MORE BLOODSHED FEARED

YOUNG HAINES HAUNTING THE FATHER OF THE BOY HE KILLED.

He Seems to Take Delight in Passing Hannegan's House—The Latter Terribly Affected by the Sight of His Son's Slayer—A Scene on Friday Night.

People who reside in the neighborhood of Connecticut avenue and L street are fearful that the end of the Hains-Hannegan tragedy has not yet been reached. For some days the residents of the region mentioned have been in constant fear of witnessing a collision between the father of the young man who was killed at Fort Monroe and young Thornton Hains, who fired the fatal bullet.

The latter lives in the northwestern section, and frequently passes the house in which Mr. Hannegan resides, No. 1140 Connecticut avenue. According to the reports of the neighbors young Hains seems to take pains to pass that way frequently and does not at all avoid being seen by the man whom he has caused such bitter sorrow. It is said that some days ago Hains went by when Mr. Hannegan was sitting in the window. Catching sight of the dejected face of the bereaved father as he passed, Hains paused, turned around and smiled mockingly at Mr. Hannegan. This scene was witnessed by several persons, who characterized the conduct of Hains in scathing terms.

The sight of the man who killed his son has, it is hardly necessary to say, a terrible effect on Mr. Hannegan. He is almost overcome with grief and rage, and those who know him have in consequence been for some time in constant dread that he would resort to desperate measures of revenge against Hains.

On Friday night it looked for a moment as if further blood was about to be shed. Mr. Hannegan and other occupants of the house No. 1140 Connecticut Avenue were sitting on the front steps early in the evening. Young Hains came along up the avenue, passed the house slowly and walked into the drug store next door, on the corner of L street. The sight of him greatly excited Mr. Hannegan and the ladies hastily quitted their seats and entered the house. In a few moments Hains came out of the drug store and calmly stood on the corner. This was too much for Mr. Hannegan, and before any one could interfere he rushed toward Hains in a paroxysm of anger, calling him a cold-blooded murderer. Before Hannegan reached where he stood, Hains moved away and Hannegan did not pursue him. Hains afterward sent to the proprietor of the drug store a rather incoherent note asking if he could not come to the store without danger of being assassinated by Hannegan and saying that he had killed one of them and could not kill another.

It is said that the killing of his son, the events succeeding it, and the frequent sight of Hains has so preyed on Mr. Hannegan's mind that at times he is almost insane. He frequently bursts into tears and rambles about at night, unable to obtain sleep. Altogether, and Hains' conduct in allowing himself to be seen by him is spoken of in the bitterest terms by those familiar with the circumstances.

COMING TO WASHINGTON.

Jews in Turkey Have no Cause for Complaint, Says Minister Hirsch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—United States Minister to Turkey Solomon Hirsch, arrived to-day on the Fuerst-Bismack. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hirsch, his son Sanford, and daughters Clementine, Ella, and Mae. He will remain in the city till Tuesday next, when he goes to Washington, where he will remain till Thursday. He expects to return to Constantinople in about six weeks. In Turkey he said, the Jews were treated as well as the native residents, and had no cause for complaint.

Tennyson's "Costume Play."

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The play upon which Lord Tennyson is at work is partly in blank verse and partly in prose. It is what is known in England as a "costume play," and the scene is laid in England. Tennyson has placed all the stage details in the hands of Mr. Daly with carte blanche to cut and alter wherever the New York manager finds it necessary or advisable to do so. To describe Tennyson's play in brief, it may be said to be a pastoral comedy of the fantastic kind, with a cheerful denouement.

Jay Gould is O. K.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—As if to refute in the most emphatic manner possible the many sensational reports about his health Jay Gould to-day showed himself in two very public places, the races at Morris Park and the allegorical entertainment in aid of the Grant monument fund in the Madison Square Garden. He appeared to be in excellent spirits, chatting with his companions and joining in the applause.

