

CAMERAS

THE H LIEBER COMPANY. 24 West Washington Street.

MONEY

Loaned Salaried People

We advance money to honest salaried people on their own notes without indorsement. If you need money for any purpose whatsoever you need not wait until you save it up, for we will advance it to you and you can pay us back in small weekly or monthly payments. We do not confiscate your employer. Business strictly confidential. Call and get our plan.

Security Mortgage Loan Co. 207 Indiana Trust Building.

SPECIAL SALE

Stiff and Soft Hats

FOR 98c

These are all regular $1.50 and $2 hats in all the popular shapes, and we sell them at this price to make room for new goods. Every odd hat must be sold. This is your opportunity for a bargain.

Danbury Hat Co.

No. 8 East Wash. St.

A Hand Full of Diamonds

May be of priceless value or very mediocre. A single sparkling stone may worth its weight in gold or greatly depreciated in value on account of imperfections. If you are not an expert you had better be sure when you buy diamonds. It stands to reason that a diamond importer, dealing directly with the cutters, is the safest place to make purchases in precious stones. Honesty is the foundation of our diamond trade. On this unalterable basis we have prepared until we hold a position of the largest dealers and ONLY IMPORTERS of diamonds in Indianapolis.

J. C. SIPE, IMPORTER DIAMONDS Rooms 2, 3 and 4, 184 North Meridian St. INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Evening Gloves...

Long lengths, colors are of blue, yellow, mode, tan, black, white, pink, $1.50 to $4.25; elbow to shoulder.

THE SUEDE SHOE CO. 10 EAST WASHINGTON STREET.

COUNTY POOR ASYLUM

A SCATHING REPORT BY THE COUNTY BOARD OF CHARITIES.

The Institution Found in Bad Condition—Recommendation for New Location.

The report of the Marion County Board of Charities and Correction to the County Commissioners, on the County Poor Asylum, was submitted yesterday. It reads as follows:

"The County Board of Charities visited the County Poor Asylum on Dec. 4. We found the building in about the same condition as it was at the time we made our last visit. None of the repairs that we suggested have been made, and the building, in some parts, is in a most deplorable condition. There is an odor throughout the premises that is most insufferable and must be injurious to the health of the inmates. This odor has been very perceptible at every visit we have made. It was thought that when the insane patients were removed the trouble might, in part at least, be overcome; but such is not the case. The ventilation is simply none. There is one room that has no ventilation or light, except what comes from the doorway; and in it two men sleep with the door closed at night. This is an inside room, and is about twelve feet square or less. We are told that the men preferred it. On the next floor and directly over it is a similar room, with the exception that it has two doors; and at night the transom is open. Two men sleep in this room. These rooms should never be used for sleeping apartments, and the fact that the men prefer them is no reason why they should be allowed to sleep in them.

"In the men's department, the bedding is in very bad condition. We recommend that all the comforts be burned and blankets be furnished by their stead. We call your attention to the untidy condition of the clothing of the men, some of which is absolutely unclean.

"We regret that the upper two stories are still occupied, as we think the lives of those who occupy them would be in peril in case of a fire, notwithstanding the so-called fire escapes.

"In the women's department we found a better state of things, though a great improvement can be made. The same order exists there, though not so bad as in the men's department.

"There are two insane who should be taken to the Asylum for the Insane at Julietta. The superintendent informed us there was another who was becoming so fast. The life and condition of the inmates is such that it would be better to give them to insanity. Their time should be occupied in some useful way, so far as possible.

"A careful scrutiny, we believe, would divulge the fact that we are caring for persons who have no claim on Marion county. There are others who, seemingly, are able-bodied and should care for themselves. There are inmates who make use of the asylum for the winter only, thus making a home for themselves at the expense of the county. We learned of one case where a man goes peddling for a week or more and then returns to the asylum and remains until he is ready for another pilgrimage as a peddler. There are inmates who have relatives abundantly able to care for them, but they prefer to stay in the asylum at the expense of the county. There are many who are worthy of the care of the county, and for such there should be great sympathy.

