KAUAIANA.

Whooping Up the Merry-Making Business—A Seamy Side to the Festivities.

The Christmas festivities at Kealia passed off with unusual gaiety this year. Col. Z. S. Spalding gave a stocking party Christmas Eve at Pythian hall. There were stockings loaded with presents and good things for each of the skilled laborers in the employ of the Makee Sugar Company with presents for the wives and families too.

At 7:30 these people, with the invited guests, met at the hall, when a choice program was rendered embracing twelve numbers and beginning with a well executed overture by the Misses Kamakee and Maria Cummins. Mr. Geo. H. Fairchild introduced Santa Claus in disguise, Mr. F. B. Smith, in an exceedingly unique masquerade costume, who entertained the large company present with side-splitting comedies.

Comic song and dance—A Dandy Dude—Mr. F. B. Smith.

Instrumental selections on the piano by Miss K. Cummins.

Solo—When the Robins Nest Again, by Mr. Hogg of Lihue, who has a very sweet baritone voice and did himself great credit on this occasion, responding to several encores.

Lilinokalani March—guitar, violin and banjo—by Mr. Fairchild and Messrs. John and Tom Neal.

Piano duet by the Misses Cummins.

Irish jig, dance, by Mr. H. Z. Austin.

Negro minstrels by Messrs. Fairchild, Smith, Jno. and Thos. Neal and Austin.

Duet—guitar and harmonica—Messrs. Fairchild and Hogg.

Comic song—Mr. Reilly—by F. B. Smith.

Piano duet by the Misses Cummins.

Then came the event of the evening in the distribution of presents by Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Smith in masquerade acting as interlocutor. After this most delicious refreshments were served and then dancing was indulged in until the wee sma' hours. Many of the presents were exceedingly rich and beautiful, but owing to the great number lack of space prevents a detailed account of them.

Col. Spalding graced the occasion with his presence until 12 midnight, when he retired amid three well-voiced cheers and a rousing tiger.

The following day—Christmas—a most elaborate turkey and pig dinner was given by the Colonel at the plantation boarding house, which was most enjoyable, there being great abundance of good things for all.

The festivities will continue during the week, ending Saturday evening, the 31st, with a grand waltz night party at the home of the charming Mrs. Rufus Spalding.

Mrs. C. B. Makee gave a champagne dinner at her pretty home—Lily Heights—on Knob Hill, last Monday evening, which was very elegant. The floral decorations were exquisitely beautiful and the dinner a charming success. Her brother-in-law, Col. Z. S. Spalding, had the seat of honor. There were covers laid for twenty.

The many friends and acquaintances of Miss Katherine Ritchie will be grieved to learn that she is hovering between life and death at Wailuku, Maui, with the chances strongly in favor of death. She intended to spend the holidays with her friend, Mrs. Harry Z. Austin, of Kapaa, Kauai, but a few days before her intended departure from Maui she was taken ill and grew worse so rapidly that Saturday last she was pronounced by her attending physician, Doctor Geo. Herbert of Wailuku, as in a very precarious condition with little or no hope for her recovery. Mrs. Austin as her nearest and dearest friend was sent for and is with her now endeavoring to gain the victory over the angel death. God grant she may win.

Col. Z. S. Spalding and the Misses Kamakee and Maria Cummins left last evening by the steamer James Makee for Honolulu. The Colonel goes thence by the S. S. Australia to America on his way to Paris.

Mrs. C. B. Makee will leave next week for a protracted visit in Honolulu.

The young gentlemen of Kealia and vicinity are in sackcloth and ashes in consequence of this sudden exodus of these charming lady friends. It is pleasant to be so generally missed and we trust they will favor us with a speedy return.

Mr. Voss, a recent acquisition from California, where he has been connected with educational matters for the past twenty years, came up by the Makee to fill the position in the Government school at Hanalei recently vacated by Mr. Mueller.

The mill at Kealia is running smoothly and has an output of 12,000 bags sugar, thus keeping the little steamer busy transporting it to Honolulu. Mr. Essie, the genial chief engineer, informs me he will make a brief shut down this evening to enable him to make necessary alterations of a minor nature that cannot be done while running.

The weather has been very cold and stormy with considerable and continuous rain. It is bright, however, to-day, but the wind is still southerly.

There is considerable sickness, and we regret that among the number who have been confined to their homes during this merry season is Mrs. Rufus Spalding of Kealia. We have just received word from Maui that Miss Ritchie has passed the crisis in her fever and that though she is very much exhausted there are now some hopes of her ultimate recovery. Kealia, Dec. 31, 1892.

The following choice bit of word painting occurs in Hawthorne's Marble Faun:
"Women be they of what earthly rank they may, however gifted with intellect or genius, or endowed with awful beauty, have always some little handiwork ready to fill the tiny gap of every vacant moment. A needle is familiar to the fingers of them all. A queen, no doubt, plies it on occasion; the woman poet can use it as adroitly as her pen; the woman's eye, that has discovered a new star, turns from its glory to send the polished little instrument gleaming along the hem of her kerchief, or to darn a casual fray in her dress. And they have greatly the advantage of us in this respect. The slender thread of silk or cotton keeps them united with the small, familiar, gentle interests of life, the continually operating influences of which do so much for the health of the character, and carry off what would otherwise be a dangerous accumulation of morbid sensibility. A vast deal of human sympathy runs along this electric line, stretching from the throne to the wicker chair of the humblest seamstress, and keeping high and low in a species of communion with their kindred beings."
Housewives, while you ply the needle, have you ever reflected on the vicissitudes of life? See to it that your husbands provide for the future welfare of their families by at once applying for a Policy in the EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY of the United States. No more suitable gift could be offered to you.