Pilgrimages to Rome Discouraged.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—At a Cabinet meeting held to-day it was decided to send a circular to the prelates throughout France, requesting them not to countenance pilgrimages to Rome, and not to visit that city themselves, in view of the disturbed state of popular feeling there, due to the Pantheon incident.

Hard Money Shipments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Exports of specie from New York last week, $660,690, all silver, and all but $375 went to Europe. Imports of specie, $5,640,084, of which $5,838,364 was gold and $2,350 silver.

A WORLD'S FAIR BANQUET.

Tendered by the District Commissioners to Foreign Commissioners.

A banquet of international importance occurred at the Arlington Hotel last night, when many of Washington's most prominent officials and business men sat down at the table with the foreign Commissioners of the World's Fair now in this country. The affair was an elaborate one in every way. The banquet was tendered by the District of Columbia's World Fair Commissioners and their alternates as a compliment to the foreign commissioners, and to show the enthusiastic interest which the Capital of the Nation has in the success of this enterprise. The District has two commissioners appointed by the President—one from each of the two political parties. They are Mr. A. T. Britton, Republican representative, with E. Kurtz Johnson, alternate, and A. A. Wilson, Democrat, with A. Dorsey Clagett, alternate. The guests of honor were James Dredge and Sir Henry Truman Wood, Royal Commissioners of Great Britain; Herr Wermuth, Imperial Commissioner of Germany, and Emile Meyer, Royal Commissioner of Denmark. The invited guests present were Secretary Foster, Secretary Proctor, Secretary Tracy, Secretary Rusk, Attorney-General Miller, Sewell Brown, Commissioner of Patents Simonds, District Commissioners Douglass, Roberts, and Ross, Professor Gooda, Private Secretary Halford, Myron M. Parker, S. H. Kaufman, Bertha Wilkins, Benjamin Butterworth, W. E. Curtis, A. D. Anderson, Fred. Brockett, Mr. Wiley, a traveling companion of the British commissioners, and Mr. R. S. McCormick, of Chicago. Others who were invited to be present but who for various reasons could not attend were President Harrison, Assistant Secretary of State Wharton, Postmaster-General Wamaker, General Schofield, and Moses P. Handy, Ferd. Peck, Judge Lindsey, of Kentucky, and Governor Bullock, of Massachusetts, the World's Fair directors.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

A Colored Woman Terribly Wounded by a Careless Boy With a Gun.

Ellen Fortune, a colored woman living on the hill just beyond the Aqueduct Bridge, was shot on Friday afternoon by an unknown colored boy. She now lies in Freedman's Hospital in a precarious condition. The woman was picking grapes on her land when the boy passed by, carrying a gun at full cock. He was just in front of her when the gun was discharged.

The boy ran off and has not yet been apprehended. The injured woman says it was an accident, as the gun struck a twig of a tree causing the charge to explode. The full load of buck shot entered her right thigh tearing almost the entire hip away. She remained at her home all Friday night without medical attention and when she was taken to the Emergency Hospital yesterday afternoon she was in a dangerous condition, as gangrene had set in. Her case is almost hopeless.

SIX MEN BURIED ALIVE.

Terrible Accident in a Pennsylvania Mine.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 3.—An explosion of gas occurred in the Richardson colliery of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company at Glencarbon this evening. Seven men are entombed in the gangway of the Crosby vein. The accident occurred just before quitting time, and as Richardson colliery is eight miles from here details are not easily obtained. Winfield Meek was taken out dead. J. F. Brennan, Michael Grant, and Thomas Conville were taken out alive, but terribly burned and crushed. John Lawler, Thomas Clancy, Michael Walsh, John Salmon, Joseph Shield, and John Purcell are still behind the pillar that "run," and not only closed the mine, but brought down and exploded the gas, wrecking the side of the colliery not shut off and imprisoning the six without hope of their escape alive.

