

REBUKE FOR MILES

LIEUTENANT GENERAL OF ARMY REGARDED AS TOO OFFICIALS.

Stinging Rebuke Administered by the Secretary of War and Approved by the President.

FULL TEXT OF CORRESPONDENCE

RELATING TO MILES'S REQUEST TO BE PHILIPPINE "DICTATOR."

Statements in the General's Application Shown to Be Untrue and His Plan Criticized.

MILES TOO "SPECTACULAR"

WANTED TO DO THINGS FOR WHICH THERE WAS NO AUTHORITY.

Also Desired to Rob Philippines of Troops in Order to Pose as a Leader of Allies in China.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The President today sent to the House of Representatives the correspondence and papers bearing on the request of Lieutenant General Miles to be assigned to duty in the Philippines. The papers were sent to the House in response to a resolution introduced by Mr. Burleson, of Texas, and passed by that body. They are as follows:

"To the House of Representatives: In response to the following resolution of the House of Representatives of March 26, 1902: 'Resolved, That the President of the United States be and he is hereby respectfully requested, if not incompatible with the public interest, to transmit to the House copies of all correspondence relating to and papers bearing on the matter of the reported request of Lieutenant General Miles to be assigned to duty in the Philippines, and to be allowed to be put into effect there a plan to take the Philippines out of a cessation of hostilities, I transmit herewith copies of all the papers upon which final action in the matter was taken. Since such final action, and since the introduction of said resolution, a further memorandum has been received from the Lieutenant General Miles, and I transmit also a copy thereof, together with the action thereon.'"

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
White House, March 29, 1902."

TEXT OF CORRESPONDENCE.

General Miles Asks Permission to Go to the Philippines.

Headquarters of the Army, Washington, Feb. 17, 1902.
Sir: I have the honor to invite attention to a subject that I have had under consideration for several months, and to request that this letter be laid before the President.

It is now three years since the opening of hostilities between the United States forces and those in the Philippine Islands. This war has been conducted with marked severity. More than 120,000 United States troops have been at different times sent or are now under orders to go to the Philippines, and more than 40,000 still remain on duty there, which service, with the assistance of the naval forces, involves an enormous expenditure of public money as well as the loss of many valuable lives.

During the past century thousands of Indians have been called to the Capitol for consultation and council, and have, under authority, sent to Washington many red-handed representatives of different tribes of Indians, the result of which has been a reconciliation, a restoration of confidence, the prevention of war, and the establishment and continuance of peace within the States and Territories.

Our friendly relations with the people of Cuba and Porto Rico have been largely promoted by consultation with the representatives of the islands, and it is in the light of this that I have been able to bring to the capital such number of representative Philippine officials, and to make them acquainted with the true condition of the islands in order that they may see and know the advantages of our civilization and realize the disposition of our government to reward them at the same time affording an opportunity for a full consultation whereby intelligent and direct action may be taken concerning their future destiny. It is confidently believed that such measures could then be taken as would be satisfactory and beneficial to the ten millions of inhabitants of the Philippine Islands and highly creditable to our government. By this means we would be fully informed of the conditions and wants of the people of these islands, and they, on the other hand, would become fully apprised of the purpose and final disposition of our government toward them. This need not reflect in the slightest degree upon the services of the military nor interfere with the civil government that have been or are to be established.

Should this request be approved I am confident it would result in a better condition of our military and civil government. In the cessation of hostilities within a reasonable time, thereby permitting the return of a large number of troops from these remote and unhealthy stations, and I would hope in an amicable adjustment of affairs in these islands which would be satisfactory to the inhabitants thereof as well as to the people of the United States. Very respectfully,
NELSON A. MILES,
Lieutenant General Commanding United States Army.

Miles's Plan Disapproved.
War Department, Washington, March 5. Respectfully forwarded to the President.

