

For County Commissioner

To the voters, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Wards: This is to remind you that I am still running for Commissioner on the Democrat ticket to succeed Mr. Sterne.

I have an old-fashioned notion that it takes more than a good clerk and more than a hustling vote getter to make a good County Commissioner, and I think my business experience qualifies me for the office.

While I want to be up to date in matters pertaining to the duties of the office, I have no notion of turning the world over. I did my share of "reforming" years ago, and the best thing I did was to reform myself.

You have probably decided how you will vote tomorrow, but if you haven't, do it now. I respectfully ask your support.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Remington will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow and will receive their friends at their house, 1324 West street, in honor of the occasion, from three to nine o'clock. No formal invitations have been issued but all their friends are asked to call, and especially the members of the old Musical Union.

A Topeka man bought one of those be-feathered green Alpine hats that look just like a picture in the Filigende Blatter in Europe last summer but he hasn't had the courage to wear it in Topeka, Kansas, yet. A number of the conservative green hats are seen here however, and really don't look at all extreme in spite of the advertising they have received. The green Alpine hat, originally intended for mountain wear, has been pretty generally adopted for business wear in the big towns.

Miss Allabelle Troutman gave a tea this afternoon for Miss Nellie Baker of Lathrop, Missouri, who arrived in Topeka Friday and will be here a number of weeks the guest of Miss Troutman. Mrs. Warren M. Crosby and Mrs. William F. Brown, and Mrs. Ernest Huntington Ware of Kansas City, guest of Mrs. Chester Woodward.

In honor of a number of visiting members of the sorority the Sigma Delta Psi girls of Washburn gave an informal afternoon at the home of Miss Grace Kountz today. The visiting girls are Miss Bertha Dinsmore of Troy, Miss Charlotte Lyle of Glen Elder, Miss Edith Thompson of Minneapolis, Miss Frances Brown of Anthony. The invitations were limited to the sorority.

Mrs. John Bradley will entertain the Fillmore street whist club Thursday afternoon.

In the accompanying illustration is shown a charming model for a dress hat, the original being in shades of crushed raspberry. The trimming consisted of a garland of silk apples, with green leaves, and the curved novelty aigrettes were of the raspberry color. The crown of the hat was a sort of draped "Tam O'Shanter" and the brim came down snugly over the hair.

The new officers of the Kansas Equal Suffrage association elected Sunday evening at her home. Mrs. A. H. Horton, president; Mrs. L. D. Monroe and Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter, vice presidents; Mrs. J. D. McFarland, secretary; Miss Helen N. Eacker of Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. E. Rice of Lawrence, Mrs. Lottie A. Case and Mrs. William Essick of Kansas City, auditors. The association will ask at the hands of the coming state legislature a concurrent resolution to strike out the word male from our constitution, thereby giving the women of Kansas full citizenship.

Mrs. Fred Cole was the hostess of the D. D. Whist club today.

The Duplicate Whist club will meet tomorrow (14th) Mrs. George M. Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Lederman gave a Halloween party for their niece Miss Anita Welsch Saturday night at her home in Potwin Place. The party was in especially attractive Halloween decorations and was lighted by jack-o-lanterns in the spooky glow of which the company of little girls and boys in ghost costumes made an impressive picture.

The Shawnee County Medical society holds its regular monthly business meeting at the Throop hotel tonight at eight o'clock. Drs. Chas. W. Schwartz, F. H. Scholle, L. B. Bushong, C. A. McGuire and S. G. Stewart are all among the speakers at these meetings.

Thirty-five fire alarms were turned in for the month of October. And this is the greatest number ever reported for a single month since the organization of the department. Only one was anywhere near a disastrous fire and this one was due only to the lack of sufficient water pressure.

"Bob" Piggs, who Saturday commenced serving a 180 days sentence, with a $500 fine attachment, in the county jail, wants to be permitted to leave the institution on election day long enough to vote. The matter will be passed on later but judging from former decisions bearing on similar cases Mr. Piggs' vote will not be counted.

Two men on a street car were talking politics today and the argument got warm. One man declared that Taft had walked away from the other shoved a roll of bills in the Taft supporter's face and offered to bet the bundle that Bryan would be the next president. The bet was accepted at even money and the coin was put up with a stakeholder then and there. The sum wagered was $50.