May Destroy the Saloons.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 3.—Chief Justice Green decided in a damage suit this morning that when a saloon is run contrary to law any person, either an officer or private citizen, can destroy the business and no damage can be collected by the saloon-keeper.

THE BABY IS A WONDER.

AT BIRTH IT WAS AS BIG AS MOST FOUR-DAY-OLD INFANTS.

That's What Proud Papa Cleveland Says, and He Isn't Inclined to Brag. Either—Mrs. Cleveland Doing Well—Congratulations and Flowers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland became the mother of a strong, healthy girl baby this morning shortly after midnight. Dr. J. D. Bryant was in attendance. Mother and child are doing well.

The important news did not become known down town until nearly noon. Then it spread with the utmost rapidity, both in the city and to other parts of the country.

During the afternoon many flowers were sent to Mrs. Cleveland, and both father and mother received hearty congratulations. Then messenger boys began to move up the avenue with telegraphic messages from all parts of the country.

Ex-President Cleveland was evidently a pleased man when seen about the recent addition to his household. He received the press representative in the drawing-room, and anticipating the question that would be asked him said: "Yes, it is true. My wife was safely delivered of a little girl this morning at six minutes past midnight and both mother and child are doing splendidly. Mrs. Cleveland has rested quietly all day. The child is strong and healthy, and at its birth weighed eight pounds."

The ex-President is quoted as saying: "I don't want to brag any, but this baby now is as stout and as good as most babies are when three or four days old."

ATCHISON, KAN., Oct. 3.—The Democratic convention this afternoon sent the following telegram to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland: "The Democracy of Atchison County, in convention assembled, congratulate you upon the birth of your daughter."

GEN. BOULANGER INTERRED.

The Gendarmes Called Upon to Keep Order at the Funeral.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 3.—The funeral of General Boulanger took place to-day. An immense crowd of people assembled hours before the time fixed for the interment ceremonies, in front and about the late residence of the dead soldier in the Rue Montoyer. A large crowd was expected and the local authorities had taken precautions to provide an imposing police force for this emergency, but as the hour for starting the procession drew near it was seen that the number of policemen present was far from sufficient for the purpose of maintaining order. Reinforcements were sent for, but though the extra force soon arrived, the police, as the coffin was brought out of the hotel proved entirely unequal to keeping the crushing, excited throngs in anything like decent order. Consequently, the sergeants de ville had to call upon the gendarmes, mounted and on foot, to assist them in controlling the mobs. The gendarmes did so, and were compelled to make a number of arrests before order could be restored. The coffin of the unfortunate General was covered with hundreds of floral wreaths, tied with tri-color ribbons, mostly sent from France by his political admirers, and in addition there were a number of tri-color flags festooned about and draped around the casket containing the remains of the once popular idol of a large section of the French people.

AN OLD SOLDIER'S DESPAIR.

Sergeant Boyd Tries to Kill Himself Because He Failed to get a Pension.

Sergeant R. D. Boyd, of the old Tenth Keokuk Regiment of Iowa Volunteers, is a familiar figure around the city. He has been several months trying to get a pension, but has been unsuccessful. About three weeks ago, in a fit of despondency, he took nuxvomica, and the staff of the Emergency Hospital worked all night with stomach pumps before they got him out of danger. Yesterday he had his usual set back at the Pension Office and he made another attempt to kill himself. An officer found him lying on the parking near Seventh street about 11 o'clock last night in a stupor, and hastily putting him in a carriage, carried him to the Emergency Hospital, where Drs. Atkinson and Ellison succeeded in getting the poison out of his stomach. He had taken arsenic and begged the doctors to let him die. He is a graduate of pharmacy.

In Memory of Harvey Watterson.