The conduct of military affairs in the Philippines by General Chaffee and his predecessors, and the conduct of civil affairs by Governor Taft and his associates in the Philippine Commission, have been able and successful. Much more rapid progress has been made toward the complete acceptance of American sovereignty, the restoration of peace and the establishment of civil government than we had any right to anticipate when the treaty of Paris was ratified. The plan proposed in the within paper involves practically superseding the officers mentioned in the control which they now exercise. Not only is this without justification in their conduct, but I should regard it as a most unfortunate interference with the present satisfactory progress. There have been exceedingly full, extended and long-continued consultation and counsel between the government of the United States and the leaders of opinion among the insurrectionary Filipinos, resulting in a full understanding and most friendly feeling between by far the greater part of the Filipino people and ourselves and a participation by many members of the Aguinaldo government in the civil government in American sovereignty.

I append hereto a list of twenty-three officers of the insurrectionary government who now hold positions of trust under our government. Aguinaldo himself has taken the position of earnestly urging his countrymen to accept our sovereignty, and most of them have already followed his advice. It is not perceived that any additional benefit would be obtained by taking delegations of Cubans and Porto Ricans to the Philippines, or by bringing delegations from the Philippines to the United States, in advance of the choice of official delegates provided for by the bill now pending in Congress.

On the other hand, it would be very difficult to keep such a proceeding free from spectacular and sensational features, which would be injurious.

It is not the fact that the warfare in the Philippines has been conducted with marked severity, on the contrary, the warfare has been conducted with marked humanity and magnanimity on the part of the United States Army.

ELIOT H. ROOT, Secretary of War.

Conclusions of the Secretary of War are hereby approved.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
White House, March 26, 1902.

Filipinos Given Places of Trust.

List of men who have served under Aguinaldo and at present hold positions of trust under the American government:

Czare Arellano, chief justice of the Supreme Court, was secretary of state in the first Cabinet of the revolutionary government.

Florentino Torres, associate justice, was chairman of a board to confer with another president over by General Hughes before the (CONTINUED ON PAGE 4, COL. 2)

JONES IS BADLY BEATEN

CLARKE WILL BE THE NEXT SENATOR FROM ARKANSAS.

Claims to Have Carried Fifty Out of Seventy-Five Counties in the Democratic Primaries.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 29.—Advice from various parts of the State show that a heavy vote was polled today in the Democratic primaries for United States senator. Governor, congressmen, state and local officers. The contest between Senator James K. Jones and ex-Governor James P. Clarke for United States senator was upmost and drew out the full voting strength.

At ex-Governor Clarke's headquarters this evening it was claimed he would have eighty-six members in the Legislature, or nineteen more than necessary on joint ballot for United States senator. This claim was disputed at the headquarters of Senator Jones. The entire returns were forwarded to Clarke. Returns are coming in slowly, but all indications are that Gov. Davis is running ahead of Clarke and will defeat Colonel E. W. Rector for Governor by a good majority.

At 12 o'clock to-night the Clarke managers increased their estimate to ninety on a joint ballot, advice indicating that such large counties as Washington and Benton were carried by him. The claim is now made that Clarke has carried fifty out of seventy-five counties.

Senator Jones retired for the night without giving out a statement. The latest returns indicate a landslide for ex-Governor Clarke and that he will have between eighty and ninety of the 122 members of the Legislature on joint ballot for United States senator. Governor Jefferson Davis has won the nomination for a second term over Col. E. W. Rector by a large majority.

SECRETARY HAY TOOBUSY

COMPELLED TO DECLINE THE INVITATION TO VISIT INDIA.