Hundreds of houses in Topeka east of Quincy street and north of Eighth have pictures of the choice for president hung in their front windows. The sixth precinct of the Second ward runs two to one for Bryan. Over in Oakland the Nebraskan and Ohiosan divide the honors. But in the front windows of one residence hangs the pictures of both Bryan and Taft. The man of the house is evidently for one of the nominees while the good wife has other thoughts. A house divided against itself shall fall.

pressive picture. The invitations included were: Miss Mary Nowers, Miss Lora Norton, Miss Ruth Thomas, Miss Dorothy Nichols, Miss Mary Calkins, Miss Lucille Elmore, Miss Ruth Thompson, Miss Ruth Larimer, Miss Alice Hughes, Miss Frances Sim, Miss Joanna Gled, Miss Gertrude Gray, Miss Ruby Hoatson, Miss Olive Knox, Miss Magdeline McCoy, Miss Alberta Kasea, Miss Opal Hively, Miss Mary Hughes, Miss Mary Thomas, Miss Hester Barber, Miss Ariel Nichols, Miss Ruth Kaster, Miss Cynthia Monroe, Miss Maude McVey, Miss Pauline McVey, Miss Dorothy Hadley, Stewart Ripley, Thomas Dewey, Fred Worley, Dean Lininger, Louis Hoatson, Chester Thomas, Vernon West, William Whitcomb, Robert Whitcomb, Richard Whitcomb, Chester Carter, Gregory Prout, William Doran, Arthur Poole, Guy Brier, James Brier, Horace Gardner, Kenneth Roubush, Herbert Tucker, Schuyler Wehe, Joe Kasea, Armin Weiskirch, Harry Bennett, Otto Reinisch and Theodore Smith.

A very smart blouse of cloth in a dark shade of brown is shown in the accompanying sketch. The yoke and collar are of ecru satin. The broad tucks over the shoulders give the required fullness, while the cut-out piece of cloth, finished with cord and cloth-covered buttons, as shown, makes a very effective trimming. The sleeves are ornamented with cloth-covered buttons and finished at the wrist with a full of lace.

Mrs. J. M. Brunt will entertain her five hundred club Wednesday afternoon.

A surprise party was given Mrs. J. H. Pendleton, 242 Lincoln street, Friday night in celebration of her birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ticknor, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Kerns, Mr. and Mrs. Leu Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hornsby, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Woster, Mrs. Hanna, Miss Odessa Scott, Bertha Hornsby, Mr. Bennett Hornsby, John and Ruth Hornsby, Jimmie Kerns, Leona Smith, Loyd Smith, Dolly Smith, Ollie Smith, Edna Smith, and Eugene Clark, Ralph Scott.

Mrs. E. A. Myers gave a family dinner Sunday evening at her home, 1127 Monroe street. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Fiedlerling, Miss Frances Fiedlerling, Miss Ethel Nagle, Mr. Ray Myers, Mr. Ed Myers.

STILL HAS THE $5,000

Clerk Dick Thomas Can't Get Rid of This Money.

The sensational decision in district court today, was the decision of Judge Dana in the case of Barnes against Barnes.

On October 3, the sons of the late S. Barnes were suing the widow, her stepmother, for the insurance money due as the result of their father's death. While the case was pending, the two companies involved, to avoid personal contact with the case, had paid their premiums to R. L. Thomas, clerk of the district court, with instructions to hold the same until a decision of court was given. The two companies, which the late Mr. Barnes was insured, one for $3,000 and the other for $2,000, made no objection to paying the premiums, and although they were made defendants in the suit, did not appear by attorney, merely wishing to pay the premiums to the stepmother, widow of Barnes. Attorney Robert Stone, for the other heirs, asked the court to withhold decision in the case until the following Monday, as the verdict was rendered on Saturday, knocking out two of the three days allowed for the appeal or notice of appeal. On Monday, Stone again appeared and asked for further extension of time. There was no clear understanding between the court and the attorney, and the result was that the case presumably went by default. The attorney for the widow demanded the $5,000 from Mr. Thomas, clerk of the court, and he almost gave it up before it occurred to him to ask the court for instructions. He found the court still in contention, and held out. Today, in regular motion docket, Attorney Stone asked that the judgment for Mrs. Barnes be set aside. The attorneys for both sides argued heatedly. Attorney Z. T. Hazen asserting that the case was closed, and the verdict passed by default. After two hours of heated argument, the court announced that, instead of setting aside the judgment, the judgment would be extended to date from October 31, giving the attorneys for the heirs a chance to appeal. In the meantime, Judge Dana ordered the attorneys to pay the $5,000, the case for getting mixed to such an extent that they had failed to note the day of decision. The $5,000, therefore, still remains in the hands of clerk of the court, Mr. R. L. Thomas.

The disturbance closed today with an exception to the rules of the court, taken by Judge Hazen. Therefore the case is still far from appeal.

AMUSEMENTS.
At the Grand.