A number of prominent people met last night in the Ebbitt House to pay respects to the memory of the late Harvey M. Watterson, of Kentucky. Among those present were Justice Lamar, Senator Carlisle, Judge Wright, Representative McCreary, Hon. Philip B. Thompson, Jr., Judge J. J. Noah, and many other representative citizens of the District. Justice Lamar, of the United States Supreme Court, acted as chairman of the meeting, and Logan Carlisle as Secretary. Nearly all of those present made brief addresses highly eulogistic of the character and life of the distinguished Kentuckian. Fitting resolutions were adopted.

Snow in Dakota.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 4.—A strong and steady snow is prevailing here to-night, which promises several inches of snow on the ground in the morning.

Postmasters in Virginia appointed yesterday: J. J. Poff, Chesak, and C. E. Headley, Hamburg.

ARRESTED IN BALTIMORE.

A Confidence Woman Who Worked Washington in the Tails.

Special to THE SUNDAY HERALD.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3.—The police of this city have in custody a woman who gives out that her name is Mrs. Jane E. Dee, and it is believed here that she is the most accomplished female confidence worker in America. Telegrams from all sections of the country have been coming in to the chief of police making inquiries and to-day Mr. J. A. Selby, proprietor of the Selby House, 606 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., came over and recognized her as a woman who lately duped him out of considerable money.

Mr. Selby stated that she boarded at his house and while there received a telegram from New York announcing the death of her sister and that she was to be brought to Washington for burial in Oak Hill. Harvey, the undertaker was engaged to furnish the funeral cortege, and Small & Co., the florists, while Selby cashed two checks signed J. B. Fitzpatrick for quite a sum of money. Another telegram was received the day before the funeral announcing that the sister of the deceased had deumped with all the money and diamonds of the family. The Dee woman deumped leaving unpaid six weeks' board and the money for the checks. She carries a boy about 9 years of age with her, and he has been drilled to perfection and knows exactly what to do to serve the purpose of the woman. Mr. Selby intends bringing her back to Washington to stand trial.

MELBOURNE'S RAIN TESTS.

Temporarily Suspended, But Further Experiments Will Be Made.

GOODLAND, KAN., Oct. 3.—Melbourne has given up his rain experiment at the suggestion of the citizens' committee which had the matter in charge. It is understood that if rain falls before a new test is made, Melbourne is not to have the credit. About 11 o'clock last night Goodland was wet with the fall end of a rainstorm, which deluged the country from Phillipsburg, 140 miles, to Jennings, 300 miles east. Melbourne is not satisfied with his test, and will wait until the winds have fallen, and the clouds, which the committee agree are of his making have cleared away, before making a new test. From the beginning to the end of his experiments the wind has maintained a velocity of from thirty-five to forty miles per hour. Melbourne is satisfied that a rain can be precipitated while the wind maintains such a high velocity. Since the experiments began it has rained all around Goodland, the heaviest fall being north and east, in which directions the wind will naturally have carried it. Whether there is anything in the experiments of Melbourne or not, he has convinced the majority of the people here that he holds the possible solution for drought-breaking, and before he leaves Goodland his methods will be given a thorough test. If the conditions are favorable, the next test will probably begin next Monday.

KEPT AT A DISTANCE.

How Journalists in Berlin Saw the Czar at Luncheon, Etc.

Copyrighted by Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—Regarding the Czar's presence in Berlin, the journalists who are obliged to record the event have no agreeable anticipations of their duties. The precautions which have been taken to prevent any officials approaching the Czar are so strict that even the authorized representatives of the press will be kept at a distance. The journalists who were allowed access to the railroad station last week when the Czar was hurrying through Berlin on his way to Moscow were locked up in a waiting room and only got a glimpse of his Majesty through a window as he alighted from the train and was greeted by Prince Leopold, who was doing the honors in the absence of the Emperor. They had to wait patiently for an hour while the Czar devoured sandwiches and drank cup after cup of tea, after which they saw him depart. His capacity for eating appears to be accompanied by a capacity for drinking, each cup of tea being plentifully laced with rum instead of milk.

