PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

WORD PUZZLE, NO. XV.

Sleek folks often come to me
And pour out all their trouble;
I'm found by farmers as a guard
To fields of grain and stubble.

I'm seen on many a sleeper's face,
On fences and on posts;
And timid people oft aver
On me they have seen ghosts.

On every railroad I am found
And on a warship's deck;
I'm often as a lever used
But most times as a check.

I'm found on steam and sailing crafts
That flow the briny wave,
And every year that I exist
Full many a life I save.

Of many houses I am part—
Within, without, around them—
I am what men oft do with foes
Before they try to pound them.

I'm found at famed Niagara Falls,
Where people to me cling,
And lovers, on their tryin' nights,
Oft come to me and sing.

I am a wild bird highly prized
In lands across the sea,
And as an article of food
No man will turn from me.

Pronounce me backward, and you name
A man to be despised;
But if I picture him too plain,
He will be recognized.

He is what every coward is,
Unfit to herd with men;
And now, amanuensis friend
For this week drop the pen.

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

The pigeons have adopted the summer coo.

S. S. GEO. W. Elder leaves San Francisco for this port to-day.

The carts are lagging too far behind the scrapers in the street-cleaning.

Y. M. C. A. gospel temperance meeting in the Bethel Union vestry at 7:30 this evening.

STEAMER KIDAU will arrive to-morrow, and on Monday will go upon the Marine Railway to be cleaned.

THE Hon. Postmaster-General has our thanks for a copy of the Post-office Time Table, revised for the month of March.

THE Japanese Consul's carriage met with a disastrous smash-up this morning. It is in Page's yard and looks as though it was struck by a locomotive going at full speed.

THE candle race at the Yosemite rink last evening was won by one of the Beaver Saloon waiters, who shielded the lighted candle with his coat and sped around like the Flying Dutchman.

MR. A. B. Kerr, painter, has hoisted an artistic sign over his paint shop, Queen street. On one side of the signboard the steamship Alameda passing the bell buoy is painted and on the other a large stag.

THE skull with tusks of a Hawaiian wild boar, killed on Hon. Sam. Parker's ranch, Hawaii, is exhibited in Oats' window, giving occasion for learned demonstrations by amateur native naturalists.

AT 10 o'clock on Monday L. J. Levey will offer the lease, stock and fixtures of the "Old Corner" restaurant at auction. This is a good chance for anybody desirous of going into the restaurant business.

OUR reporter found everything, at midday, in the Police Court, as peaceful, mild, serene and still as "the mist slumbering on yon hill." It was pay day and the buttons shone brighter than usual in the glint of the siller.

STRONG E. N. E. winds and rough seas raged at Koolau all the week until 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when the wind shifted to the S. E. The schooner Manukawai could not receive freight at Punaluu on account of the weather.

KIPA, one of Mr. Mellis's newsboys, has made an ambitious effort at a portrait of Gen. Grant in water colors. He says it only took him half an hour. If he keeps at the brush, and have proper tuition, he may distinguish himself.

A RESIDENT speaks of starting a collection to purchase the crown jewels of France for this kingdom. He thinks the only jewel here is the calabash, but there are more things in this realm than the generality of residents are aware of.

A PORTUGUESE laborer employed by Mr. John Bowler, plasterer, at the new Police Station, had coin and paper to the value of $24.50 abstracted from the pocket of a pair of trousers, laid aside while he was working, in that building this forenoon.

MR. Wiseman reports that many business men seen by him are very willing to assist in bringing Signor Campobello here with a good opera company, and there seems to be no doubt that the requisite amount can be subscribed so as to permit of the Signor coming in April.

ONE of the most important sales of real estate ever held in this kingdom will be that of the famous Rose Ranch property, Maui, particularized in an advertisement in this paper, by E. P. Adams & Co. on Monday first at noon. The event is likely to bring together an imposing concourse of capitalists, with the planting and stock-raising fraternity.

CAPTAIN McGregor, of the steamer Mokoli, reports a terrific wind storm on Kahoolawe last Thursday morning. Vast clouds of soil were blown from the land, completely enveloping the Mokoli and compelling her to retreat. It appears that a tornado had taken possession of the island and played the very mischief for about an hour. The captain says the weather was very good last night.

KATE Foote, Washington correspondent of the New York "Independent," describing an "evening" given by Mr. Chief Justice Waite, among other guests mentions "Mr. Carter, the minister from the Sandwich Islands, who looks much more English than the British Minister." Among the ladies receiving at a "Kaffee Klatsche," given by the Homeopathic Hospital to celebrate its opening, the same writer names Mrs. Mott Smith.

THE inventor of the puzzle "Tower of Hanoi" offers $100 to any person who correctly performs the trick in 59 seconds. There are 255 movements in all when the thing is properly done. The smallest disk, termed "the joker," moves 128 times, the next in size 64 times, and so on, each piece being moved half as many times as the one above it. Shifting four pieces to a second would not cover the time, and the money offered is pretty safe. The best time made in Honolulu is two minutes and a half, and then the board had to be strapped to a truck and both hands kept in constant motion.

INTERMEDIARY COURT.

SATURDAY, Feb. 27th.
Before Judge Preston. Lan Ping Chew appealed from the Police Court, against a sentence of 15 days' imprisonment for assault and battery. Judgment below confirmed with costs.
