All Run Down

When your vitality is low, you are miserable all the time. Your nerves are weak and your appetite is poor. You have no ambition, and you are languid and depressed all the time.

What you need is a good strong tonic, as described by Mrs. H. Austin, of Wellington, New Zealand. She sends her photograph and says: "I was so weak and tired all the time that I could not sleep at night. Or, if I did sleep, I was as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was all run down. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking two bottles I found myself greatly improved, and soon I was completely restored to health. I think it is a great family medicine."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations "Sarsaparillas." Be sure you get Ayer's.

You will improve faster by using Ayer's Pills with the Sarsaparilla. Take just enough each night to have one good, free movement of the bowels the day following.

MCCANDLESS WANTS REFINERY.

Shows How Planters Are Losing Money by Agreement.

Honolulu, February 25.—"I cannot see why the sugar agents here do not get together and protest against the treatment they are receiving at the hands of the sugar trust—or why they don't refine their own sugar," said Senator L. L. McCandless yesterday. "If they don't it won't be long before the main industry of the Islands is wiped out."

"We were examining the statistics on sugar production and sugar consumption in the United States the other day. Now, Louisiana last year produced 300,000 long tons of raw sugar, Porto Rico, 85,000 tons; the Philippines, 90,000 tons; Hawaii, 375,000 long tons, and in the United States proper were produced 195,000 tons of beet sugar, making a total production in the United States and her Territories of 1,035,000 tons. Hawaii, therefore, shipped 35 per cent. of all the sugar produced in the United States. During the same time, also, the people of America consumed 2,566,108 tons, so that Hawaii grows one-sixth of all the sugar used in the United States. And here is Hawaii selling her product to the sugar trust at 3/4 and 1/2 per cent. off the market price at San Francisco and New York respectively. Not only that, when sugar is quoted on the continent at 3.96, for instance, in some way the New York quotation made by the trust is about 3.46, and Hawaii not only gets her 1/2 of 1 per cent. less than the market price, but also the 1/2 cent per pound less which marks the difference between the actual value of sugar and the valuation placed upon it by the trust.

"Now, I don't believe in accepting the dictation of the trust any longer. Why should we sell our sugar to the trust at 1/2 per cent. less than the New York market, or 3/4 less than the San Francisco price. I believe that the planters here can put on the market refined sugar at the prices that raw sugar is now selling for in New York, with the rebate allowed to the trust, by building a refinery in New York or Philadelphia.

"The people here should get together. Think of a community like Hawaii, which produces 35 per cent. of the raw sugar of the United States and one-sixth of the sugar consumed in the United States, allowing itself to be dictated to by the sugar trust and told what we should do with our own sugar. If it keeps on the planters here will eventually be forced out of business.

"Some people say that the trust will fight us. Suppose it does. We have one-sixth of the sugar and refine it ourselves, while the trust has five-sixths and for every dollar we lose the trust will lose five. Spreckels defeated the trust and compelled it to come to his terms, and he had only thirteen millions behind him. What is to prevent us from going in and building a refinery and marketing our own sugar. I know it will take money, about thirty millions to handle our crop every year. But we have the property here on which to borrow money and I am willing that my interest shall be hypothecated to get the funds needed to fight for our rights. There are twenty million dollars worth of property on Oahu alone and it ought not to be difficult to raise money sufficient to build a refinery. Most of the plantations have a two years' contract with the trust, but it will take that length of time to build a refinery and get ready to market the refined product. It would be a good thing if a refinery could be erected in the islands somewhere, but this is not feasible because of the damage to refined sugar in shipping by sea. And a plant in New York or Philadelphia would be in the center of the eastern market."

PUNCHBOWL CRATER.

May be Fortified by War Department.

Honolulu, Feb. 25.—Punchbowl may be created a live crater for war purposes in the Federal scheme of fortifying Honolulu against the possible attacks of enemies. A former consideration of Honolulu's peerless lookout mountain, about whose base some of the prettiest suburbs are clustered, for a formidable citadel resulted in abandonment of the idea as not of the best military science.

Now, it is authoritatively announced, the War Department is again taking up the question of establishing a powerful land battery upon Punchbowl. Colonel McClellan, commandant of the Coast Artillery garrison at Camp McKinley, has approached the Territorial Government on the subject. The plan broached is to place heavy guns some distance back from the rim of the extinct crater—far enough back, it is suggested, to avoid damage to buildings in town from concussion when the guns are fired. No doubt the cannon could not be always kept mute in times of peace, as the gunners must have some practice and a range-finding field for the possible enemy be constructed.

The Territorial Government is consulted in the matter by courtesy, as the War Department wishes to ascertain how the citizens of Honolulu would regard the planting of heavy ordnance over their heads.

It is said that the guns would have a range out to sea over the city of 12,000 yards. As the effective range of a modern battleship's guns is 8,000 yards, the theory is that the Punchbowl battery would be able to keep an enemy at a respectful distance. Though under the articles of war the fortifying of the city would invite its bombardment by an enemy, the argument is heard that if not fortified the city would be captured anyway.

On the part of the Government, it is suggested, the acquisition of Punchbowl for fortification purposes by the War Department might be accompanied with a restoration to the Territory of the drilled property as the greatly desired site of the projected new armory of the National Guard of Hawaii.

The Ways of a Politician.

"There is a man in my district," said Representative "Tom" Kyle, the "Sweet Singer of Ohio," according to the New York World, "whose name is Doyle. He is a politician and he has the fatal habit of promising all things to all men. Nobody ever went to him to ask him to get him a job that Doyle did not say, 'Why, yes, I'll get that for you.'

"Nine times out of ten Doyle doesn't make good, but he goes on promising just the same. Some years ago two Irishmen who worked in a boiler factory in my town were busy riveting. One man was inside the boiler holding a hammer against the rivets and the other was outside swinging the sledge and making the rivets fast.

"After half an hour steady pounding the man inside stuck his head outside of the boiler and said: "'Say, Pat, did ye hear that they've been after making' this man Corrigan a cardinal?'"

"'Are ye tellin' me?' asked Pat; 'why, d'ye know, Doyle promised that job to me?'"