"We recommend that a 'restraining' investigation be made in the case of each and every inmate now in the asylum, or who may apply for admission in the future—(1) as to their claims on Marion county for support; (2) as to the necessity for care; (3) as to ability to care for themselves or of friends to care for them; (4) as to their pecuniary affairs. It is our opinion that the County Poor Asylum, in its present condition, is a disgrace to the county; and in comparison to other similar institutions, it falls far below the average. We believe it would be good policy to sell this property and purchase another and smaller place on the line of some interurban or steam railroad, well built to suit the needs of the institution."

A liberal share of your fire insurance ought to be given to the Indianapolis Fire Insurance Company, a safe, sound and successful company, organized with home capital by Indiana men, who will give your business prompt attention. Office, No. 14 East Market street.

MR. G. T. JARVIS RESIGNS

WELL-KNOWN RAILROAD MAN QUILTS THE WISCONSIN CENTRAL.

He Was Appointed General Manager Four Months Ago—Well Known in This City.

George T. Jarvis, who less than four months ago was appointed general manager of the Wisconsin Central Railroad Company and who went to Milwaukee to assume the duties of that position, has resigned, and his resignation has been accepted by President H. F. Whitcomb and the board of directors. The resignation, is to take effect Jan. 15. Mr. Jarvis's successor has not been selected and no intimation is given by the road's officials as to who he will be. Mr. Jarvis is well known here because of his former connection with the L. E. & W., and his service as receiver of the L. E. & St. L.

What the reason was for Mr. Jarvis's sudden retirement could not be learned from official sources. It is said that he went there expecting to have full charge of the operating department of the railroad and found that his authority in some ways was restricted. It is further said that his authority and that of General Superintendent Sumner J. Collins clashed and that as he did not have full sway he preferred to step out.

Mr. Jarvis's step comes as a complete surprise to local railroad men; for although it was taken some days ago, the subject has been carefully guarded by the officials of the Wisconsin Central. It was not until an inkling of the fact leaked out that any intimation of the resignation was made, and then little beyond an acknowledgment of the truth of the report could be gained from President Whitcomb.

Mr. Jarvis likewise admitted that his resignation had been given and accepted but he did not care to make any statement as to his reason for retiring. His intention, he said, was to return to Louisville, which he left late in September and to resume interests which he still had there. According to the account which was issued by the Wisconsin Central Railroad at the time of Mr. Jarvis's appointment, the general manager, for whom a position was created, had the line, was to have charge of the maintenance, operations and traffic departments, the heads of which would receive their instructions from him and be under his direct supervision. By this plan a large share of the responsibility and labor was removed from President Whitcomb's shoulders, as the latter, when raised to the position of president, while he received, has continued practically to fill two positions. It was understood at the time Mr. Jarvis was appointed that a general manager would shortly be chosen, and the delay in taking the step was reported to have been through a desire to secure the services of railroad men of the very first rank, such as Mr. Jarvis is generally acknowledged to be.

It was through his connection with the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis Railroad that Mr. Jarvis came into prominence, though prior to that time his experience had been of an extended character. He was born in New York in 1830 and worked his way from an apprentice machinist in the Pennsylvania shops to division superintendent. He then went to the L. E. & W., and a few years ago was appointed receiver of the L. E. & St. L.

AN UNUSUAL CASE.

Evidence Brought Out in a Suit Involving a Destroyed Note.

Harry E. Griffiths, a driver for the Adams Express Company, was tried in Justice Smock's court yesterday for malicious trespass and fined $25 and costs. The case in itself was rather unusual, the charge not being for the usual offense of entering upon another's premises but for the destruction of a note. The evidence was also somewhat unusual in that Griffiths's attorney brought out in his examination a point which was not intended.

Several months ago Griffiths gave a note for $25.00 to Otto Fisher. It became due and was unpaid. Fisher turned the note over to Lawyer McCoy for collection. McCoy went to Griffiths's place of employment and told that he did not have the money and to come back at another time. He returned on Jan. 2, and Griffiths asked to see the note. Upon receiving it he turned and deposited it in the flames of a gas stove. Suit was brought for malicious trespass.

