prices were realized as a rule. The produce men stly experience for a large speculative entingent has impaired the confidence of the general public in the values of securities. However, it is obviously only a question of time when the increment of capital which has been large in the prosperous period of the last few years, must seek a fixture in high-class securities. Owing to the present disparity of money rates here and abroad, and the continuing foreign demand for our merchandise products, there is an obstacle to the settlement of the international trade balance in gold. In fact, he tendency is to still further extend the foreign credits by export of gold as a purchased commodity, to cover the reserve requirements of great foreign banks. As foreigners' needs for our own products continue greater than ours for theirs, and our production of gold makes us at the same me the available source of supply for that metal, there is felt a pressure of special in-lucement to American creditors to refrain from calling home their foreign balances. The higher money rates in Europe, which caused a process of international adjustment very like liquidation, may be not sufficiently taken account of in seeking to explain the current duliness of stock markets. High-grade American securities held abroad found their way into American mixed, 21½c; No. 3 mixed, 20½c.

Bond dealers report a large homeward movement of such securities, which must have been transferred through other than stock market channels, as no evidence is seen there of large transactions. The high rates for money abroad also tempt American creditors to keep their balances out in current loans. But these two processes, although they have been largely operative, have not availed to adjust the disparity in money markets.

There are growing indications that foreign securities will find an active market in New York as a consequence of this state of affairs. Already the American subscription to the British war loan and the subscriptions to Russian railroad bonds by American financial institutions form im portant holdings of foreign securities. Durng the present week overtures have been made to New York bankers to place a loan for the government of Sweden, and there has been active discussion of the establishment of a department of listed foreign government securities on the New York ock Exchange. It is considered inevtable that China must place a large loan to meet demands for war indemnities, and American capital is expected to absorb a portion of such a loan. With these attracions for American capital in foreign fields there is coupled the continued reactionary tendency of business and industry at home, which is not ended by the appreciable increese in demand for fron and fron product: reported this week. The ultimate effect on business, and especially on railroad earn-ings, of the diminished crops remains to be defined. Thus far gross earnings of railroads are well maintained by the close observance of freight rates, but the state-ments of July net carnings, out this week, show the increasing effect upon operating expenses of the high prices for material, especially steel rails and coal and wages. neward course from E Prope of several men influential in past stock marke

This condition of affairs, combined with scmewhat better harvesting weather in the spring wheat territory, coaxed traders to the selling side. September opened at 741/@74%c and sold off tember, 22c. Rye dull and higher; No. 2 a moderate amount sold here, was of sufin moderate quantities came out and the market sagged, September dropping to 73%c and closing weak, %c lower at 74c. New York reported 29 loads taken for export. Seaboard clearances were equal, in wheat and flour, to 613,000 bu. Primary points received 1,046,000 bu, compared with 824,000 bu last year. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 395 cars, against 312 last week and 575 a year ago. Local receipts were 325 cars, 29 of contract grade. The trade in corn was not extensive, and a large proportion of the limited transactions was in the way of preparation for delivery day, that is, getting rid of September purchases and buying instead October rather bearish all day and prices easier. Missouri and Kansas stock, 12c per dozen, loss off, cases returned; new whitewood cases incorn for about 1c discount. Sentiment was Jersey, 12.75c; Caracas, 12.25c; Dutch Java blend, rather bearish all day and prices easier. tember sold between 40%c and 30%c, and closed 4c under yesterday at 394c. Receipts were 209 cars. Country acceptances were still light, although larger than yesterday's. A large amount of changing was done in the corner where oats transactions are carried on. Liquidation of September for deferred futures was general. September sold between 21%c and 21%c, closing %@%c down at 21%c. October closed at 21%@21%c. Receipts were 322 cars. Provisions were moderately active and firm on a good cash business and the expectations of a bullish stock statement tomorrow. The best demand was for lard and ribs, and these held strong, but pork eased off after the bulge. September pork sold between $11.07% and $10.90, and closed 5c under yesterday at $10.90; September lard between $6.70 and $6.75, closing 5@71/2c higher at $6.721/2, and September ribs between $7.15 and $7.071/2, with the close unchanged at