Why Lydia Miller Suicided.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—At the inquest to-day on the body of Lydia Miller, formerly a chorus girl employed at the Gait Theatre, and who recently committed suicide, Lord Charles Montague testified to the fact that he was very intimate with the deceased and that he had promised to meet her at lunch upon the day of her death. He was late in keeping the appointment, and the girl was very much annoyed. But, he added, he had no idea that Miss Miller would commit suicide on this account.

It was subsequently shown that later in the day Lydia Miller drank half a pint of carbolic acid, and died in intense agony.

O'Flanagan, the Irish champion, arrived on the City of Berlin, from Liverpool, to-day to take part in the six-day international race, which takes place in Madison Square Garden October 18 to 24.

HALF A MILLION GONE.

STARTLING PROPORTIONS OF THE KINGSTON DEFAUCATION.

The Ulster County Bank Robbers Worked on a System and Successfully Deceived Inspectors, Directors, and Depositors.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The whole community is excited over the disclosures of the systematic rascality successfully practiced during many years, which has resulted in the closing of the doors of the Ulster County Savings Institution. The enormous sum of $400,000 is known to have been stolen by the Treasurer Ostrander and Mathew T. Trumbour, assistant treasurer, and it is feared that the stealings will reach over that amount. Both men are in jail. The trustees of the bank have made a statement to the public, showing how completely they were cheated by the deliberate, well-planned, systematic frauds of the officers. Albert C. Judson of the banking department made the following statement:

"The examination into the condition and affairs of the bank has been going on since Monday of this week and is being made by myself, assisted by Mark S. Eustace. The examination is yet incomplete. It has already developed the fact that about $400,000 of the funds of the bank have been abstracted. The stealing has been going on for over twenty years, and during all that time Assistant Treasurer W. T. Trumbour has had charge of the cash, it being his duty to receive the deposits and pay the checks of depositors. It has been his duty to take the trial balance of the depositors' ledgers twice a year, and he has also, when he felt so disposed, done some of the postings to the depositors' accounts. He has thus taken upon himself to do that portion of the work of the bank, which afforded an opportunity to falsify its accounts without detection, and he has done it in this way: It is the rule of the bank in receiving deposits to make a ticket memorandum containing the name of the depositor, the number of the book, and the amount of the deposit. From this memorandum the entry is made on the daily cash book by the bookkeeper. If a sum of money is abstracted, Mr. Trumbour retains in his possession depositors' tickets representing the amount taken and then posts the amount to the depositor's credit in the ledger, without a like entry in the cash book. This wrong-doing could not be discovered except by a very thorough and exhaustive examination, covering many days, which the trustees, not being experts, are not competent to make. The methods adopted by the assistant treasurer to defraud the bank were thoroughly ingenious and have never before been encountered by the bank examiners of this State to my knowledge."

Trumbour's family connections are of the best. He was highly popular socially and as a banking man. There never has been the slightest suspicion until the present disclosure against his integrity. Trumbour's wife died about two years ago. Recently he married, and had just returned from his wedding tour when the disclosure regarding Ostrander was made known, and the arrest of Trumbour followed soon after. The blow to his young wife upon her hearing the charge against her husband was a terrible one. The prisoners were arraigned before Recorder Hussey this afternoon. They asked for an examination, which was set down for Monday.

THE PRESIDENT WAS HIS GUEST.

But Mr. Dill Now Occupies a Common Prison Cell.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Oct. 4.—To-night William H. Dill will sleep his first night in a prison cell. Last night Mr. Dill spent his first night in jail, but he was kindly given the parlor where in company with his wife and a few intimate friends he put in the night. His wife stands by him bravely and when he was assigned to his cell to-night she shared it with him. There have been no new features discovered concerning the false entries on the books of the bank here. Mr. Dill feels his position keenly. There is quite a contrast in the position of the man to-night from that he occupied when the President of the United States, Benjamin Harrison, was his guest here last fall.