Mr. Clark, Griffiths's attorney, when McCoy was on the stand, asked him to tell the jury that he did not have the money and to come back at another time. He returned on Jan. 2, and Griffiths asked to see the note. Upon receiving it he turned and deposited it in the flames of a gas stove. Suit was brought for malicious trespass.

TAGGART AND SULLIVAN.

The Mayor a Partner of the Ex-County Clerk.

Yesterday, at the secretary of state's office, the American Produce Company, of this city, was incorporated, with a capital stock of $5,000. The object of this concern is to sell farm products and own lands for the production of farm products. The main promoters of this new venture are Mayor Taggart, John E. Sullivan and Charles Maguire. The two last-named gentlemen, with William Holt, form the board of directors.

Another Indianapolis concern which was incorporated was the Indianapolis Specialty Shoe Company, with a capital stock of $50,000. The directors are Joseph C. Stubbs, William M. Wilson, J. Frederick Kassebaum, Elmer E. Waddington, Wesley Stalcup, Charles W. Suman and William S. Canfield.

The other incorporation filed was the Standard Leaf Tobacco Company, of Evansville; capital stock, $10,000. Directors, Charles Werner, Ray Werner, Joseph Rice, and J. M. C. Carey.

HAS FIGHTING ABILITY.

Elizabeth Borman Threatens to Whip Another Woman.

Elizabeth Borman, who was plaintiff and defendant in a half dozen or more suits for various offenses about nine months ago, returned yesterday to prosecute the divorce case against Edward J. Borman, who was also one of the litigants in the numerous suits. Most of the cases were then tried in Justice Smock's court and yesterday she went there to see if she could ascertain the whereabouts of her husband and the woman with whom he was charged with living at that time. She was fined by Justice Smock for assault and battery and yesterday told him he would no doubt have more cases of a like character against her as she was going to see the other woman. She was warned that a workhouse sentence awaited her if she was brought into that court on such a charge.

Helpant, to all outward appearances, at least, must enter into the spirit of this novel entertainment, and that this cannot be accomplished unless every one appears in mask. There are no exceptions except to persons over fifty years of age, and these must wear the regulation fool's cap. The scenery for the masquerade has been long in preparation, and the promise is made by the society that they will be different in design from anything yet presented. No one but members is to be invited.

PRESENTED FORGED CHECK.

Harry Lindsey is Arrested by the Detectives.

Harry Lindsey, who gives his residence as 1008 North Missouri street, was arrested last night by detectives at the store of the Indianapolis Paint and Color Company, and charged at police headquarters with forging. He presented a letter at the paint store calling for several sorts of painting materials. The letter was signed "J. C. Dunn, 115 North Illinois street." A check in payment for the goods, which were to be delivered to "bearer," accompanied the letter. The fact that a check for $16, an amount greatly in excess of the bill, and the signature of a man who had never been arrested, aroused suspicion and the detectives were called. Lindsey said he knew nothing of the matter and that he got the letter from a man unknown to him.

JOB FOR AN EX-CONVICT

WARDEN SHIDLER MAKES DAY MOUNT A HAPPY MAN.

It Joseph D. Keith is Executed at the State Prison the Warden Has a New Plan.

People who chanced to be in the lobby of the Denison Hotel about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon noticed two men of stocky build, wearing new black overcoats and black hats, earnestly wring the hand of a third man in a sincere farewell and hurry from the hotel. The man who remained was Warden Shidler, of the State Prison. The two men who shook hands with him so earnestly were ex-convicts. One was Edward McDermott, who was paroled day before yesterday after spending twenty years in prison, and the other was Day Mount, who has just completed a term of three years for petit larceny.

McDermott's parole was carried to him by Frank B. Burke, who twenty years before prosecuted him on the charge of murder at Jeffersonville. McDermott and Mount ended their prison life on Friday night and as Warden Shidler was coming to Indianapolis yesterday he arranged to have both men leave the prison at the same time and accompany him to this city. McDermott was on his way to his home in Jeffersonville and Mount knew not where he was going. The warden with his wife and little son arrived at the hotel about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. On the way to Indianapolis yesterday the warden talked a good deal with McDermott and Mount. The men who remained were waiting for him at home. Mount was apparently drift. He had a new suit of clothes and overcoat, a railroad ticket and ten dollars in money when he left the prison yesterday morning.

