

SUPPLEMENT TO THE DAILY BULLETIN.

HONOLULU, H. I., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1884.

MONEY ORDER BUSINESS, U. S. A.

The total number of money-order offices on June 30th, was 5,927. The number of money-orders issued during the year was 8,807,556, of the value of $117,329,406. The number of orders paid was 8,602,625, and the value of those paid and repaid was $117,344,281. The total amount of fees received was $1,101,821. The ratio of improper payments to the total number of orders paid was as 1 is to 273, 471.

The gross domestic revenue of the bureau was $911,704, the foreign revenue was $99,915, on a total of $1,011,619. The net revenue, after deducting expenses paid from appropriations, was $159,104.

The total number of international money-orders issued was 446,326, of an aggregate value of $7,717,832.—The total number of money-orders of all kinds issued was 9,273,882, of an aggregate value of $125,047,238; the total amount of fees received was $1,272,060.

Postal notes have been extensively employed by the public since they were introduced, and comprised from twenty-five to thirty of the transactions.

The United States exchanges money-orders with the following countries: Canada, Great Britain, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, France, Jamaica, New Zealand, New South Wales, Victoria, Tasmania, British India and Portugal (including the Azores and Madeira Islands.)—Oyle County Reporter.

A HINT FOR THE CLERGY.

This is a very useful hint for our present orators of all description. It is related that a Yankee chemist named Mitchell recently stepped into a Boston sale-room and purchased a box as to the contents of which he was totally ignorant. When he burst up the lid he found he had suddenly become the possessor of 2000 manuscript sermons that had formerly been the property of a clergyman. It need scarcely be said that he then cursed the parson in his own sinful style back as far as the 57th generation; for he fondly hoped he had scooped a box of stolen jewellery. Our orators needn't copy any of that part of the affair, of course; but here's where the hint fits in. The clergyman had written along the margin of his pages such suggestions to himself as the following—"Deliver this passage in solemn tones;" "Scornful smile after the word 'never,'" "Pause long enough to count twenty-five after this passage;" "Close Bible with violent slam after this point;" "Sarcastic wave of hand;" "Rapid gesture," &c. I have heard it said that the clergyman was Cook; but that can't be correct, for Joseph couldn't raise a "scornful smile" any more than the ceiling could. But the idea is good for all that.—Federal Australian.

THE LAST FLAG.

"Talk about my war record" said an Arkansas orator at a political meeting: "my war record is a part of the State's history. Why, gentlemen, I carried the last Confederate flag through town."

"Yes," replied a bystander, "for I was here at the time."
"Thank you for your fortunate recollection," gratefully exclaimed the orator. "It is pleasant to know that there still live some men who move aside envy and testify to the courage of their fellow-beings. As I say, gentlemen, my war record is a part of the State's history, for the gentleman here will tell you that I carried the last Confederate flag through this town."

"That's a fact," said the man who had witnessed the performance. "He carried the last Confederate flag through this town, and he carried it so blamed fast you couldn't have told whether it was a Union Jack or a small-pox warning."—Arkansas Traveller.

Imitation being popularly considered the sincerest form of flattery the manes of the ill-fated Captain Webb should be appeased by the action of the late Mr. Murphy, butcher, of Preston, who made a bet that he would swim across the River Ribble at its most dangerous point. On entering the water, in the presence of several people, he exclaimed, "I'm acting Captain Webb." The body, says the historian, somewhat abruptly, was afterwards recovered with grapnels.—Life.