Would Like to Deliver the Oration at the Soldiers' Monument Dedication, but Cannot Leave His Duties.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Indian state officials were very much disappointed this afternoon when Secretary of State John Hay informed them that it would be impossible for him to accept the invitation to deliver the dedicatory oration at the dedication of the soldiers' monument at Manila. The officials were introduced to the secretary by Senator Fairbanks, and Attorney General Taylor delivered the invitation. He said that inasmuch as Mr. Hay was a native of Indiana, where he lived during his boyhood days, and was perfectly familiar by experience with the affairs of the state from the time of Lincoln to McKinley and Roosevelt, he, above all others, should deliver the address dedicating Indiana's gift in memory of the brave soldiers and sailors who fought for the country and sacrificed their lives during the great war of the rebellion. Secretary Hay stated he would like very much to accept the invitation, but that it would be absolutely impossible for him to do so, as he had been compelled to decline invitations to deliver addresses at more than twenty places during the past month, and that he declines one he must decline all. It would be impossible for him to accept one-third of the requests and attend to the business of his office.

The officials are not instructed by the military to deliver the oration. This is to be done by any other person in Washington, and do not know who will next be invited to deliver the address.

Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks entertained their Indiana friends this evening by a "buffy pull." A few days ago Senator Proctor, of Vermont, presented Senator Fairbanks with a supply of maple molasses from Vermont. To-night, at the invitation of the senator and Mrs. Fairbanks, the guests of a large number of friends from the remote and unhealthy stations, and I would hope in an amicable adjustment of affairs in these islands which would be satisfactory to the inhabitants thereof as well as to the people of the United States. Very respectfully,
NELSON A. MILES,
Lieutenant General Commanding United States Army.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brooks, of Bedford, are visiting in Washington. Mr. Brooks is interested with John R. Walsh in the Indiana limestone which they desire to use in the construction of the Indianapolis federal building.

SCANDAL RECALLED.

May Yohe and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong Returning from Japan.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

YOKOHAMA, March 29.—Among the passengers of the German mail steamer Klausdorp, which sailed for America March 8, were May Yohe (Lady Francis Hope) and Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong.

SOME EASTER NOTES.

ARE THOSE FOR EASTER OR FOR EASTER? THAT IS THE QUESTION.

WANTED A GIANT HARE TO HOLD DOWN THE EASTER JOB HERE.

PROSPERITY.

HEN: BY WHAT RIGHT DO YOU USURP MY PROFESSION?

ACTOR.

A SOLILOQUY.

MISS STONE IN LONDON.

AT THE HOME OF A FRIEND TRYING TO ELUDE REPORTERS.

SAYS SHE IS VERY TIRED, BUT GLAD TO BE AWAY FROM THE SCENES OF HER CAPTIVITY.

MACEDONIA MUCH TROUBLED.

IT IS SEETHING, SHE SAYS, AND SOMETHING MAY HAPPEN.

CONSUL GENERAL DICKINSON NOW PERSONA NON GRATA AT SOFIA, THE BULGARIAN CAPITAL.

LONDON, March 29.—Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, arrived in London today. She said to a representative of the Associated Press, "I am very tired, but I am glad to be here. I cannot reiterate too often my thanks to my many friends of the other side. I shall be delighted to get home once more."

Miss Stone listened eagerly to the reading of a copy of the dispatch detailing the interview with her at Vienna on Thursday night last. "Yes," she said, "that's just what I said and the way I feel. I cannot say any more than is known about the causes of the kidnapping. The idea that Tsiska had anything to do with it is just as absurd and cruel as when some people said that I had connived at my own abduction."

"Yes, Macedonia is a very troubled state. It is seething. What is going to happen, I cannot say. The government must settle with us to make amends for our capture."

"Throughout my captivity I felt the hand of God guiding and protecting me. Why people are so anxious to see me and hear what I have got to say puzzles me. If I had done something myself I could not understand, but I was only an unwilling agent to the incident which I hope and pray will eventually benefit the work of the gospel in Bulgaria and Turkey."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone. Some of the soldiers who had been in the brigades in search of her, while she talked Miss Stone constantly played with her umbrella and started nervously at any noise. The lines of her face show the anxiety she has gone through."

Ray Stannard Baker, who brought Miss Stone from Salonica to London, said: "The interest Miss Stone created was extraordinary. All through Turkey and Servia the crowds waiting at the stations pressed around the car in the hope of seeing Miss Stone.