On the way to Indianapolis he spoke very discouragingly to the warden about his prospects. "I don't know what I'm to do," he said, and the pathos in his voice touched the warden's heart. "I'll just get you a job," said the warden, and when the train arrived at the Union Station he told Mount to come to the Denison Hotel in an hour. Arriving at the hotel the warden at once called up one of his friends in another city by long distance telephone and procured a place for him. Within a few minutes McDermott and Mount arrived at the hotel together. McDermott had been twenty years had been shut out from the world looked about him in a dazed sort of way. He had almost left together when the latter learned that a place had been procured for him. "You'll never regret this," he said to the warden as he shook hands at parting. "I've been in prison before and I know it is things like this that keep men out of prison." McDermott was also affected as he took the warden's words. "You have the respect of every man in that prison," he said, "for they know that although they are in prison they are not forgotten. They are waiting for you to get justice." McDermott had been in prison so long that he could not remember the date of his release. On the train yesterday morning Warden Shidler gave him the first cigar he had smoked in twenty years.

THE AMPHION CLUB.

Ossip Gabriilowitch Will Be the Next Soloist.

Members of the Amphion Club are taking unusual interest in rehearsals for their next concert, Jan. 30, at the German House. Mr. Ernestinoff has arranged a most attractive programme and the club members are exerting their best efforts to make it proportion the most artistic in its history.

The club was founded for the purpose of giving to Indianapolis the very best there is in music and the members feel confident that the coming concert will add an additional triumph to their efforts in that line, and are sparing neither time, pains nor expense to accomplish their laudable undertaking.

The soloist for the evening will be Ossip Gabriilowitch, the eminent Russian pianist, whose success in Europe has been great and who has created a furor at every appearance he has made in this country since his first appearance here in 1890.

Gabriilowitch was born in St. Petersburg, Nov. 26, 1833. The youngest son of a well-known lawyer, he revealed such an extraordinary love for tones and rhythms that at the age of four he sang old Russian melodies which his nurse had hummed. When he was six he received his first piano lesson from his brother, and later at the hands of a lady of the city, Professor Tolstoft at the Conservatorium. It was about this time that his family seriously considered the future vocation of the child and concluded to less an authority than the master of masters, Anton Rubinstein. Ossip played, and directed by Rubinstein himself, he must devote himself to the study of music.

The solid foundation of his proficiency as a pianist was laid by Professor Tolstoft at the Conservatorium, though every stage in his progress to perfection was overseen and directed by Rubinstein himself. When he reached sixteen the lad had captured all the prizes, and won all the honors of his class. Better than this, he gained the affection and interest of his master, and retained them until the death of that musical genius. For ten years Gabriilowitch visited Rubinstein weekly at Petersburg, played for him, listened to him, and treasured his advice. He decided to go to Vienna in 1851. In two years he had carried all before him, and played in most of the best English, Vienna and Graz with brilliant success.

Big Four Brakeman Killed. J. Edward Gallivan, a Big Four brakeman, was killed yesterday near Lafayette by jumping from a train. His head struck on a pile of ties alongside of the track and death was instantaneous.

Signs were laid by Professor Tolstoft and called Gallivan and another brakeman from the way car, and it was thought that the signs caused him to become excited and jump off in fear of a collision.

William G. Young Pardoned. Governor Mount yesterday granted a pardon to William G. Young, sent to prison from Connersville a few years ago on conviction of forgery. Young was paroled about a year ago, since which time his conduct is said to have been exemplary.

Norman McDermott's Arrest. Norman McDermott, a barber, living at 602 South Meridian street, was arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Hoits and Wallace and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. He admitted having gone about among merchants and solicited advertisements for a programme of an entertainment which he was to have given New Year's evening at Masonic Hall. He had the advertisements set up, and after securing a proof of the programme, collected for the advertisements. The entertainment was never given. He claims he did the work for an unknown man, whom he met at the Union Station.