A more dainty, sprightly and entertainingly and never seen in Topeka than Miss Hattie Fox, who has a role in "The Gelsa" and "The Opera company," that gives her a chance to show her versatility. Her songs and dances are new and full of originality and action. Arthur Wooley will be entrusted with the comedy role. He needs no introduction. His comedy has always been of a clean cut order and free from horseplay as to merit praise. Eight years with the Henry W. Savage Castle Square Opera company as principal comedian, with Edna May, in the "School Girl," and then as "King Dodo," is a most extraordinary recommendation. The Gelsa will be given tonight and also tomorrow night. Election returns will be announced from the stage.

The new programme of moving pictures to be presented by Lyman H. Howe at the Grand on Thursday and Friday with a matinee Friday, comedy, travel, science and nature, in a musical atmosphere so happily and smoothly, so cleverly that it virtually transports the spectator to magic lands where all is sublimely beautiful as in the automobile trip through Savoy, France, or resplendent as ice and snow-bound Niagara, or impressive as the historic ruins of India. These scenic features are remarkable for their photographic quality as well as for their diversity and dignity.

Mr. Charles B. Hanford's present tour has been made the occasion of the most brilliant series of productions with which he has ever been associated. This is playing much for Mr. Hanford is recognized today as a leader in his profession; one who preserves its most worthy traditions and yet who believes in providing every accessory that modern stage craft can devise. Only the best plays that have graced the English language engage Mr. Hanford's interest. This season he will present a series of resplendent productions of "The Merchant of Venice," "Othello," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Much Ado About Nothing," and "The Winter's Tale." The date of Mr. Hanford's engagements at the Grand opera house is Saturday matinee and November 7, on which occasion he will present "Much Ado About Nothing" at the matinee and "The Winter's Tale" at night.

The Novelty Theater's Bill.
The management of the Novelty theater promises a treat to the patrons of that playhouse this week in the bill of high class vaudeville offered. Principal among the acts is the famous Hawaiian quintet, which has won great popularity in all the large cities where this company of singers has appeared. Clayton and Drew are declared to be leaders among the players of travesty in vaudeville and Herbert's troupe of trained dogs is a big drawing card on any bill. Markee Brothers contribute an amusing musical comedy skit, and P. B. Hamlin will sing illustrated songs, while the Viascope will show an entirely new series of moving pictures. The results of the general election will be

At the Majestic.
The Majestic, starting with today's matinee, have the Bottomly Troupe, one of the greatest casting acts in vaudeville. Florence Modena & Co., sketch "Bargain Mad." This is the first comedy act that has ever played Topeka. Fred Morton, harmonica player and card manipulator; Irene Bulger, character actress; Miss Bertha Greenwald, vocalist, complete the bill. Miss Greenwald reaches the highest note of any singer in the world. Mr. Karl Hummel and the Majestic orchestra round out the program. This will make one of the best bills the Majestic theater has played this season.

HOW GRANT LEARNED TO SMOKE
The Story of His Beginning—Is Told by His Son.

Detroit, Nov. 2.—Major General Fred D. Grant, who is presiding at the general martial now in session at Fort Wayne, in the western suburbs of this city, said to some friends here that the cigar that initiated his father, the late President U. S. Grant, into the tobacco smoking habit really figured out the battle of the world in the battle of Fort Donelson. Speaking of this incident, General Grant said:

"My father was in conference with Admiral Foote on the latter's flagship and had just accepted a cigar from the admiral when word came to him that the left flank of his forces was being repulsed. Hurrying ashore and galloping on a fleet horse to the battlefield, he succeeded in rallying his force so completely that chaos was turned into victory. General Grant had to comply with my father's demand for an unconditional surrender."

The newspapers took up the fact that father had rushed from the warship to the battlefield without taking an admiral's cigar from his mouth. The dispatches from the front told how father had come onto the battlefield "cool and collected" and peacefully smoking a long black cigar.

"People who read the story began sending congratulations and presents of cigars. Tens of thousands of cigars came and my father smoked them all. He did not smoke as many cigars as people imagined he did. Sometimes one cigar that he would frequently relight would last him from breakfast to luncheon. It was the fact that he almost constantly held a cigar between his fingers that made people describe him as a great smoker."

General Grant said that his father tried to acquire the smoking habit at West Point just because the rules forbade smoking. His attempts at smoking while he was a cadet, however, made him very sick and when he left West Point he practically gave them up. During the Mexican war General Grant and his father took a long smoke break. General Grant found that they agreed with him, but when he returned to the north he again dived into the habit of smoking to return it after the Fort Donelson incident.