The greatest Trade Event OF THE SEASON

Another Demonstration of BLISS, SWAIN & CO.'S Modern Methods The Most Important of This Season's Two Cut-Price Sales

Our Entire Stock of Up-to-Date Furnishings Will Be Sacrificed

This sale will begin to-morrow morning, and you can take choice of Shirts, Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Suspenders, Night Shirts, Handkerchiefs, Jewelry, Collars and Cuffs (except E. & W.), Mackintoshes, Bath Robes, Smoking Jackets, Umbrellas, Canes, Neckwear, etc.; in fact, every article in our great Furnishing Department

At 25 Per Cent. Discount--One-Fourth Off Regular Prices

The following explains our reason and shows the genuineness of this sale: We have engaged Mr. John Kirkwood (for the last sixteen years with the Model Clothing Store) as manager and buyer in our Furnishing Goods Department. He enters upon his duties to-morrow morning. That he may not be handicapped with the ideas of our former manager, we have decided to sell out our present stock, no matter what the loss may be. Notwithstanding that every article in this great sale is new and up to date, they will be offered at 25% discount and backed by our guarantee. If you need Furnishing Goods, come to this sale.

Remember the Goods are All New and at One-Fourth Off Regular Prices

Reduced Prices on All Overcoats--Now Is the Time to Buy

All-Wool Kersey and Covert Overcoats, stylish in cut and well made, former $7.50 price $10, are now..... $7.50

Blue and Black Kersyes, Coverts, Cambridge and Oxford Vicunas that we have sold all season at $15, are now.. $10.00

Most exceptional selection of Blue and Black Kersyes, Frieze and Vicunas that were $18 and worth $18, are now $13.50

Fine tailor-made, richly-trimmed, perfect-fitting Overcoats, in all the new fabrics, that were $20, are now..... $15.00

Serge-lined also satin and worsted-lined Vicunas, in all the new shades, that we have sold all season at $25, are now..... $18.50

Our fine $30 Overcoats, the best for the price that was ever shown in this city, are now..... $20.00

All $35 Overcoats Are Now $25 All $40 Overcoats Are Now $30

This is the first sweeping slaughter of values for 1901 and it is a great one, because genuine and in first class merchandise.

CLOTHING, HATS AND FURNISHINGS

THE SLAUGHTER of prices on Furnishing Goods commences to-morrow morning. Come early, as the best is bound to go first. BLISS, SWAIN & CO. THE PROGRESS, STEVENSON BUILDING, INDIANAPOLIS

NOTICE

The Occidental Pharmacy. Everybody Invited to come to see the new Drug Store. WILL OPEN Monday Morning at 10 O'Clock. Carnations Given Away

THE SMOKERS PREFER MERCANTILE. BECAUSE THE JOBBERS' PROFIT IS ADDED TO THE QUALITY. F. R. RICE M. C. CO., MANUFACTURERS, ST. LOUIS, MO. UNION MADE.

Pride of Maryland Diamonds... $1.00. A Ten-Year-Old Rye Whiskey Distilled by Monticello Distilling Co. C. L. ROST, Diamond Merchant. 15 North Illinois St.

J. T. POWER & SON, Distributors for State of Indiana. THE SAKS STORES, Washington and Pennsylvania Sts.

Men's Overcoats. LARGEST STOCK IN INDIANA. SAKS & COMPANY. Everything for Housekeeping. Cash or Credit.

The Reliable Furniture and Carpet Co., 32, 34, 36 SOUTH ILLINOIS STREET. ANGELUS. Can be attached to your piano. Call and hear it play.

Journal Printing Co. The Mercantile Guide and Bureau Co., Props. R. W. LOWRY, Mgr. E. H. LOWRY, Agt. 228 West Maryland Street, Long Distance Phones 00, INDIANAPOLIS.

Julius C. Walk & Son. INDIANA'S LEADING JEWELERS. Established 1856. No. 13 East Wash. St.